BLUE REVOLUTION 1973 STATESMAN

Thomas Jefferson
Senior High School
Cedar Rapids, Iowa

Volume 16

This is the story of a school high on a hill. Some people call it Jefferson, but most everybody knows that it's the home of the J-Hawks. It's changed a lot since it opened and that's why we gave this year a special name, "The Blue Revolution." New ideas and events made this year different from all the rest. Rules and schedules, new faces, and first time achievements are just a few of the things that Jefferson experienced this year. What more can you say about a school that's number one?

These are some of the faces at Jefferson. Some are happy and some are bored and some are frustrated. Our school has all different kinds of students and teachers and sometimes they don't communicate too well. We try to keep everybody happy but that's practically impossible. Our "Blue Revolution" brought back many examples of school spirit from a long hibernation. Students attended more sporting events and joined more clubs and went out for more activities than they had ever dreamed of before. People helped people and kept each other out of trouble. Maybe our school will have lots of happy faces in attendance again after all.

One of the changes witnessed in our "Blue Revolution" was a trimester system of registration. The entire student body eagerly rushed into the gymnasium to register for their favorite class and ended up with something that they had never heard of before. Many changes were made to place everyone into the classes they wanted, but the students with the sad faces were the ones who didn't succeed. They ended up with a second choice or maybe even a study hall. All sorts of people tried to help get students to the right place, but unfortunately lots of kids got there just a little too late. When registration day was over, a sigh of relief emerged.

Here are a few of the activities we have at Jefferson. Plays and concerts keep our music department constantly running for an instrument or a costume or prop in those three music rooms. Our classes even did special projects like making special books for first grade children and going on field trips. We really enjoyed doing things like that! Effects of our "Blue Revolution" showed through when the senior class held its prom in the gym and held a Sadie Hawkins dance to raise money for it. A surprise came when pep assemblies became more exciting and were attended by more of our student body. Our school is changing a lot and it might end up with a content student body in the very near future.

Sports at Jefferson are always exciting. If you like to scream and holler, just attend a football game or a wrestling meet. That will keep your attention for a complete evening of thrills and anticipation. When the crowd supported the J-Hawks they accomplished miracles. Our "Blue Revolution" worked wonders when the football squad won the first state playoffs and the wrestlers also captured a coveted state crown. Girls finally appeared on the court when they were allowed to participate in basketball for the first time this year. Sporting events hold everybody together to keep our school going. They are a vital part of our "Blue Revolution."

autumn

"a wind has blown the rain away and blown the sky away and all the leaves away, and the trees stand. I think i too have known autumn too long

(and what have you to say, wind wind wind — did you love somebody and have you the petal of somewhere in your heart pinched from dumb summer?

O crazy daddy
of death dance cruelly for us and start the last leaf whirling in the final brain of air!) Let us as we have seen see doom's integration a wind has blown the rain away and the leaves and the sky and the trees stand:

the trees stand. The trees, suddenly wait against the moon's face."

VARSITY

Members of the varsity squad enthusiastically backed the state's first 4a football champions throughout the season.

"This is what our players wear to cover up what isn't there," exclaims Carrie Fulton and Rene Young during a football skit.

Neither storm nor wind nor freezing temperatures could keep Candi Koutny from cheering her team to victory.

Varsity squad members find it difficult to keep a straight face during one of those trying moments.

Bouncy, busy, wild, and free that's the cheerleaders of '72-'73. Starting out with fun times and hard work at summer camp, the girls came home with several first place ribbons, a spirit stick, and united happily as a squad should be to get off to a good start. Busy as a bee, they worked hard throughout the year to make money for their treasury, which included everything from pop bottle drives to selling frog bulletin boards to finance the state wrestling trip. United by great memories and moments of glee, the girls will long remember the year '72-'73.

Having fun after school, seniors Joan Bowen and Julie Marsh hang signs for the Jeff-Wash game.

"Let's go big blue" shouts Vicki Anderson, pep club president, during the closing seconds of the Kennedy game.

Members crowd around for chili and kool-aid at a dinner preceding the Kennedy football game.

'If I were not a J-Hawk . . . nothin' else I'd rather be!!" The 1972-73 pep club bounced off to an enthusiastic start, guided by president Vicki Anderson, with a pizza party in the fall to get to know their new adviser, Mrs. Judy Campbell. Activities continued as school began with skits, signs, parties, and a new special initiation. Girls in curlers and pajamas entered Jefferson at 6:30 a.m. on the day of the Jeff-Wash football game for an early morning breakfast and pep rally. Busses with cheering girls led the way to support the 1972 J-Hawk state football champs at the first 4A play-off game in Iowa City.

Pep Club members packed the gym to welcome home the first state 4A football champions.

"And the band played on" as Bob Manson plays trombone and Dave Thompson tuba at before school pep assemblies.

With the flag held high, rifle squad girls salute during the "Star Spangled Banner."

The "Blue Revolution" invaded the band this year as a girl became drum majorette for the first time ever.

Enthusiastic tuba players display their spirit by spelling out "JEFF" at the Clinton game.

Jefferson has a number one marching band. This fact was proved when the marching J-Hawks received a Division I rating in state marching competition at Independence. The group was the first Cedar Rapids high school to participate in such an event. Solo baton twirler Patti Groat and the color guard, commanded by Diane Wilson, also received Division I ratings. Seven straight half time and pre-game performances were scheduled, consisting of cogs, exploding circles, revolving diamonds and pin wheels, keeping constant movement on the field. Drum majorette Debbie Lamb led the band through its ever popular theme, the "Bud Song," much to the delight of audiences. Individual honors were bestowed upon band members Ninette June, Karen McMains, and Diane Wilson when they were chosen for the All-State Band. Jeff Weber was also selected to play in the All-State Orchestra.

Greg Koss takes a break from marching to watch the football team capture another victory.

Drum majorette Debbie Lamb awaits the end of the first half to lead the band onto the field.

1ST STATE

Fullback Ben Dixon struggles through the Cedar Falls defense to gain extra yardage needed for a first down.

Overflowing with jubilation, the J-Hawks hold high their trophy proclaiming them the first 4A state champions!

Charging through the Dowling defense, Marty Hale picks up vital yardage.

'Ah that defense' was the phrase most frequently heard as fans filed out of Nile Kinnick Stadium in Iowa City after the J-Hawks gained the distinction of becoming the first team in state history to secure the prep 4A championship. The J-Hawks had just the proper blend of offense and defense to win the coveted crown. That defense held Cedar Falls, in the first round of action, "to nothing, absolutely nothing." And it was on the Tartan turf in Iowa City where that same defense got even stingier in the season's finale with Des Moines Dowling. Although Jefferson's awesome defense stole the headlines most of the season, it was the offense which accounted for the vast majority of the points.

CHAMPS

The tough J-Hawk offense guards quarterback Craig Wilford as he releases a pass downfield.

With a quick maneuver Thad Miller breaks loose from a tough Dowling pursuer.

During the closing minutes of the 4A championship game, Dale Blaha and Pat Casey strike from different angles to block a Dowling pass.

During a time out, Coach Jack Fisk takes Howard Johnson aside to discuss defensive strategy.

Sometimes one special event overshadows many important goals set before regular season play begins. Such was the case of this year's exceptional varsity football squad. Landslide city victories, Mississippi Valley Conference champs, an undefeated season, and statewide recognition were just a few of the accomplishments that would have made any other team's season a success. Doing it in a convincing style, the team literally steamrolled over all its opponents. And when the season had ended that magic number had reached eleven. With the two weapons the J-Hawks possessed, it's no wonder they were acclaimed number one on both AP and UPI polls. The season was highlighted by an explosive offense that averaged a respectable 27.3 points per game and their rock-em sock-em counterparts that held every team they faced in the state to an average 3.2 points per game. The defense also gained the distinction of becoming the stingiest team in Jefferson's history.

VARSITY FOOTBALL Front row: H. Igram, J. Fennern, B. Barber, H. Johnson, J. Christensen, S. Sampson, P. Casey, K. Kubik, T. Burke, M. Lahman, R. Fredericks, D. Blaha, D. Marshal, T. Polehna, G. Lentz, D. Kilnsky, K. Kirkpatrick, managers, D. Landuyt.

Kevin Jelinek bats down a pass intended for a Clinton receiver.

Defensive tackle Scott Smith forces an Iowa City quarterback out of the pocket.

With determined effort, Tom Polehna strains to reach the ball for the opening kickoff.

Evading the Iowa City defense, halfback Jim Dulin picks up needed yardage.

Huddled under the lights of Kingston Stadium, the sophomore J-Hawks plan their next play.

Forging their way through a heap of excellent team opponents, this year's sophomore squad ended its season with an outstanding record of 7 wins and 2 losses. Led by the hurling of quarterback Fred Stoeker, and the quick speed of backs Bruce Feuerhelm and Randy Jacobson, the sophomore J-Hawks attained a 7-2 record for the fourth straight year. After victories over Davenport West, Dubuque Hempstead, and Clinton, the squad fell to a powerful Bettendorf and Iowa City team in games of 14-0 and 7-6 respectively. But the soph machine pulled back into line with smashings over cross town rivals Kennedy and Washington, ending this season's drive in a 47-8 bulldozing of Muscatine. "Superstars?" reflected backfield coach Bob Allen. "No, we didn't have the superstars of past years, but we had the BEST all-around team in J-Hawk history!"

Head Coach Gary White and Fred Stoeker discuss offensive strategy while the defense performs.

Worn-out from tough defensive play, end Rob Knake joins his counterpart Al Selinger on the sideline.

Quarterback Fred Stoeker prepares to hand off to fullback Randy Feuerhelm for a hopeful first down.

Contributing to the revolution,

Student Council kicked off the year with the first girl president in the history of Jefferson. Council seemed to work a lot better during the year since it met as a decimal class and counted as credit hours. With Mr. Ellertson at the helm, it took Council a while to get organized. Between the shouts of Su Jeanne and the seemingly endless talking, the kids finally decided to settle down and get some things accomplished. A fuss was raised by Su Jeanne as she was voted out of the right to crown the Homecoming queen by the Council. It was even released to the papers, before a compromise was made that John Ryan, vice president, and Su Jeanne would both be allowed the honor.

To settle a heated dispute, both John Ryan and SuJeanne Foster crowned an ecstatic Bev Stary during half time ceremonies.

Performing at Chautauqua Day, West Side members Debbie Boyd and Terry Smejkal pose at the end of a song.

Vice-president John Ryan presents to Mr. Peterson the conference and state football trophies as players look on.

Finalist René Young and her escort Marty Mineck await the announcement of this year's queen.

A radiant Sue Baker is caught by the camera's eye as she leaves the field following half time ceremonies.

Unexpected tears of joy streak Bev Stary's face as she begins her reign as the 1972 Homecoming queen.

Excitement continues after the half time festivities as the royalty joins the crowd in watching the 28-0 victory over Iowa City.

Tension and excitement reigned throughout Jefferson during the weeks before the annual Homecoming game and dance. Football players began firing up to beat Iowa City's Little Hawks, the band practiced a castle formation in which to greet the new queen, while the student body awaited the announcement of the nine finalists. The decorations were the most extensive ever put up for Homecoming. Black paper with stars cut out covered windows, giving the dining room an outside effect. Imagine being crowned queen when only three years earlier your sister won the title. Such was the case for Bev Stary when she was crowned Homecoming queen. For the first time in Jefferson's history, twins Kathy and Laurie Nelson became two of the nine finalists. The tradition of playing the game on the night prior to the dance was changed this year. This resulted in a three day celebration starting with the victory over the Little Hawks Thursday and ending with a dance Saturday.

The queen and her court form a V to celebrate the victory over Iowa City. They are: Jo Kelley, Sue Baker, Yvonne Johnson, Kathy Nelson, Queen Bev Stary, Laurie Nelson, Petty Sullivan, Diane Trachte, and René Young.

Relaxing after dancing to the music of "Company" are alumnus Mike Gallagher, Debbie Pile, Rona Rodemeyer, and Tom Cornally.

The strain and tension over, Mark Mueller and Gary Kurka relax and relive the high points of a race.

Running four to ten miles each night in practice aided Coach John Ask's cross country squad in capturing a ninth place finish at the state meet. Coach Ask's much improved team was lead by junior Mark Mueller, who finished ninth in the state meet, and co-captains Craig Aldrich and Rod Adair. In city competition the harriers finished second behind Kennedy. Lightning, hail, and wind storms didn't stop this year's six female harriers. Coach Larry Nolting described his team as having more depth than in past seasons. He was also pleased with their improvement from the beginning of the season. Standouts included letterman Barb Lodge, who finished first in the city and thirty-first in the state meet, Mary Peterson, and Debbie Strehle.

Gary Kurka gazes into the distance as he limbers up, contemplating the race to come.

After the firing of the gun signaling the race's start, each runner strains to gain a quick lead.

With determination etched on her face, Barb Lodge sprints through the maple trees on the course at Ellis.

Rhonda Wilson, Cindy Walton, Coach Larry Nolting, Sandy Elmer, Barb Lodge.

Coach Larry Nolting smiles as a harrier recalls the last race.

It takes a lot of hair to go through a season with only one win in dual meet competition and wind up seventh in the state. "A lot of hair" was a slogan often heard during the season by swimmers who excelled in a meet or practice. These swimmers were awarded "hair" from a black magic marker. The girls earned their seventh place finish this season by capturing two state titles. The firsts came when Jo Kelley topped the 50 yard freestyle and the medley relay team finished with the second fastest time ever recorded in the state.

Jo Kelley helps Barb Kuenzi to limber up before the 100 yard backstroke at the state meet.

Sue Thomas sits on the block as she waits for the 200 yard free to begin.

Senior Cindy Brown dejectedly leaves the water after coming in second in the 100 yard butterfly.

Sophomore Theresa Bascom nervously awaits the firing of the starter's gun in the 50 yard free event.

Coach Taylor congratulates Jo Kelley upon lowering the state record in the 50 free event.

Gymnastics '72 was not a brilliant year, but neither was it one of despair. Ending the season with a 10-2 record and a miniscule slip into third place at state, the J-Hawk gymnasts were a formidable opponent. With only three seniors, one of whom was out for the first year, the team had to rely heavily upon underclassmen Scott Fleming, Marty Meyer, Vance Richmond, and Ron Hoffman. The state meet brought fame and infamy to the two seniors. Dressed and ready to compete in the rings finals, Doug Stepanek was pulled aside and told a mistake was made—he had not accumulated enough points to qualify any further. But Mike Doty had no such disappointments. He ran up a first on the side horse, a third on high bar and vaulting, a fourth on parallel bars, a fifth on rings, an impressive second in all around competition. With only four other winners, this brought the team to a tight third place finish.

State champion Mike Doty demonstrates his outstanding ability on the side horse.

Determination and effort aid Brad Driscoll in molding his performance on the parallel bars.

Grimacing in concentration, Marty Meyer displays perfect form.

GYMNASTICS Front row: Doug Berggren, Marty Meyer, Ron Hoffman, Bernie Kofron, Doug Thompson, Bill Stumph, Greg Fontana, Brad Driscoll, John Mueller.

Scott Fleming chalks his hands preceding his high bar routine.

After a close meet, J-Hawk gymnasts reluctantly exchange handshakes with Washington.

"Wintergreen for President", sings the chorus as they enter through the little theatre doors, waving signs and kicked off the campaign of '72. Two unknowns, John Wintergreen (Mike Pfeffer) and Alexander Throttlebottom (Mark Williams), are nominated for high office. The Committee holds a beauty contest to find Miss White House who will marry the President. A southern belle, Diana Devereaux (Sherrie Hildebrand) is crowned but only minutes before John had met Mary Turner (Mary Kay Novak), a secretary at the White House, and fell in love with her. Much confusion follows. Adding to the climactic ending, John and Mary surprise the nation with the birth of twins.

Throttlebottom misses the view taken in by the other six stately gentlemen.

Re-enacting a scene at the secretary pool was one of the many roles portrayed by the dancers.

Jenkins (Kirk Tibbitts) and Benson (Patti Biederman) strike a cute pose at the end of a campaign dance.

To the excitement of all the guests, Mary makes a surprise appearance carrying their boy and girl twins.

Diana found a friend in the French Ambassador (Jim Hiding) who helped her to get revenge on Wintergreen.

"Oh, I couldn't do that," exclaims John as he politely refuses to take Mary's lunch.

"I now pronounce you President of the United States, man and wife," proclaims the judge as John and Mary are joined in matrimony.

With pennies flying, the class of '58 gets together one last time to sing the school loyalty song.

"Why is everybody always pickin' on me," exclaims Gary Kupfer as he's thrown off the stage.

Screams of joy, fainting girls, and seemingly disinterested boys greet Elvis (Mike Pfeffer) as he makes the scene.

Flash (Kirk Tibbitts) and Suzie (Patti Biederman) swing out to "Rock Around the Clock Tonight."

The guys listen eagerly as the gals reveal what it's like to be "Seventeen."

Tackling three productions within a one month period kept Thespian Troupe 561 quite busy this theatre season. "The Fabulous Fifties" was the theme for this year's Chili Dinner Theatre to help raise money for the Minneapolis trip to see a "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Guthrie Theatre. After slaving in the scene shop and sweating it out on stage, several worthy students earned the necessary ten points to become Thespians. After being chained together, forced to scrub the shop floor with toothbrushes, and suffering through a breakfast at 4 a.m. of green cream of wheat, the inductees were ready to go out and promote the dramatic arts. The Troupe also sponsored the Regional International Thespian Conference this spring.

Displaying teacher spirit during an assembly, the Vagabonds showed the student body that the football team really was number one.

Parking stickers, fines, and the trimester scheduling system were changes introduced to students this fall. The new method of scheduling classes meant frustration for sophomores, who were faced with the left-overs, but gave counselors more time to handle student needs, such as organizing career seminars with college and job representatives. The student-adviser system, initiated last year, was dropped. Administrators showed their spirit when they joined teachers in singing with the Mississippi Vagabonds at the pep assembly before the state 4A playoffs.

Endeavoring to adapt itself to the individual, the Language Arts department offered Personalized Writing to upperclassmen this year. Its loose structure gave students the long awaited opportunity to develop their writing skills in areas entirely of their own choosing. Popular Literature and Directed Individualized Reading were among the more popular courses because of their relaxed format and contact with contemporary issues. Miss Brink's ASP students once again created children's books for first grade students at Hayes and Lincoln elementary schools. The sophomore Language Arts course became more contemporary by dividing it into three parts — Man vs. Man, Man vs. Nature, and Man vs. Society.

Halloween goblins and Christmas baubles adorned the bookstore as manager Becky Martin tried to make the paperback library more appealing to its customers. Unlike past years, the bookstore assistants tried to keep it open every hour to allow a greater number of students an opportunity to select books. Members of the Venture staff became more enthusiastic this year and met once each week, creating signs and contests to arouse more interest in the student edited magazine. The team of Craig Solyntjes and Ken Adney helped to place more emphasis upon debate this year by their impressive win record in conference competition, stated Mrs. Seidler.

German was also offered under Mr. Maas' instruction and interested students could commute to Washington to learn Latin. In the art department, student interest shifted to crafts courses in which members created their own jewelry, pottery, fabrics and wall hangings. Hilltop Singers peddled candy to pay for their trip to Chicago while Concert Choir sold lawn bags and fruit to pay their way to tour through southern states. This year band divided into two groups, Concert Band and Wind Ensemble. Each section met different hours to allow Wind Ensemble members to play more advanced music.

Black Studies and Social Psychology drew much enthusiasm this year from students in the social studies department. Black Studies, taught by Mr. Weld, featured guest speakers and movies to explain the history of the American Black, while Social Psychology experimented with games of trust and understanding human behavior. Sophomores were still required to take three terms of American Studies. However, upperclassmen were given a choice between American or Comparative Government to fulfill their social studies requirement. Since 1972 was an election year, many American Studies students were given a chance to actively participate in the governmental process by voting in a mock election for state and national candidates.

Mass confusion prevailed at the social studies table as students registered for a variety of classes during winter term registration.

Change is the word that best describes the math department this year with the addition of a new course entitled Math for Human Endeavor. The class was geared for students who desired a more practical course that attempted to relate math to cultural happenings in a laboratory situation. As a result of the high enrollment in this new course, enrollment in geometry classes declined somewhat. The science department placed more emphasis upon specialization this year. No longer did students take a general biology class. Instead, science instructors divided the trimester up into six week blocks, in which students explored topics ranging from drugs to human reproduction.

Revolution hit the Industrial Arts departments in the city's three high schools as they joined forces through a class in building trades to construct a $35,000 house. Two courses which proved to be popular with both boys and girls were photography, where students learned to print pictures, and general plastics, which taught students the basics of plastic molding. Change was also apparent in the Industrial Arts department as the traditional separate male and female auto mechanics classes were dropped in favor of co-ed classes.

STATE T A T E

Coach of the year Bill McNiel awaits in nervous anticipation the outcome of a close match.

Exhausted but proud, the state's number 1 team displays its trophy in Vet's Auditorium.

Watching the final seconds tick away, Don Hittenmiller advances to state competition.

After a long season of losing weight, hours of work-outs, and strong determination the squad finally accomplished its goal, a 1973 state wrestling title. For three days, instead of two, wrestlers, coaches, and fans from all over the state were seen in Vet's Auditorium in Des Moines until the final night was completed. Jeff came through with a thin $1\frac{1}{2}$ point lead over the team "across the river." It took people like Dan Balvanz, the only guy in the state to go into an overtime with Don Zimmerman, and Kevin Kubik, who battled for the heavyweight spot throughout the season, to push the team to its number one spot.

Larry Harkness attempts to make his Wash opponent "see the lights."

Dan Kruse rocks his opponent into a cradle for a pin.

As if the Mississippi Valley Conference was predetermined, J-Hawk wrestlers not only claimed their third straight conference crown but ended the season with a perfect 11-0 record. To attain this record, the J-Hawks not only displayed their power in dual meets but in tournaments as well. The grapplers captured tourney titles in Council Bluffs, S. E. Polk in Des Moines, and at the highly regarded Tri-State Tournament in Madison, Wisconsin. At the year end banquet, Dan Balvanz was recognized as most valuable wrestler and Gary Bentrin and Don Zimmerman were named the team's co-captains. Howard Johnson was also honored with the hustler award.

Terry Lutz shows little expression as he posts a sectional victory.

Working desperately for a pin, Kent Miller strives to regain his balance.

The intense concentration of Tom Cornally is displayed as he successfully maneuvers a fireman's carry.

Under the ref's watchful eye, heavyweight Kevin Kubik earns another of his many pins.

Mixed emotions are expressed by the J-Hawk bench in the closing moments of a victory over Kennedy.

Speed, height, and excellent shooting were all trademarks of the 1972-1973 sophomore basketball squad. Boasting a record of 10-4 in the Mississippi Valley and 12-6 overall, sophomore cagers finished their season in third place. The J-Hawks opened with a win over Bettendorf, although two losses were awarded to city-rival Wash and another to Iowa City West, 64-63. Terry Earnest was voted most valuable player and Randy Jones was cited as contributing the most to practice.

VYBORNÝ! J-HAWK SWIMMERS ARE GREAT! With the added incentive of the newly introduced "Frog Award", all J-Hawk tankers hit the water with hope of attaining the weekly title. Faced with tough competition, the varsity completed its season with a 5-9 record and a fifth place finish in the MVC. Many outstanding sophomores aided the varsity and jayvee teams in compiling points and finished in fifth place in the conference. Specializing in the 50-yard freestyle, Rick Kadlec placed tenth in the state meet. While the "Blue Revolution" swam on, Becky Allen was added to the team as the first girl manager to receive a jayvee letter in boys swimming. During the annual swim team banquet, Bruce Bolhken was named most valuable swimmer and captain while Jon Klein was elected most improved and hardest working swimmer.

Following the starter's gun, senior Bruce Bolhken gets a flying head start off the blocks.

It's a lonely business but it's all in some way or another very rewarding. Working behind the scenes, they do the little jobs that have to be done: rubbing pulled muscles, keeping statistics, announcing scores and discussing strategy. Sure it's not like being one of the players but without them the show would never go on. They don't complain and rarely receive a lot of recognition. Their hard work, along with the teams' efforts, helped to make 1972-73 a championship year for Jefferson athletics. They are the managers, trainers, scorekeepers, announcers, coaches, and mat maids.

Concentration helps Kim Meyers to perfect her routine in a meet against Linn-Mar.

Flexibility is exemplified by Sheri Abney as she competes in the floor exercise event.

Girls gymnastics introduced a new approach to physical fitness with a "weight watching" rule. Running exercises were necessary to stay within the two-pound weight restriction. The girls worked in varied events rather than specializing in a single event as in previous years. Injuries to seniors Sheri Abney and Julie Bridges and junior Jeannie Kopecky left many events open, according to Coach Tom Novak. The squad finished its season by sending only sophomore Kathy Casey to the state meet in Des Moines.

Revolutionary steps were taken by school officials when they introduced girls basketball this season. This measure was intended so that girls could gain experience since they were unable to compete in the state playoffs. Instead, all metropolitan schools competed against each other and the season's end was climaxed with an intra-city championship.

The weavers attempt to blindfold the flower girl after she discovers the fabric they have made is imaginary.

"For me?" asks Grishna. "Give me a kiss first," explains Ramar.

Listening intently, the Empress tells the children the story of the vain peacock.

"Halt or we'll smash the loom," commands the weavers while the Emperor tries to take a peek at his new clothes.

An Emperor's gleaming palace throne room set the stage for this year's Mixed Chorus musical, "The Emperor's New Clothes," a musical fable. A temperamental and vain Emperor (Francis Pain) becomes unhappy with his wardrobe, which in turn makes his subjects unhappy. And because of his ill disposition, Ramar (Bob Simbro) and Grishna (Janet Bales), who wish to be married cannot. A contest is held and a $1,000 gold piece prize is to be given to anyone who creates and designs a set of new clothes. Three pickpockets, disguised as magic weavers, are set to work. They mastermind a plot set to baffle the entire kingdom by creating imaginary clothes to be seen by only those who are clever and fit for their jobs. But the plot is spoiled by a child who is the only one in the entire kingdom to see things as they really are.

The Emperor firmly believes that his clothes are one of the most important assets in the entire kingdom.

Without seniority you're nothing, explains the prime minister's wife to her husband.

Some 120 non-harmonic sophs astounded Mr. Koepke as they moved up the ladder from the worst to best sounding mixed chorus he's ever experienced. Pop sounds, the blues, and a flute solo to a romantic selection, "And I Remember" by Jan Eppel, added variety to this year's program. Hilltop Singers proved good things come in small packages as 50 girls enjoyed a year of exciting times. Audiences responded excitedly to the girls on their sunny three day Chicago tour.

Revolution again

infiltrated the ranks of band members when Concert Band was divided into two distinct groups which met different hours this year. Concert Band members met during first hour while the more select members in Symphonic Band met fourth period. Once again the band staged its annual band carnival in the school gym area. To round out an active year, Ruth Kinzey was selected to reign as band queen and rode in a convertible at the head of the festival parade. As summer approached, anxious students packed suitcases for their trip to Winnipeg, Canada, and many hours of strenuous competition. Many money-raising projects were organized by band members and their enthusiastic parents in order to raise the sum needed to finance the trip, noted Mr. Luman Colton, director.

"Poor little Louise," chokes Argan as he begs forgiveness for beating his clever daughter.

Dr. Diaforus (Jim Hiding) instructs his son Thomas (Len Frondle) in the fine art of courting.

Argan whimsically examines his medicines as he decides which one to take today.

Pill boxes, medicine bottles, endless cures, and sudden illnesses were all a part of the moaning hypochondriac, Argan, in Moliere's classic comedy, "The Imaginary Invalid." Argan wishes to marry-off his eldest daughter, Angelica, to a man who will be useful to him, so he selects Dr. Diaforus' son, young Thomas Diaforus, who is also a doctor. But Angelica has already chosen another, Cleante, who starts the ball rolling when he poses as Angelica's music teacher to get into the house. The story begins to expand into real problems and after continuous comical complications, winds up with a happy ending.

"Stick out your tongue," snaps the mysterious doctor (Toinette) to Argan, as his brother Deraldi looks on smiling secretly to himself.

"Omnes Learned Doctori, Eminent Professores," is chanted by the disguised company while Argan is transformed into Doctor Imaginare.

Statesman '73

Editor-in-Chief Carol Ridder takes a short break from typing endless copy blocks.

Plagued with the task of topping the '72 yearbook, the 1973 Statesman staff started off the year by choosing the "Blue Revolution" as its theme. Editor-in-chief Carol Ridder first ignited this idea after attending the annual yearbook workshop in Iowa City last summer. Revolution was carried throughout the book as it was divided into three distinct sections, following the new tri-mester system. Traditions were broken as formal group pictures changed to more natural surroundings and the administration section added more candids and reduced "head shots." A blue background also became a new addition to the opening of the book and stressed the total idea of changing times.

Work was totally forgotten for the day when the staff surprised Mr. Smrha with a birthday party in February.

Mr. Smrha and sports editor Jeff Buck decide upon the number of enlargements for the football section.

During group picture day, three staff members take time out for a coke with their adviser.

Watching the antics of two Outlook reporters, Linda Koehler, editor-in-chief, relaxes for a moment.

"What do you consider will be your most challenging problem?" asks Mark Dukes of the new basketball coach, Colin Williams.

OUTLOOK STAFF Front row: D. Hennings, K. Jensen, D. Howell, B. Martin, L. Koehler, C. Bangs, Mr. Smrha, V. Rusbult, P. Ludwick, M. Dukes, J. Bowen, D.

Berggren, B. Stary. Back row: K. Shoemaker, S. Daly, K. Adney, N. Sheronick, L. Berchenbriter, B. Butler.

Deadlines, deadlines, and more deadlines echoed in the minds of staff members this year as the never-ending cycle of planning, writing, and delivering the Outlook filled each week. "Any good story ideas?" began each planning session of the All-American newspaper staff. "How's that sound to you Miss Koehler?" adviser Ronald Smrha would ask the new editor-in-chief. Putting out a paper may seem extremely difficult to someone on the outside, but the various staff members found the challenge exciting and stimulating. Just so monotony didn't stifle the journalist's creativity, an occasional get well, Christmas, or birthday party was invented. As the last issue was put to bed, the entire staff sighed with relief as well as regret that there were no more deadlines to be met.

Doug Howell briefs himself while waiting for an interview with Mr. Siddens concerning registration.

Staff members Cindy Mossburg, RaMae Young, and Becky Martin prepare to deliver papers as Bev Stary collects distribution route cards.

A delightful show leaves Doll-fin-nette members glowing from ear to ear after the finale.

Slaves carry emperress Laurie Davis to the poolside to begin her number.

Past, present, and future was the theme of the annual Doll-fin-nette variety show "Once Upon A Time" which was presented March 29-30. Skits of the primitive cavemen, the Egyptian Empire, the Wild West, the Roaring 20's, and the Dazzling 50's highlighted the show. "Twenty members performed in the show along with designing their own costume for each segment," explained Laurie Davis, Doll-fin-nette president. Hard practice went into the program as Miss Jo Gerdes, Doll-fin-nette supervisor, worked with the girls and the stunts since September.

Five members of Doll-fin-nettes gracefully float in a star formation during a water scene.

Photographer Rick Zitek snaps Laura Booth's picture in the beauty contest sequence.

Just seconds before their sketch is to start, Pat Casey comes to Craig Wilford's rescue.

Rounding the curve, Barb Lodge anchors the 880-relay team to another victory.

Sherry Jones, Chris Bouzek, Mary Peterson, and Barb Lodge beam with delight after winning the distance relay event.

Hampered by rain,

J-Hawk trackmen didn't get in as much practice as they would have liked, but the team fared quite well this season, nonetheless. The 880 relay team (Jim Dulin, Terry Burke, Kevin Jelinek, and Mike Mortland) took first place in the district meet at Kingston Stadium. Mortland also placed first in the 220 dash. The girls track team, coached by Larry Nolting, continued to improve since its beginning two years ago. Improving with the team were this year's standouts — senior sprinter Sherry Jones and Barb Lodge and Mary Peterson in the 440-yard dash. Five girls qualified for state competition in Des Moines.

Vickie Engel approaches the finish line in the mile run event at Kingston Stadium.

Senior Jim Dulin's final kick pays off as he finishes first again in the medley relay.

Clearing the low hurdles rapidly, Jeff Chapin gains on his opponent.

Scott Fleming added a new twist to the long jump event by including a front flip this year.

BOYS TRACK Front row: J. Dulin, T. Miller, K. Jelinek, B. Jenkins, S. Smith, S. Moore, C. Aldrich, M. Mueller, R. Zitek, D. Poole, E. Hoyum, T. Christensen. Second row: T. Burke, J. Cimburek, S. Walker, P. Larson, A. Jacobsen, S. Jones, M.

Mortland, R. Phillips, B. Simbro, K. Hoepfner, B. Know. Back row: S. Fleming, R. Jones, T. Sadler, R. Knake, J. Chapin, G. Gillespie, Head Coach Ask, Coach Schirm, Coach Dennis, Coach Noonan.

Karen Cerveny prepares to drive her ball forcefully down the fairway.

Faced with a predicament, Sue Thompson takes her second shot from the sand at Ellis.

After an accurate chip shot, Cyndie Stolte sinks an easy putt.

Wet weather,

including a two day spring blizzard, plagued the golf teams this year as the home course had to be switched from Jones to Ellis. Both teams missed the first week of meets and several more throughout the season because of rain, snow, and wet ground. With an 11-girl team this year, girls golf coach Dennis Ferreter commented, "There's a lot of interest on the girls part about the game. Eleven is the most I've coached in my four years as coach at Jeff." The team was dominated by seniors Sue Thompson, Karen Cerveney, Leigh Sutter, and Cyndie Stolte. This year's new coach for boys golf was Gary White. His standouts included Wade Shipman, Gary Bishop, Mark Dukes, Ron Carney, and Dwayne Hensch.

Mark Dukes carefully aligns his ball for a birdie putt.

Cleaning his ball, Gary Bishop prepares to tee-off on hole number 3 at Chapman's.

Coach Dennis Ellertson and Jim Boland discuss strategy and team scores during a home meet.

Up . . . down . . . and a perfect follow through is the key to Rick Jorgensen's powerful serve.

GIRLS TENNIS Front row: Sue Decker, Deb Buchheim, Cathy Boehm, Patti Biederman, Deb Meeks, Deb Tschopp, Rhonda Allard, Barb Kuenzi, Sue Graham, Jeanne

Kopecky, Coach Mary Richter.

Keeping her eye on the ball requires Rhonda Allard's concentration in a forehand shot.

Juniors Barb Kuenzi and Debbie Tschopp stop to talk after a successful doubles match.

Tennis power was a key phase to J-Hawk netters Marty Mineck and Rick Jorgenson as they teamed together and advanced past the boys tennis district to the state tournament in Ames. Coached by Dennis Ellertson, the powerful, changeable 18-man squad boasted an impressive 10-5 record. Signs like "Practice at 3:30. Get out there early and work hard!" were tacked on Miss Mary Richter's door during the girls tennis season. The young team was plagued by cold and rainy days and several cancellations. Sparked by number one player Rhonda Allard, they ended the year with a 6-7 record.

With two outs and a run needed to win, Guy Stoecker slides under the catcher at homeplate.

To advance the base runners into scoring position, Guy Murdock attempts the perfect bunt.

Good depth and a great deal of talent perfectly described the varsity and sophomore glovemen during their spring campaign. "Rain and just plain poor weather gave us a lot of difficulty," stated Coach Vern Bredeson. "We did all right team-wise, even though we only practiced on the field a few times." Sophomore glovemen were coached by Mr. Norm Byers and won three of their opening games including the one against city-rival Washington. However, in a disappointing game with Kennedy they were defeated 5-4. "With a little luck and some real fine weather," noted Coach Byers, "the season will wind up a good one."

Determined to strike out the batter, senior pitcher Craig Wilford grimaces as he releases a fast pitch.

Kicking up her heels, Debbie Lamb reflects the meaning of "Feelin'."

The tempo slowed as West Side members assumed a more serious air during "Amazing Grace."

Members move into position at the start of an audience favorite, "Who Am I?"

WEST SIDE DELEGATION Front row: Candy Schmidt, Debbie Lamb, Sue Williamson, Jim Hiding, Dan Balvanz, Lynn Fattig, Teresa David, Mike Pfeffer, Sherri

Instrumentalist Randy Wise strikes up the banjo in "Down the Ohio."

Singing and swinging to the sounds of "Raise a Ruckus" and "Save the Country", the West Side Delegation kicked off its show. Lights were added to the program this year to provide a finishing touch to a flashy show. Alternates were not chosen until right before the first performance, giving everyone a fair chance to vie for positions. WSD traveled frequently throughout Iowa on buses performing for vocal festivals, high schools, and organizations, including a trip through the southern states. "Oh Happy Day" was an audience favorite, along with "Down the Ohio", where members did a square dance with a hoe down flavor.

Forming two lines, male members enjoy dancing to "Save the Country."

row: Connie Thompson, Don Nance, Cindy Williamson, Randy Ralston, Steve Graham, Kirk Tibbitts, Kathy Scott, Sid Sampson, Randy Wise.

K. Kloubec, L. Gamble, W. Shipman, D. Kuenzi, M. Mortland, D. Blavanz, G. Vosatka. Back row: R. Wise, S. Sampson, D. Newport, G. Kurka, D. Long, R. Hunt, T. Polehna, B. Ritchie.

A concert with a contemporary flavor was well received by students at Glenn Oaks High School.

"C'mon dad, can I have my teddy bear back now?" asks Scott Koepke of his father.

Bus — that was the one word on this year's Concert Choir tour that got more criticism and laughs than any other. Though struck by every type of weather possible, nothing stopped the touring students from seeing New Orleans, the French Quarter, and Bourbon Street. Staying in the homes of black students of different economic and environmental backgrounds added a touch of variety to the tour, as well as receiving the key to the city of Baton Rouge and arousing wild reactions to "Oh Happy Day" sung by West Side members.

CONCERT CHOIR Front row: J. Davenport, B. Laton, R. Rodemeyer, M. K. Novak, S. Steele, L. Fattig, T. David, N. Sheronick, J. Tish. Second row: K. Novak, S. Williamson, D. Lamb, P. Biederman, C. Williamson, K. Scott, S. Ritchie, R. Allard. Third row: T. Clayton, T. Smejkal, K. Tibbetts, M. Pfeffer, J. Haley, J. Popelka, G. Kupfer. Back row: R. Ralston, S. Smith, M. Williams, D. McGowan, J. Vandercook, S. Graham, J. Hidinger, M. Eoff.

Julie Davenport gives a sly smile to Jim Hidinger's opponent after peeking at Jim's hand.

Playing football was one of the favorite activities of members who were stranded in the sunshine of Topeka, Kansas.

Amidst the rain and cold temperatures, members still seemed to get the most fun out of Six Flags over Texas.

"In short there's simply not, a more congenial spot," brags Arthur (Dan Long) to his betrothed Guinevere.

"Where'd ya say I was" asked King Pellinore when he made an unexpected visit to the Royal Court of Camelot.

Guinevere (Sherrie Hildebrand) captivates the royal court while they frolic through the park during the "Lusty Month of May."

Lancelot (Jim Hiding) paints a picture of his love for Guinevere while trying to persuade her to run away with him.

"Hold it right there Lancelot," commands Mordred. "I accuse you of treason and order you both to stand trial."

"Wait, the carriage has stopped and someone's getting out," proclaims Dinadan as he and the court watch the arrival of Guinevere. "Camelot" was selected by the TAG judges as the best musical of the year during the annual TAG presentation.

Orchestra members play curtain call, the lights come up to reveal the lavish costumes, intricate set, and beaming cast for one last time as another performance of "Camelot" comes to a close. "Camelot" is based upon the story of King Arthur's famed Round Table and of the infidelity of his beautiful wife, Guinevere, to Lancelot, Arthur's most-trusted and beloved knight. Glowing fairies, hobby horses ridden by knights in semi-shining armor, and a brilliantly costumed cast highlighted the show during its five night run. A first occurred when Principal William Peterson received several congratulatory calls from parents following the opening night performance.

Many changes were witnessed by Orchestra members this year as the Blue Revolution invaded the music department. Wind players were able to get credit for participation in Orchestra for the first time. Students Kathleen Novak and Connie Thompson aided Mr. John Hoffman with his directing duties during the annual Orchestra festival in May. A trip to Minneapolis was the highlight of the Orchestra's schedule as members attended a Minneapolis Symphony Concert and presented concerts on tour. Hours and hours of practice with choir members were necessary to perfect the difficult selections for this year's spring musical, "Camelot."

Present Honor Society members stand as the new inductees are ushered to their seats.

Staged on the half-completed set for "Camelot" in the auditorium, the National Honor Society induction initiated 70 new members April 26. Change was evident in the induction this year as membership pins were triangular rather than the torch which has been used since the founding of the National Honor Society in the 1920's. Grade point eligibility was also unusually high this year with juniors needing at least a 3.665 and seniors a 3.309.

REFLECTIONS

REFLECTIONS

Reflections come to mind of all the days gone by — days as underclassmen when we shared our joys and sorrows and watched each other grow. Many faces are puzzling faces still wondering where to turn in life, and if the choice they make will be the right one. Perhaps we should remember these days and the things that happened forever and yet always look forward to the happenings of tomorrow. For do not walk behind me for I may not lead, and do not walk in front of me for I may not follow, just walk beside me and be my friend.

Willie Johnson picks up the beat as the band plays the popular tune, "Joy to the World."

Senior Senate members revolutionized Jefferson tradition this year when they voted to return the senior prom site from a rented hall to the gym. Shrubs and park benches transformed the gym into a park setting to carry out the theme, "Park Avenue." Some 200 couples danced to the music of "Forte", whose members played under a canopy of pastel tissue paper. Surrounding the park setting were tables with red and white checked table cloths that provided couples with a place to sit and enjoy a glass of punch.

HALLELUJAH!

Commencement exercises climaxed the high school careers of 514 Jefferson seniors Thursday, June 7. Speakers for the traditional ceremony included class valedictorian Sue Daly, salutatorian Renee Birkicht, Glenn Vosatka, Dave Kuenzi, and Kevin Kubik, senior class president. Members of Concert Choir sang "The Road Not Taken" and "May the Road Rise to Meet You" at graduation. In addition, senior Sherrie Hildebrand sang "The Star Spangled Banner" at the start of the evening's festivities. An afternoon practice included final details in order to prepare seniors for the 8 p.m. ceremony. One by one the 514 seniors received their diplomas from Mr. Peterson and walked away with a tear, a grin, or a sigh of relief.

Turning in his gown enables Dan Houghkirk to receive his diploma insert from Mrs. Joan Baird.

'May I say that I have loved me one or two of the people in my past, fading faces in a waking dream and though they never seem to last very long, there are faces I remember from the places in my past. I said all the deadhead miles and the insincere smiles, sometimes I can laugh and cry and I can't remember why. But I still love those good times gone by, hold on to them close or let them go. I don't know, I just seem to sing these songs and say I'm sorry for the friends I used to know."

James Taylor

'Change again! from August dustiness to ripe September.
 Indifferent Summer changes
 then to Fall, and vagrant thoughts of other snows intrude from time to time,
 but only mildly yet,
 for everything gets excited,
 as in Spring, with color.
 But we, like trees, live out the easy days with a kind of mock bravado—a sort of last defiant smile for cold nights and falling leaves."

Max Coots

"The first of December was covered with snow

So was the turnpike from Stockbridge to Boston.
The Berkshires seemed dreamlike on account of that frosting
With ten miles behind me and ten thousand more to go."

James Taylor

has officially come to a close, the 1972-73 school year will never be forgotten. It was a time of new events, new faces, and new ideas, but most of all it was a year labeled as "The Blue Revolution." This phrase became synonymous with layouts, pictures, and hard work in room 234-B as the Statesman staff worked toward one common goal — completing its yearbook. I wish to thank the entire staff, plus the Outlook staff who labored through fall, winter, and spring deadlines to finally come up with this book. But nothing could have been accomplished without the special help of a few individuals. I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to Lynn Berchenbriter, who brainstormed through the division pages; to Vickie Anderson, for her schedules and continuous help on faculty picture day; to Jeff Buck, for his ideas about sports coverage; and to Tina Burger, for her constant creativity with the layouts. Special thanks also goes to Joan Bowen, who labored with the cover, and to Glynn Hinton, who hibernated with her papers to index this book. Without the cooperation and assistance of photographers Mike McInerney, Ken Jensen, Ron Dunek, Debi Hennings, Julie Baker, and Casey, this yearbook would have never come to life. Last, I would like to thank the most important person of all, our adviser, Mr. Ronald Smrha, for his sensible advice and constant assistance to staff members. I hope that this book has portrayed its theme of "The Blue Revolution" and that it brings you as many hours of happiness as it has brought me throughout the past year.
