Students Lead

To be a winner you must have winning qualities. One of those qualities is leadership. Here at Jefferson there are many individual leaders and groups that deserve recognition.

Student Council is one such organization.

Led by president Scott Koepke, vice president Janis Kint, secretary Terri Long, and treasurer Patty Roloff, the Council plans such things as Homecoming, WPA, the bonfire, pep assemblies, and mixers.

Other organizations that helped out this year were sophomore, junior, and senior senates. These clubs held various money making activities to raise money for their prom.

—DD Westbrook

Teamwork pays off

J-Hawks are winners. What does this phrase mean? Of course it has a different meaning to each individual.

In athletics, teamwork paid off as the girls' cross country and the boys' gymnastics teams achieved their goals by bringing home state titles. Senior Jan Sedlacek stated, "You really feel like a winner when you can bring home a state trophy for the school."

—DD Westbrook

Theme Creates Winning Image

Behind every winner there is another winner. As J-Hawks look back on their days at Jefferson they will always remember winning in many ways.

Athletes may remember winning that big game or qualifying for state but behind every athlete there were many helpers. Cheerleaders and pep pals spent endless hours on locker decorations and little gifts for the players to fire them up. They too, are winners.

Jefferson can also pride itself on having a super fine arts department. This couldn't have been done without the leadership of Mr. Tom Lippert and Mr. Robert Geuder.

—DD Wesbrook

Student Life

Student life took on a new look at Jeff this year. Football games brought out record crowds, as blue pride soared high. A change was apparent at assemblies, when students were assigned seats. For the first time a theme was applied to tell what being a J-Hawk was all about. "J-Hawks are Winners" bumper stickers, t-shirts, and hats were common sights, especially sported during the beat Wash and Kennedy weeks. Homecoming, WPA, and mixers helped to break up the daily routines and kept the J-Hawks feeling like winners throughout the year.

—Ann Scholl.

Linda Fowler, Lori Banks, Chris Bender, Leslie Blahnik, Julie Schreder, and Diann Henry show their school spirit in perfect form.

Students give it their all at the third annual bonfire, held October 9 on the lower football field.

By providing students with musical entertainment, pep band members support that winning spirit during each pep assembly.

By participating in extra-curricular activities, these J-Hawks are proud to play and portray the fight song.

J-HAWKS ARE WINNERS

Students help promote spirit

Displaying her blue and white with pride, senior D.D. Westbrook takes a break after an exhausting cross country meet.

The spirit stick, competition yell, award presentations, and skits were all a lively part of the pep assemblies this year.

The cheerleaders and pom pon girls did their cheers and routines to help promote spirit, as well as the pep band leading loyal J-Hawks in the fight song at every assembly. Student and faculty spirit and support helped the J-Hawks to achieve many victories.

This year's assemblies had a new and controversial requirement . . . assigned seating for students and faculty. Students had to sit with their homeroom teachers in a designated section of the bleachers. Attendance was taken to keep students from skipping assemblies. The purpose of all this was to keep the student body orderly during assemblies.

Student Council held its Homecoming bonfire on October 9. An estimated crowd of 350 students came to show their spirit for Jefferson. Football players, pom pon girls, and cheerleaders helped to get the J-Hawks fired-up for the big day.

—Janis Kint

Hosting a bonfire for the student body during Homecoming festivities has become a Student Council tradition.

Seniors Greg Hulbert, Jim Keller, Doug Tompkins and Jan Witting burn in effigy a Dubuque Senior Ram.

Despite the new assigned seating arrangement, seniors show that traditional senior pride in the competition yell.

A variety of expressions capture the excitement that was part of Homecoming 1980. Those caught up in the excitement include: 1 Janis Kint, and her mother, 2 Vicky McVay, Larry Lehman, 3 Couples at Homecoming dance, 4 Chris Bender, Tom Ash, 5 Julie Loerch, Scott McEowen, 6 Ann Scholl, Jeff Shaver, 7 Surria Igram, Maria Lindsey, Lori Daves.

Students cast vote

Tension mounted among the senior girls as the student body piled into the gymnasium to hear who would be selected as the 25 Homecoming queen semi-finalists.

Homecoming this year started out September 25, with a pep assembly announcing the 25 semi-finalists. The second pep assembly announcing the 10 finalists was held on October 6.

Student Council sponsored many other activities related to Homecoming this year. Cheers and yells echoed from the practice field behind the school on Thursday, October 9, when the third annual bonfire was held. Student Council also sponsored a raffle in which two lucky individuals won $150 gift certificates from Armstrong's and a black and white Magnavox TV from Happy Bright's.

The dance followed on Saturday, October 11, starting at 8:30 p.m. The theme of this year's dance was One In A Million, and the band, "Friction," entertained.

The radiant smiles on the faces of the 10 finalists brightened Kingston Stadium on Friday night, October 10. The annual Homecoming festivities were about to begin. The candidates and their escorts proceeded to walk down the white carpet from each end of the field.

This year Student Council was in search of something new to do to inform the crowd as to who each candidate was. The decision was made to place white cardboard signs in front of the girls with their name appearing on it. Their names appeared large enough so that they could be read from all over the stadium. Except for the problem of it being windy, this idea proved to be most helpful to the spectators.

As Mr. Robert Geuder, the emcee, announced each finalist, the excitement built as to who the queen would be. Maria Lindsey received the crown after being announced Jefferson's 1980 Homecoming queen. The crown and traditional blue cape were placed on her head by last year's queen, Vive Spanos.

To make things even more exciting, the football team went on to win big over Dubuque Senior, 24-7. The usual excitement over the new queen plus the victory of the Homecoming game made this celebration something more to remember.

Tony Poole and Joan Sylvester convey their J-Hawk spirit at the Homecoming game by showing which team they think is number one.

A jubilant group of sophomores celebrate their team's victory along the way to another Valley championship.

A proud smile appears on the gymnasts' faces as they proudly hold up the first place trophy they won at the state meet.

Let's hear it fans

"Let's get in on the action! We can start by going to the football game tonight."

With the new slogan "J-Hawks are Winners" students came out in full force to support their school, their teams, and most of all, to have a good time.

J-Hawk fans kicked off the year by cheering the football players to a most successful 6-3 season.

During the midst of the football season came Homecoming. Maria Lindsay was crowned queen on Friday, October 10, at the Jefferson vs. Dubuque Senior football game. The following Saturday night over 500 people gathered in the cafeteria to join in at the annual Homecoming dance.

Girls' and boys' cross country and boys' gymnastics were other events which drew fans. Although the fan turnout was light the enthusiasm was overwhelming. The great excitement, combined with hard work, brought boys' gymnastics and girls' cross country state championship titles.

In early November the fine arts department worked hard preparing for the play, "You Can't Take It With You," and a Concert Choir program.

Fall was a very busy time for J-Hawks.

Public Disturbance, a band composed of Jefferson alumni, enjoyed playing at the mixer sponsored by Senior Senate.

Mixers provide fun for dancing J-Hawks

Lights are flashing and the strobe is turning as students boogie to the beat of the music.

Dances and mixers are very popular among Jefferson students. Junior Linda Still commented, "I enjoy going to mixers, and I feel others enjoy them too."

D.J.'s supplied the music for most of the mixers. They added to the mixers by having dance contests, giving away albums, and pleasing the crowd.

The band Public Disturbance, which is made up of former Jefferson students, also provided music for some of the dances this year. Senior Ann Hamory commented, "Since the group included former graduates, they seem to add the J-Hawk spirit to their music."

Most of the dances and mixers are organized as fund raising activities for various groups, such as O.E., T&I, Mat Maids, Thespians, and Senior Senate. Other dances that are not organized as fund raisers are Homecoming, WPA, and senior prom. Since these dances are more formal occasions, they take weeks of preparation. Senior Greg Hulbert commented that, "It's nice to have WPA when the girls have to pay for dinner and tickets!"

The administration plays a major role in dances and mixers. Associate Principal Donald Hoeppepner stated, "The students should understand, we have mixers because the administration is willing to supervise them. Without their cooperation many of these events would not take place."

All in all, dances and mixers are an enjoyable form of entertainment.

J-Hawks are winners

The principal carries a porta-potty to the center of the gym, a boy shows up at a basketball game in a dress, and people throw their bodies together to form the word VICTORY.

No, this isn't a school for the emotionally disturbed, it's only that J-Hawk spirit shining through at Jefferson High.

Spirit could be seen in various forms throughout the year. It showed up from the way J-Hawks dressed to the way they cheered. It wasn't unusual to see people wearing only blue and white on certain days, or watching as several J-Hawks used their bodies to spell out words at sporting events.

Spirit could be seen all year long by the revived Hat Gang, and its handful of followers. Though disappointed about the number involved, senior Ray Peters had this to say about the members, "It takes a lot of dedication to be a good J-Hawk fan. Everyone worked really hard at all the games to fire-up the crowd."

J-Hawks proved that spirit is something different to each person. Senior D.D. Westbrook said it doesn't matter how you express your spirit as long as you do.

— Margaret Hoy

Cheerleaders show spirit, pep, and pride

At every athletic event there are certain girls who always attend. These girls go to every game, home or away, and are always ready to cheer on the athletes. These girls are commonly known as cheerleaders of which there are 11 squads.

Though cheerleading takes a lot of practice and knowledge of the sport, the benefits of being on the squad make the hard work worth it. Senior varsity wrestling cheerleader, Patty Gilmer, stated, "I met lots and lots of people going to the meets and I liked that. The other cheerleaders and athletes are usually really nice."

Being both a fall and a winter cheerleader has its advantages. During the fall, decorating the athletes homes can prove exciting, but the winter cheerleaders have few worries about the cold weather outside when cheering.

Being supportive, sharing their teams wins and losses, and always showing up ready to cheer their team on is what being a cheerleader is all about.

Smiles tell all

Smiles weren't hard to find during a normal school day at Jefferson. Whether they were seen before school, at lunch, or after class, a smile was a very prominent facial expression flashed by students.

Many other expressions were also commonly found. They were seen widely throughout the year. There was that "bored" look on some when 8:20 arrived every weekday morning. There was that "unbelievable" look on others after passing a class they thought they had failed. And we all shared that "proud" and "excited" look after winning a deserved victory over our crosstown rival—Washington.

Football games, mixers, parties, plays, or the local Godfather's hang out were all places where you could find students expressing themselves. The traditional pep assemblies in the gym also brought reactions. Yes, the new seating arrangement did put a damper on the liveliness and excitement usually found at these assemblies, but all in all, the pep and rowdiness still prevailed.

As usual, there were also the few sad and disappointing times each student faced during the year.

In the end, however, after realizing we just went through three hard years of schooling, we all could sit back, smile, and reminisce about all the good times we had here at Jeff.

Wearing the popular spiked heels, baggy jeans, and v-neck, quarter length sleeve shirt, junior Julie Schreder stops at her locker between classes for another folder.

Students keep up with styles

The fashions of 1980-81 have changed considerably from last year's disco and satin pants to the western look.

The rugged look went over big with cowboy boots, hats, and western shirts. Hiking boots were also popular.

Also becoming more popular and more affordable than the past years are baggies and designer jeans.

Stylish shoes this year include suede, Yo-Yo's, high heeled sandals, clogs, Candies, and also Dexters.

Not forgetting the men's fashions, basic blues, browns, and tans were the fashion range this fall.

Overall, fashions this year tended to be varied with a wide selection.

Since it was established in 1977, WPA (Women Pay All) has been a growing tradition at Jefferson. Student Council sponsors WPA each spring.

The week before the dance, events are planned and they aim to get students involved in the excitement of WPA week. On Tuesday night a record crowd turned out to view "The Creature From the Black Lagoon", which was shown in 3-D.

At an all school assembly on Thursday the WPA finalists were announced. The five sophomore candidates were Tim Carson, Joel Hachey, John Vyskocil, Steve Wise, and Lonnie Zingula. Junior candidates were Chris Greiner, Damon Hardiman, Chris Lund, Dave Martin, and Mickey Stuefen. The senior candidates were Steve Dekko, Nick Dellos, Scott Koepke, Scott McEowen, and Greg Rump. —Patty Graham

After school hours found students in a variety of activities, from ordering a sizeable meal at McDonald's to getting together a group of friends for frisbee football.

Senior Jennifer Gardner commented, "I like to jog or exercise somehow after school, but sometimes other activities get in the way."

Because a majority of students held part-time jobs during the school year, many students headed directly for work at the end of the school day. Greg Hulbert, senior, asserted, "That can wear you out after a while. It's not one of the most fun things to do after a hard day at school."

The popularity of "General Hospital", an after school soap opera, soared during the winter months at Jefferson. Senior Joni Carson explained, "Usually there isn't much to do in the winter. I usually get together with a friend and watch the soaps after school."

As soon as the snow began to melt and temperatures began to climb, activities moved outdoors. Impromptu trips to Lake McBride were taken and Morgan Creek became the favorite place to have fun for many students.

Weekends brought an even wider variety of activities for J-Hawks; each student doing the things he really enjoyed. J-Hawks were successful in finding many ways to enjoy their spare moments.

Warm spring weather brings J-Hawk students out for fun

Once the warm temperatures hit J-Hawk country, getting outside became more and more of a necessity. Most students took advantage of the warm weather by spending their time outside and getting ready for summer fun activities.

After school was out for the day, many students headed for home to get a start on their summer tans, while others spent their time engaging in the various spring sports.

On weekends students found different places to have fun. Sandy Beach, Morgan Creek, and Ellis Park were just a few of the places most could be found.

Camping was also a favorite pastime. With many places in and around Cedar Rapids, students could relax and just have fun.

Senior Pat Kelly stated, "I really like camping because I can get away from work."

After the long winter, most students welcomed the long awaited spring and summer activities.

During the spring and summer, students find various activities to occupy their free time. Some are: (1) Kurt Gustafson (2) Sally Matejcek (3) Jeff Grummer (4) Tina Steffen, Kim Vifian (5) DD Westbrook, Kathy Perkins (6) Paul Hlas.

Clubs

Raising money seemed to be a never ending battle as clubs strived to attain their goals. Once again, Student Council sponsored Homecoming and WPA, and the Senates continued to raise money for their senior prom. Mixers were held by Mat Maids and the T&I work program to raise funds. Even Statesman staff members pushed to sell enough books to pay for an embossed cover. Every club had a purpose, even if it was to just have fun. No matter what the cause, that winning spirit would always shine through.

Statesman life

Designing layouts, cropping photos, writing copy kept the 60 Statesman staff members busy the entire year. With the help of Co-Editors-in-Chief Ann Scholl and Jan Sedlacek and 14 section editors, things ran smoothly with relatively few problems.

During the three sales campaigns that were held during the year, staff members sold over 1,000 books.

Through the dedication of talented artists, photographers, and writers this yearbook shows that "J-Hawks are Winners."

Seeing one's work in print is a dream of many people. This dream has become a reality to many Jefferson students this year.

The Outlook, an All-American newspaper, was assembled with the dedication of thirty students each term.

Time after school was given up so that the staff could successfully complete nine issues.

Offhand, a literary magazine which consists of poems, short stories, artwork, and photography, was headed by Cindy Egger. The Offhand staff provided students with a published form of their literary work.

Junior inductees were in the top 7½% of their class while the seniors had to be in the top 15% of their class.

An application was given to all students who fell within these grade point percentages.

When the applications were returned, a faculty committee examined each questionnaire closely to insure that each applicant met the necessary qualifications for membership.

Speaking at the ceremony was Mr. Jack Laugen, vice-president for development at Coe College. He delivered the address on the importance of the English language, a foreign language, and the knowledge of computers for a well rounded education.

Events are planned by Student Council

Student Council worked hard this year to help provide activities and services for the school and community. This year's council had approximately fifty members throughout the year, and they were led by senior Scott Koepke, president; senior Janis Kint, vice-president; junior Terri Long, secretary; junior Patty Roloff, treasurer; and Mr. Walt Hartman, advisor.

In the fall, Homecoming was a major project for Student Council, as they planned two assemblies, the bonfire, the crowning at Kingston Stadium, and the Homecoming dance. Hours of planning and hard work made Homecoming 1980 a great success.

During the winter term, Student Council began to plan an area high school metro conference. With the help of the Grant Wood Area Education Association and Kirkwood Community College, the Metro Conference took place on February 4, 1981, at Kirkwood Community College. Student Council members from nine area high schools attended.

Also during the winter term, Student Council began to plan WPA Week which was held on March 23 through 27. The WPA movie was "The Creature From the Black Lagoon" in 3-D. Everyone who attended received a special pair of 3-D glasses to wear during the movie.

Other activities sponsored by Student Council throughout the year included the selling of donuts, candy, carnations, and class buttons.

Junior Senate sold sour balls and then sold and delivered Christmas and Easter messages to the student body.

By selling bumper stickers, M & M's, cookies, senior class T-shirts, and also sponsoring a mixer, Senior Senate made certain that their prom and class gift would be special!

Coop programs give members job skills

Vocational training is available to students who enroll in either the Office Education (OE) or Distributive Education (DE) programs.

OE deals mainly with improving clerical skills and introducing various forms and documents one would use in an office situation. DE, on the other hand, covers subjects like sales, accounting, and business management.

"Coordinators are the middlemen between training sponsors and students," revealed OE coordinator Mr. Larry Niemeyer.

Gaining experience at jobs can be very valuable. This can be gained by participating in Trade and Industry. This class can provide a job for the student in a field he/she would like to pursue in the future. The job is part-time and trains the student in the particular field.

"T&I can be very valuable. If there is a career you want to get into, it helps get you started," said Kurt Gustafson, senior. Kurt works at Mercy Hospital part-time as a physical therapist, a career he would like to continue.

Vrbicek, and the class meets every day fourth hour for classroom activities. Five credits are also given for the job, and five for the class.

Data Processing also gives experience in related fields. Students attend class in the morning to learn key punching skills, and work at job sites in the community each afternoon. People behind team receive due credit

The time is right to put the spotlight on a few of the clubs that went through the year almost unrecognized. Pep Club, Booster Club, and managers of athletic teams have gone through the year with little publicity.

Pep Club this year worked hard to fire up the athletic teams for most of the "big" games during both the fall and winter seasons. Although they were helpful, it was hard to be totally effective as the number of athletes far outnumbered the members of the club. Their hard work was still important and helpful not only to the athletes, but also for school spirit as well.

The athletic teams successes this year have had many contributing factors, among them fine athletes, and quality coaches. Also, a group of team managers whose hard work went practically unnoticed. The managers work behind the scenes, washing uniforms, carrying equipment to games and practices, mopping floors, and other such tedious jobs that no one wants to do, but have to be done.

No matter how hard the athletes train, or how hard the coaches, managers, and Pep Club work, there would not be an athletic program at Jefferson without the help of the Booster Club. This club is made up of concerned adults who work hard all year long to raise money. They do this through such things as working at concession stands and selling bumper stickers. Their work is deeply appreciated.

Mat Maids and timers are a big part of the wrestling and swimming programs. Going behind the scenes, it is easy to see some duties of these hard working young men and women.

In swimming, every .001 of a second counts. This accuracy falls upon the shoulders of a "tic-chic". Disqualifying a relay, keeping score of the diving, and announcing the events are important duties.

The mat maids assisted the coaches by constructing and publishing the wrestling programs, keeping score, and organizing the meets in general.

Although these two clubs receive little recognition, they are invaluable to the teams and coaches. "You're not only helping the teams, but you're having fun too!" commented a tic-chic, junior Veronica Martin.

Sports

The theme "J-Hawks are Winners" was very apparent as the girls' cross country, girls' indoor track, and boys' gymnastic team each brought home state titles. The girls' basketball team won the Metro Tournament for the first time and Mike Johnson capped a brilliant season by taking the state wrestling title at 155. In the spring the girls' track team proved to be a dominant figure across the state. Both the baseball and softball teams looked strong as they kept that winning spirit alive.

—Jan Sedlacek

Commitments and enthusiasm help achieve victory

What does it take to be a winner? . . . Being the first to cross the finish line, or scoring the most points is only part of being a winner. There are many other ways in which J-Hawks have been winners this past year in the field of sports.

Putting in long hours of practice, having dedication, and being able to make sacrifices are all qualifications of a winning athlete. Winning is both an individual and a team effort, and being able to put individual qualities into a team effort is one way that J-Hawks have proven to be winners.

Going out and giving all that one has is also part of being a winner, no matter what the result may be. Throughout the past year, many athletes have displayed this ability of being a winner.

Gridders have stout defense

After winning the first two games against East Waterloo and Iowa City West, the varsity squad was rated fifth in the state and J-Hawk spirits ran very high.

Then came the cross town rival Kennedy Cougars who shut out the J-Hawks, 12-0. From then on the J-Hawks had some trouble getting back on track and finished the season with an overall record of 6-3, and a conference record of 4-3.

Post season honors went to Lester Williams who was chosen 1st team All-State, 1st team All-Conference, and 1st team All-Metro. Jon Witting, who gained over 500 yards on the season, was chosen 2nd team All-Mississippi Valley Conference and 2nd team All-Metro and recieved an honorable mention in the All-State voting. Jon and Lester were also named offensive and defensive players of the year respectively.

Sophomores win conference

The JV football team finished the year with one win in four games. Although a non-winning season, the juniors who played gained important playing time. This could help improve them for next year on the varsity squad. The JV's were coached by Mr. Vern Bredeson and Mr. Robert Ask.

The sophomore football squad, guided by head coach Mr. Becker and assistant coach Mr. Tschopp, finished the year undefeated at 9-0, and won the sophomore Mississippi Valley Conference title. Coach Becker attributed the successful season partly to being fundamentally sound, practicing a team concept in practices, and good speed in the backfield.

Mr. Becker emphasized the team concept with the fact that there were no individual standouts, but he also added, "We had one of the finest backfields we have had at Jefferson since I've been here."

Mr. Becker also felt credit was due to his assistant coach, Mr. Tschopp, who always could be counted on to do a tremendous job.

The 9-0 undefeated record is the best since Mr. Becker started here in 1968 as an assistant before moving up to the head sophomore job in 1976.

The JV finished with a record of 2-9 and the sophomores finished 12-2-1 for the season and took first place at the Jefferson Sophomore Invitational meet.

The team could not have had such a successful season without the support and knowledge they received from the fine coaching staff headed by John Weld and assisted by Jim Cox and Cindy Brown.

Dedication, team work, sportsmanship, and the ability to never give up, qualities that this team possessed, proved that this group of J-Hawks were truly winners.

It's the quality that counts, not the quantity. This phrase best describes the sophomore volleyball team. Consisting of only 15 members, these girls finished the season with an impressive 12-2-1 match record.

After losing starters Sonya Feaker and Linda Miller to the varsity squad, the team still finished with two great accomplishments. One was winning its own sophomore tournament. The other was finishing second in the MVC, one of the toughest conferences in Iowa.

For the third time in three years, the girls' cross country team qualified for state. But for the first time ever, the girls brought home a first place state title.

Coach Larry Nolting welcomed back 4 letter winners, twins Jan and Jean Sedlacek, Lori Sheets, and Angie Werden. They also received help from freshman Mary Sedlacek.

The girls finished 8-1 in dual meets. Besides the state title, they earned conference and district titles. And for the first time, they competed in a 3 mile race at the Clinton Invitational. Coach Nolting stated, "We have finally reached our goal."

The boys' returned 3 letter winners, which included Chris Nelson, Tim Titus, and Andy Wisely.

The boys finished 5-5 in dual competition, along with a 3rd place finish at the city meet, a 4th place finish in conference, and a 6th place at districts. They were lead by senior Chris Nelson with an effort of 10:27, and sophomore Joel Hachey.

Jan and Jean Sedlacek jump with joy after winning the state title in Ames.

While preparing for state, swimmers Lori McDowell, Kathi VanCleve, and Sandy Miller take a deserved rest following a strenuous practice.

Girls' Swimming Cheerleaders: Cathy Johnson, Linda Still, Val Slocum, Kathy Schnell.

Team attitude shows in pool

When the J-Hawk girls' swim team reported for its first practice, the pool area was filled with optimism. The girls were ready for a great and winning season.

Led by senior co-captains Lori McDowell and Ann Cole, the girls' swim team, consisting of only twenty-four members, started their season on somewhat of a low note. Unfortunately, the girls were not winning as many meets as they had expected, but like all winners, they were determined to keep trying.

When the girls' swim season came to an end, the team was ranked sixth in the Valley. Though not the best record for the J-Hawk girls, there were some records and individual accomplishments that did come about in the season.

Among these accomplishments were senior Ann Cole's record breaking dives, in which she scored 257.95 for six dives, and junior Nancy Carlstedt's trip to state in three events.

Boys' become champs by surpassing Wash

State Champs! On Saturday, November 1, the boys' gymnastics team experienced a close call as they narrowly captured the 1980 state gymnastics crown over cross town rival Washington. After all, it was a mere .06 of a point that gave them the win as they scored 121.59 over the Warriors 121.53.

Senior Mike Johnson turned in a 4th place finish in the all-around competition with a score of 41.65 and he had his best finish in the side horse where he finished 3rd with a 7.05 score.

Chuck Tomasek, senior, predicted before the season started, "There is no doubt in my mind we'll take state this year." That they did!

Meanwhile, four-year senior gymnast Tina Tibben broke school records in every event this season. Tina pointed out that her high point of her gymnastics career here at Jeff was, "setting the school record in the all-around—35.00." Coach Charlotte Regenold revealed, "It was really a treat to work with Tina and watch her progress."

Coach Regenold said that there were good results from the veterans in the '81 season and she emphasized that the team as a whole was vastly improved by season's end. "There is a solid basis for next year."

All in all, both gymnastics teams fared well this year.

Johnson leads varsity squad

The 1981 boys' state wrestling tournament became a dream come true for senior Mike Johnson as he pinned his opponent 1:56 into the final match making him the 155 pound state champion, and helping the team to take a seventh place finish.

Mike was not the only state finisher for the J-Hawks, however, as seniors Tom Fye captured a fifth place finish and Jeff Roman finished fourth.

The varsity boys finished the season sporting a 6-6 dual meet record. Head coach Tim Fowler was very happy with the way the boys wrestled this year, but felt their dual meet record could have been better.

All-conference honors were given to nine team members. Chris Chicchelly (119), Dean Miller (126), and Mike Johnson (155), received first team honors. Jeff Roman (167) and Joe Hill (heavyweight), made second team all-conference and honorable mentions went to Darren Rizzio (98), Chris Visek (112), Mark Potter (132), and Tom Fye (super heavyweight).

Mat maids and managers were also a very important part of this year's wrestling squad.

Mary Jo Ellis, Kathy Brammer, Rhonda Overturf, Laura Stourac, Pam Jones, Julie Eager, Chris Miller, and Toni Gearhart served as mat maids while Jean Sedlacek and Lori Florence were managers.

"J-Hawks are Winners" can describe the effort brought about by this year's sophomore wrestling squad. Coached by Mr. Mike Gallagher, the team finished with a dual meet record of 4 wins and 7 losses. Looking considerably tough in tournaments, the team had a second place finish at South East Polk and a third place finish at the Prairie Invitational.

Sophomore wrestler Mike Potter, who wrestled at 119 pounds throughout the season, had a winning season with 17 wins and 4 losses.

Mike described his outlook of next year's team. "I think next year we will be a lot tougher because of the experience that some sophomores had on the varsity squad."

John Strausser proudly raises his arm after a challenging match.

Varsity squad is impressive

New records were set and old ones repeated by the girls' basketball squad.

The team matched last year's record number of wins, posting a 17-5 season. The squad also repeated the '79-80 squad's performance by taking second place in the MVC. For the first time, the squad beat crosstown rival Kennedy twice in one season. The girls' impressive season ended when they lost to Benton at sectionals.

The team was led by senior guards Linda Fowler and Jan Sedlacek, and junior guards Lynne Forrest, Deb Gaskill, and sophomore Sonya Feaker. High scorer, senior Tina Steffen, helped senior forwards Sue Overmann and Sandy Munson and sophomore forward Tracy Langhurst score the points needed to win.

Linda Fowler commented that team members got along well, and that they played an exciting season. Linda was glad that the team won the Metro tournament.

After lots of hard work and discipline, the girls' sophomore basketball squad posted a 5-11 season. Although the team did not cap any major upsets they did improve throughout the season.

The girls concentrated most on developing the basic fundamentals of the game. "I feel the girls were largely handicapped by a poor turnout of juniors and seniors in the forward position," expressed coach Ron Tower. "This forced some valuable sophomores to assist the varsity team which in turn gave the sophomores a somewhat unexperienced group of players." By working together the girls became a very close knit squad.

Varsity squad shows talents

Coming off a 15-5 record of last year and returning four varsity letter winners, the boys' basketball season looked as though it would be a promising one.

Although the season had its bright spots, the squad suffered a roller coaster season. Being 2-2 following the first four games of the season, the team won four straight, lost four straight, then won three more, then dropped their last three regular games for a 9-9 season.

The J-Hawks four returning letter winners were seniors Jeff High, John Forrest, Marck Lee, and Tim Minard. The other starting position was filled by senior Jeff King. Seniors Jan Witting and Jeff Levy, and juniors Dave Stevens and Nick Homan, also helped out the varsity squad.

"Our victory against Wahlert at Dubuque and our win at the Five Seasons Center against Washington were definitely two of the highest points of the season," stated head coach Glenn Smith. He added, "They were a great bunch of guys to work with."

Sophs post 5-9 in Valley

When the sophomore basketball season started back in November, head coach Joe Kenney greeted 31 members, and when the season ended, 28 still remained. This fact, along with individual improvement, was what Coach Kenney felt were the highlights of the long season.

The sophomores finished with an overall record of 6-12 and a 5-9 record in the Mississippi Valley Conference.

Two of the team leaders included Dave Edwards, who led the team in rebounds and total points and also in steals. Steve Wise led the sophs in the assist department.

Upperclassmen lead boys' swimming team

Hard work and determination were all part of the 1981 boys' swim team. Practices were held twice each day, once at 6:30 a.m. and then again at 3 p.m.

Finishing the season with a record of 3-6, Coach Jim Taylor stated, "This was one of the best groups of young men that I have ever worked with."

Even though there were no school records set, which was a first in eight years, it was still a "good year."

The free style relay along with Brandon Elvidge, junior, represented Jefferson at the boys' state swim meet, where Elvidge placed 23rd in the 500 swim event.

With excellent upperclassmen leadership, the tankers placed 4th in the conference and 4th in the district meet. The sophomore team finished 3rd in conference competition.

"I feel the swim team has a good future in store," commented Mr. Taylor.

So, with a few victories under their belt, the 1981 tanker squad is looking forward to another successful season.

It goes to show that a little hard work and determination really does pay off; just like it has for these hard working Jefferson tankers of 1981, concluded Coach Taylor.

Tennis team swings into a good season

Members of the girls' tennis team started out the year very seriously in hopes of having a successful season. There was twice as much court space with the addition of the six new courts built this year. Assistant coach Sandee Walton added a new aspect to the practices which consisted of a little running, stretching, and jumping rope.

More was expected from the girls by both the coaches and from the girls themselves. This determination was what helped to make a super season.

The team ended the season with an 8-2 record, taking second in conference. It was the first time the Jef-erson girls had finished better than fourth place; the first time they ever beat Washington in a dual meet.

This improvement was due much to the girls who took advantage of the off season months to practice on their own. It was also due to Coach Jim Lockett who received the honor of Coach of the Year. He, along with the girls, gave a lot of time and effort to the team.

Returning letter winners were senior Terri Ellertson; junior Lisa Kaschmitter, Joy Ament, and Chrys Rinderknecht; and sophomores Renee Kern and Brenda Guyer, who filled in the number 2 and 6 positions.

Tennis squad volleys for a winning season

Four returning lettermen paced the 1981 boys' tennis team to a 6-6 season. They were led by: John Stillions, junior; and Steve Jorgensen, Phil Graham, and Dan Haight, seniors. The remainder of the varsity team consisted of senior Luis Hoyos and sophomore Chris Leonard, though senior Mike Gauger played at the number 5 spot frequently.

The team began the year with an 8-1 victory over Dubuque Wahlert and had 9-0 victories over Mt. Vernon, Waterloo Columbus, and Cedar Falls in mid-season. They ended the year with 7-2 wins over Linn Mar and Iowa City West.

At the MVC meet, senior Steve Jorgensen reached the finals of the number 2 singles only to lose out to Wash's Spencer Eells. Stillions a junior, made it to the semi-finals at number 1 singles, also losing to a Warrior—Jim Koontz. Stillions fared better at the district meet where he got second place to Koontz, the eventual state runner up. At state, Stillions took 7th place, completing his second season as the top man on the Jeff team.

Both golf squads have much improved seasons

The 1981 spring golf squads mixed experience and youth to form one of the most formidable golfing campaigns in J-Hawk history.

The girls' team, under the direction of Coach Ron Tower, was led by three seniors, Lori Florence, Teri Rust, and Cindy Eggers; with help from sophomores Annette Beck and Mary Cole. The team finished fourth in the MVC, which is the best ever, and tied for third in the Metro meet, which is the second best ever. Individually, Lori Florence set two school records and missed the state meet by placing fourth at the sectional meet.

Coached by Glenn Smith, the boys were led by seniors Dean Sass and Tim Minard with help from juniors Jim Weiss, Gary Logan, and Jeff Coder. With a good dual meet record (6-1-1), the tournament season was a case of "close but not enough." In the Metro meet the team finished third by three shots, in the MVC the team finished third by six shots, and as a team missed qualifying for state by four shots. Although the team missed qualifying for state, Dean Sass shot a 1 under par 70 at the district meet to earn a trip to the state meet.

Girls do best ever at state

The Jefferson girls' track team had a year of firsts in 1981. Not only did the team turn in many first places but for the first time in Jefferson history in any sport the team went undefeated in varsity action.

The 26-member team opened the season with a win. For the first time ever the girls captured the indoor state title to send an optimistic team outdoors for the season ahead.

Hard practices paid off as the girls won every meet they ran in including the Co-ed Relays where they teamed with the boys for a first place finish over Kennedy, another first in J-Hawk track history.

The winning trend did not end, however, as two more firsts were accomplished in varsity competition. The girls captured both the MVC and district titles, defeating defending champion Kennedy both times.

"I think it's interesting that everyone who went up to state placed in an event; that's never happened before," noted head coach Larry Nolting.

The boys' track team opened with a good start. During the indoor season, the varsity squad ran away with the Metro boys' track title. They also put forces together and won the Wartburg Indoor Invitational.

The success of the indoor season was followed by various highlights during the regular outdoor season.

One of the biggest highlights of the 1981 season would have to be the team's accomplishments at the Drake Relays. The foursome of Dave Stevens, Mike Pulkrab, Alan Schmitz, and Larry Lehman won the 4X200 meter relay, in a time of 1:28.8, and set a new school record. Pole vaulter Chuck Tomasek took third by clearing 13 feet 6 inches.

During the MVC meet, Chuck vaulted 14 feet 7 inches, setting a new school and MVC record.

The state meet was also a memorable event for members of the track team. The 4X100 meter relay placed third in a time of :43.02. Tomasek placed second in the pole vault.

Throughout the season the team only lost one dual meet, but better yet, the J.V. and sophomore teams went undefeated. The sophomores were also Metro champs.

Head coach Ron Schirm felt there was outstanding senior leadership displayed throughout this past season.

Squad gains experience

Sophomores Jennifer Peters and Tracy Langhurst watch from the dug out, waiting for their turn at bat.

Warming up before the inning starts, sophomore Kathy Kelsey waits her turn.

Coming into the season with eight returning letterwinners, the girls' softball team had a fine tradition to uphold of winning games.

The returning letterwinners included co-captain Jan Sedlacek and Tammy Seltrecht, Amy Monk, and Tina Steffen. Also, junior Sally Matejcek, and sophomores Sonya Feaker, Jennifer Peters, and Kathy Kelsey returned to the line-up.

This year, in addition to last year's new diamond, lights, scoreboard, and dugouts, a press box, concession stand, and storage area were all added. The J-Hawks hosted three of their own tournaments plus the Metro Tournament. In addition, they played in the Jack North Tournament, the Clear Creek Tournament, and the Urbandale Classic annual event.

Team displays talent

When the season began back in the early spring, things looked very optimistic for the boys' baseball team. Only three seniors returned from last year's squad that finished 17-18.

After a slow start, with the J-Hawks losing their first four ball games, things began to turn around. A win over Prairie, 14-4, and a third place finish in the Metro tournament put the J-Hawks back on the right track.

With 18 players starting the season, only three returned as letterwinners. They were seniors Scott Ripperton, Reid Boyer, and Kurt Gustafson.

Starting the third year as head coach, Joe Kenney felt that the team lacked experience but came through in its desire to play ball. "The team lost its good attitude when we lost our four games but after the victory over Prairie the attitudes of the players really turned around."

Some of the team goals at the outset of the season were to win the Mississippi Valley Conference, to win the districts, and to do well in the state finals.

Senior letterman Scott Ripperton felt that if the team played together, and kept hustling like they did after the victory over Prairie, the season would go smoothly.

The team's record for the spring was even at 6-6.

Junior Craig Astor takes a powerful cut in an attempt to improve his batting average.

Athletes Work Hard to Reach Their Goals

Each day as 3 o'clock approaches, many students miraculously change into athletes. In the fall, there is football and volleyball for sportsmen to participate in. As the weather changes, so does the sport. Basketball always gives athletes a chance to show their ability, as does wrestling. With the advent of spring, sports like baseball and track give athletes a chance to express their talents.

While the athletes are performing, fans show support by singing the fight song: "Fight J-Hawks fight, we raise our colors blue and white. Fight J-Hawks fight, and show the foe our strength and might. RAH! RAH! RAH! Win J-Hawks win, we stand and cheer you on your way. Fight team fight! Win team win! For Jefferson we shout hurray! Jefferson J-Hawks! Fight, fight!"

Performing Arts

Many changes were made this year when Mr. Tom Lippert took over the duties as director for the vocal music department and West Side Delegation. Sporting new uniforms, the band received a division I rating in tough state competition. Spring trips were taken by the band to St. Louis, the orchestra to New York, and the concert choir to Kansas City. In drama the plays "You Can't Take it With You" and "Romeo and Juliet" were presented and the final performance of the year was the musical, "Carnival."

Band receives state ranking

New band uniforms made their debut this fall for the marching band season. The new uniforms were accompanied by new pom pon uniforms and new flags for the auxiliary.

The season got off to a great start at the state marching band contest held in Oelwein. The band, with drum majors Dan Davis and Joleen Hansel, worked to earn a division one rating. Other performances the band participated in included the YMCA dedication, band day at UNI, a rally for George Bush, and the halftime performances at all home games.

The J-Hawk pep band rallied enthusiasm at all pep assemblies and pom pon girls often performed to some of the tunes they played. The girls also planned their routines to popular music which they performed at pep assemblies.

The traditional Band O Rama marked the end of a successful marching and pep band season. It featured sophomore strippers, various skits, flag routines, pom pon routines, pep band music, and general fun. This event provided the audience with entertainment.

No clowning around involved with band

With long hours of hard work and dedication, the Concert Band had a very successful and productive year. They sported a new look with long dresses for the girls and new tuxedos for the guys.

The band carnival, their annual fund raiser, was combined with a chili dinner to make a night worth preparing for as well as attending. Through fund raisers, the band raised some $7,000 to finance a year end trip to Chicago.

At the State Music Contest, Concert Band received a Division I rating. They also competed in the Eastern Iowa Band Festival, where senior Danielle Shaw represented them as their queen.

Orchestra, Jazz Band end another successful year

This year's 39 member orchestra performed in twelve concerts and held its orchestra festival May 19.

Under the guidance of Mr. John Hoffman, the group played three concerts while on the ten day New York—Washington, D.C. trip during spring vacation.

Mr. Hoffman admitted, "We will be losing talent at the end of this year, but we are also looking forward to more talent next year. Hopefully, the group will grow."

Mr. Earle Dickinson, jazz band director, stated, "This year we were a young group. The trumpet section consisted of all sophomores. We, too, are looking forward to future years."

The 22 member jazz band played many concerts, performed in contests, and also played at the junior high schools for the students. The highlights for this group were playing at the Jefferson band carnival and also going on the New York trip along with the members of the orchestra.

Show pleases crowd

Some 16 seniors, 12 juniors, and 7 sophomores made up this year's West Side Delegation. The singers, band, and technicians had a very successful year under first year director Mr. Tom Lippert and veteran choreographer Mr. Robert Geuder.

"West Side allows me to have more confidence in myself—in relating to other people. I like being associated with the seniors and juniors—I don't feel so isolated," stated sophomore Jennifer Peters.

The group, which appeared at the Dollars for Scholars Pops Concert at the Paramount Theatre, debuted at its coming out concert on February 14 and had numerous other appearances throughout the year. The West Side program this year featured a good variety of music and was highlighted by a 50's medley.

Singers perform various numbers

The fire's warmth draws members around it during the choir's annual retreat in September.

On their Kansas City trip, members still had time for laughs after an exciting day at Worlds of Fun.

The concert choir entered a new year with a new choir director, Mr. Tom Lippert. The change in command came about when veteran choir director Allen Koepke decided to assume the duties of musical director at Kirkwood Community College.

The annual retreat came in September, and the choir became closer friends with everyone, including Mr. Lippert. "It seemed that from the first day we all met Mr. Lippert, we knew right then he had everything under control," noted Rick Isard, choir member.

As the days passed by, and the choir went on tour to Kansas City, the feeling of friendship was strengthened among members.

With sounds nearly perfected, the choir took its chances at state contest, where they received a number one rating. As the group's dreams started to materialize right beneath its feet, and the judges posted the rating on the wall, you could hear a silent scream of joy, for their quest for a number one rating was finally a reality.

With the spring musical "Carnival" coming up fast, the cast was very tired from those late night practices that lasted until midnight.

As the production went on, however, the cast felt good about what they were doing and what this all meant to their new director.

Under new director choirs show talent

Mixed Chorus decided not to present its annual variety show this year, but they did feature their musical talents at their fall, winter, and spring concerts in the auditorium.

Mr. Lippert, who directed the Old Gold Singers at the University of Iowa, took over the vocal music job that Mr. Koepke held for 13 years. Mr. Lippert stated, "It's very hard to follow such a fine director as Mr. Koepke."

Besides directing the Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus, he also directed the Hilltop Singers which gave him a busy schedule throughout the day.

Mr. Lippert felt the Hilltop Singers made steady progress and that they sang with more confidence and enthusiasm than they did at the beginning of the year when the group was being organized.

Thespians put in many hours

Not many people are willing to put in one hundred hours of work and dedication into a play or production for a slight mention in the program or 5.0 credit hours by taking the stage craft class. Students who do this can become Thespians. Yes, Thespian Troupe 561 members put in at least 10 hours each show on the set, on a crew, or as an actor or actress. The teacher in charge of set construction is Mr. John Wojtowicz.

Mr. Robert Geuder, International Thespian President, also offered support and instruction as the troupe's leader. The Thespians were headed by troupe senior Jim Baker. "I acquired 1,600 hours by working on several productions," stated Jim. The Thespians were divided into crews led by crew heads. In these crews they worked on the set to the play and without them they would not have gone on, noted Jim. "The theatrical department at Jefferson is always good, and owes much of its success to the hardworking Thespian Troupe 561."

Witch enjoys kids

Once again the Children's Theatre worked its magic on hundreds of children as they performed for this year's production the tale of "Hansel and Gretel."

Appearances were made by Playtime Poppy, who summarized the story for the children, and Captain Gardner, who gave the children a few safety tips before the play began.

The kids were so receptive that they made my job a lot easier," commented Delise Miskimen (Playtime Poppy).

Hansel (Cal Edgeton) and Gretel (Joanne Cook) are left in the woods

by their step mother (Karen Moss). They stumble on to a gingerbread house occupied by the ugly old witch (Theresa Meeks), who tries to bake and eat them. When their father (Scott Koepke) looks for the children, he finds them, for it is the witch who has been baked instead.

Many children and adults attended this annual event. It consisted of eight performances held in early February. A fee was charged, but the children got to meet the cast afterwards.

Mr. Robert Geuder, the director of the show, has helped to create many fantasies over the years. Thanks to him the Children's Theatre has had many successful years.

"It's hard work, but the little children's smiles make it all worth while!" beamed Mr. Geuder.

romantic story

Mercutio (Pat Kelly) and Benvolio (Jim Keller) teasingly conclude that their cousin Romeo is with a woman.

This year's winter play was the famous Shakespearian tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet." The 33-cast members had exactly one month to prepare for the performances given in the auditorium at 8 p.m. on March 12, 13, and 14. Approximately 1,200 people attended, including a morning production for Taft freshmen. The crew, which consisted of 11 hard working members, also received help with costumes from Mrs. Colbeck, Mrs. Lockett, and Mrs. Jones.

An Iowa student, David Ulch, aided Mr. Wojtowicz with the set design during the four week construction period.

The two young lovers, Romeo and Juliet, met at the Capulet's party, only to be torn apart by their family and friends.

Soon after, they eloped, and Romeo was banished for the death of Juliet's cousin, Tybalt, who had slain Romeo's best friend, Mercutio.

A sleeping potion saves Juliet from marrying the County Paris. When Romeo hears of her death he goes to her monument and kills himself. Juliet awakens and discovers her husband dead. She draws his dagger and ends her life.

"It's a play I've always wanted to do," revealed director Robert Geuder.

Senior Scott Koepke (Paul) is filled with mixed emotions upon kissing his love, Lili.

Injuries jinx cast but show continues

While most people were outside enjoying the warm spring weather, the Thespians, Orchestra, and Concert Choir members were indoors preparing for Carnival, the 1981 annual spring musical.

Under Mr. Robert Geuder's direction, the show was led by senior Scott Koepke and junior Chris Kirkpatrick, as Paul and Lili, and seniors Jim Keller and Maribeth Osmanski, as Marco the Magnificent and the incomparable Rosalie.

The dance troupe, with Miss Kathleen McNamara's choreography, and the carni-folk added a special touch to the show.

Mr. Tom Lippert, the choir director, conducted the orchestra.

Credit must also be given to Mr. John Wojtowicz and those who worked behind the scenes.

As Carnival closed and everyone breathed a sigh of relief, the director, cast, and crew members could be proud of maintaining the Jefferson Theatre's high standard of excellence during the past 24 year.

Senior Phil Graham (Jacquot) dreams of the carnival as he plays his concertina.

Studies

It takes hard work to be a winner, and when it comes to academics, J-Hawks gave it their all. Many students set goals for themselves, such as obtaining a 4.0 or being inducted into the National Honor Society. Passing classes was a common goal. No matter what goal was set, J-Hawks went at it with a winning attitude. Sometimes the pressures of registration, the winter blues, or boring classes set in, but for the most part J-Hawks took it all in stride. After all, a winner can handle anything.

New additions show update in building

Once upon a time, there sat a large school on a hill named Jefferson. This great school was loved by all TRUE J-Hawks, but the fact remained that some changes needed to be made to keep up with the times.

When Jefferson students returned that fall, they found the new decade had brought many changes! Six new tennis courts were welcome additions. After a bit of exercise on the courts, one could purchase a variety of munchies from the four vending machines in the main lobby. The new pool roof was also completed over the summer. "It's nice to have a roof again. I was sorry to see the windows cemented up, it was kind of neat watching the sun rise through them every morning at practice," said Coach Taylor.

Three times this school year all students were required to attend registration in the gym. As all the tables were spread out before time, a big task lay ahead.

Chaos was conquered as classes were chosen that met requirements. For seniors, American Government headed the list. Sophomores chose Language Arts 10 and American Studies classes.

The wide range of electives offered pleased almost everyone. Juniors and seniors were interested in foods, industrial arts, and other creative classes. For sophomores with a driver's permit, driver education was a real favorite.

Self-scheduling registration is a practice now common to J-Hawks. Mr. Dave Hoyt, associate principal, commented, "Individual scheduling is good for three main reasons. First, it lets the student choose the teacher for a certain class. Secondly, it helps the student coordinate a schedule to fit in the activities he is involved in. Lastly, it saves time."

As improvements are continually made in registration, the day is no longer such a chore.

Taking the necessary classes to graduate, senior Jim Keller makes a copy of his schedule during registration.

Three times a year

Looking on, senior Lesa Williams waits to see what the score of her teammate is in bowling class.

Senior Lori McDowell shows her enthusiasm as she rests between laps during her swimming class.

Showing his bowling ability, senior Tim Minard is up for a strike.

Working for 202.5

While the elective classes provide a variety of offerings, students must earn 107.5 credit hours in required classes to meet a total of 202.5 credit hours needed for graduation.

Some 30 hours in English Language Arts are required. Also 15 hours in mathematics and science must be completed. Students must take 22.5 hours in physical education, which is required by state law.

For seniors, 22.5 credit hours in social studies are required, but for sophomores and juniors it has been increased to 25 credit hours.

"The school board has decided that students need a better background in social studies for future plans," revealed Mr. Joe Keeling, counselor.

For upcoming J-Hawks more changes will be made in required classes to insure and prepare them for a better future.

—Deb Ficken and Denys Long

Senior Margaret Hoy proofreads her assignment for errors as part of the training she receives to become a better writer.

Mark Duffy reads an assignment in a required tenth grade Language Arts class which will help him earn the necessary credits.

A required driver's course is taken by students who want to obtain a license and possible reduced insurance payments.

Electives provide choice

Required classes and electives seem to be in good balance at Jefferson. After the required classes are filled there is time to concentrate on the more popular subjects.

Industrial arts, home economics, and art are just a few.

Auto mechanics, wood tech, architectural drafting, and electronics are a few of the many industrial arts classes offered, so one may get a closer look at a special interest field.

"Architctual drafting has helped me so that if I decide to continue it in college I have a good start," revealed senior Steve Dekko.

Cooking, food, and child development help students to cope with the adult life.

Jefferson's halls are filled with designs of artistic value from the students taking drawing, sculpture, painting, and ceramics.

Vocational courses like O.E., T & I, D.P., and D.E. are all work experience programs. They enable students to gain experience through on-the-job training. They also receive five credits per term.

Classes relating to music and foreign language are also offered.

—Scott McEowen and Sue Vanek

Concert Choir is a class which requires a lot of practice as junior Lynnette Martin and seniors Ann Cole and Doug Tompkins demonstrate.

Senior Laura Stourac finds an adding machine helpful to calculate answers during adding machines and calculators class.

Correctly pinning the pattern is an important step in the construction of a garment, as senior Yvette Berg demonstrates.

Decorating the gym in preparation for the Homecoming queen candidates assembly is senior Deb Ficken's job as a member of Student Council.

Senior Scott Fiala demonstrates his technical ability on the Varsity machine in Graphic Communications I, an Industrial Arts elective.

Seniors Paul Svoboda, Nancy Jennings, and Tim Garner conduct an experiment in Mr. Robert Becker's Advanced Biology elective class.

Helping students alleviate schedule conflicts during winter registration is an important part of Mrs. Jean Cross' job as a counselor.

Students anxiously gather around the counselors' table at winter term registration, waiting for help from their counselor, Mr. Joe Keeling.

Electives add new interests

Electives add a little variety to every student's day. They give students a chance to break the monotony of such classes as math, science, and language arts. Electives also give the student a chance to show their creativity and talent in such fields as art, music, and industrial arts.

For the art enthusiast, such classes as drawing and ceramics are offered. For the musically inclined students, their talent can be developed through mixed chorus, concert choir, orchestra, or band. For developing skills in woodworking, metals and many others, the industrial arts wing of Jefferson offers a wide variety of classes.

As students have found, elective classes provide the needed "vacation" from those required by all for graduation. As junior Julie Schreder added, "I think electives are a good idea because they give us a chance to take the classes that we are really interested in."

—Lori Nelson

Making a final copy of their winter term schedule before checking out of the gym are seniors Pat Kelly and Don Anderson.

Seniors Scott Donels and Edward Roerich test their knowledge of car repairs by first checking under the hood in Mr. Maney's Auto Engines class.

Each winter, Mr. Wally Horn takes time off from his teaching assignment to represent the 28th district in the state legislature at Des Moines.

Director Tom Lippert puts in many early morning hours preparing the choir for its winter concert.

Assistant volleyball coach, Mr. Jim Cox, evaluates his team's performance as he watches the girls compete in district action.

Mr. Gordon Maney, Jefferson's answer to Mr. Good Wrench, educates and assists students in the fine art of auto repairs.

With stop watch in hand, Coach Bob Noonan clocks the times of his boys' cross country team in hopes of lowering their times.

Teachers stay after classes

For many students the school day ends at 2 p.m., but for much of the faculty the school day is only partially over.

Many of the faculty members have other responsibilities outside of the classroom, providing them with a busy school day schedule.

First there are the after school practices for the coaches and then attending the events themselves. At the same time there are rehearsals for the music and fine arts instructors followed by the big productions.

Not all of the teachers are coaches or instructors, but they too stay after school to help out a student in need.

An involved teacher here at Jefferson is Mr. Wally Horn. Mr. Horn not only assists with classes, but he also represents the twenty-eighth district in the Iowa State Legislature.

Mr. Horn has been teaching for 21 years and has served as a legislator the last 8 years. He enjoys working both jobs, he revealed.

A teacher puts more into a day than most students realize. So whether they are coaches, instructors, or even state legislators, a teacher is a leader inside and out of the classroom.

Underclassmen

As the year went by the sophomores were able to walk through the halls without worry and look forward to the end of the year when they would no longer be sophomores. Once again the sophomore football team looked tough as it earned the Mississippi Valley Conference title. For the juniors the year went by quickly and they began to realize they would soon be the leaders of the school. They knew they must carry with them into a new school year the winning J-Hawk spirit which was so evident this year.

—Jan Sedlacek

Sophs choose officers

Feeling excited, nervous, or being a little scared were some of the feelings many sophomores experienced as the new school year rolled around in late August.

As the school year progressed, many of these individuals became involved in a variety of school activities. With the help of class president Lonnie Zingula, the class of 1983 experienced the largest turnout of the three senates.

Sports have also proven to be successful. The football team captured the sophomore MVC title, and the volleyball team finished with an impressive second place.

Many outstanding athletes have come fourth to help support their team's success. To name a few, Joel Hachey in cross country, Nancy Carlstedt in swimming, and Tony Chicchelly in wrestling.

All in all, the class of '83 is another example of the theme, "J-Hawks are Winners."

Two sophs tell experiences

Most high school students have the ambition to become pro football players, doctors, or lawyers, but sophomore Matt Becker is unlike most high school students. Matt's ambition is to become a magician.

So far Matt has performed underwater and straight jacket escapes. Matt was chained and hand cuffed, and thrown into a tank of water, from which it took him 45 seconds to surface safely. Matt has also escaped from a straight jacket in less than 23 seconds.

Most of Matt's magic is done with cards, but he also likes working with coins. When working with cards and coins, Matt specializes in close-up magic.

Matt learns most of his magic from books. Just reading books doesn't make a good magician, so he practices an average of five hours a day.

With a lot of practice, maybe someday Matt Becker will be the next Houdini.

Almost everyone has a dream of going to far away places and meeting people of different cultures. For sophomore Debbie Brooks, this dream came true last summer when she visited Mexico for five weeks.

Debbie started taking Spanish in eighth grade. Her interest was so great that she worked hard to make the $1,200 that was needed for the trip.

She reported that Mexico is very modern and that people are wonderful. The highlight of her trip was spending four weeks with a Mexican family. "They went out of their way to make my trip exciting!" She has no regrets in going and stated that if anyone ever has a chance to do some traveling, by all means do it!

When asked if she wanted to visit Europe, Debbie said, "Not in the near future, right now Mexico is the place for me!"

'Sports are fun'

Sophomore Sonya Feaker gained a lot of experience on the varsity softball squad this past year. She has played on the varsity softball team since her freshman year. Sonya has also seen action on the volleyball and basketball varsity teams as well.

Sonya enjoys playing volleyball the most out of the three sports in which she has participated. "Everyone on the team got along great together. I really think it's a lot of fun," she explained.

The YWCA is where Sonya got started in sports. Since then she has participated in many junior high and city teams, including one softball team which took fourth in state. "It was my first time I'd ever been out of Cedar Rapids to participate in any sport," she revealed.

When asked about her plans after high school, she replied, "I haven't really decided yet, but I do want to keep active in sports."

Soph is active

Steve Hanisch knew just how to start his sophomore year off on the right foot. As a sophomore he is actively involved in the fine arts wing at Jefferson. Not only does he have a part in the winter play, but he is also a member of the Mixed Chorus. Unlike many members, Steve has received recognition for his singing ability. In trying out for a spot at the All-State Music Festival, he was selected out of approximately one hundred basses to sing in the chorus.

"Steve is one of the most talented sophomores I have ever seen. He is a real hard worker and is interested in learning as much as he can," stated Mr. Tom Lippert, vocal music director. Steve feels All-State was a great honor for him. "It was really great," he replied.

Steve is also enjoying his first year in West Side Delegation. "I have wanted to be in West Side since I was in 7th grade. No one could have stopped me from trying out," he commented. Steve hopes to be a three year member of West Side and also a three time All-Stater. To what does he owe the pleasure of his success at Jeff? "Having an older brother and sister really paved the way for me."

Steve has many things going for him and as he stated, "As each year goes by, music looks better and better!"

Juniors build friends

When the school doors opened again in August, most juniors walked in with a feeling of confidence. They were no longer the scared sophomores of last year. In fact, most juniors felt they were well on their way to becoming a "big" senior.

Even though it's easy to get lost in a class of 528, many juniors seemed to shine. Dean Miller and Sally Matejcek contributed a lot to wrestling and volleyball, while Dan Davis and Joleen Hansel led the marching band to a division I rating in state competition. Juniors could also be seen attending various activities and games throughout the year to lend their support and spirit.

As for junior involvement in money raising projects this year, Junior Senate president Surria Igram stated, "I think we're becoming more successful because the members are more concerned and are willing to put in their time and effort to make our senior year a success."

At the Band O'Rama festival at the football season's end, band members Tracy Miller, Lori Sheets, Kim Werning, and Christy Scheidt entertain the audience.

Two like music

Dancing, singing, and entertaining play an important role in some students' lives at Jefferson. Two such students are juniors Kurt Miskimen and Chris Kirkpatrick.

Kurt is a musical magican in his own way. He has participated in many fine arts programs during his two years here at Jefferson. So far Kurt has participated in West Side Delegation, the Mixed Chorus variety show, Concert Choir, and would like to appear in an educational dance theatre production.

Kurt has been in many plays such as "The Adventures of Harlequin", "Stage Door", and he would like to be in the spring musical.

Chris has been involved in music for several years and enjoys singing very much. She has been active in West Side Delegation for two years and was in Mixed Chorus.

Currently she is in her first year of Concert Choir as a soprano. Because of her musical talent, Chris was selected to sing in the spring musical, "OKLAHOMA", last year.

Two students enjoy animals

For the past ten years John Mulherin and the rest of his family have operated the Sunnybrook Kennels located 4½ miles west of Cedar Rapids. They mainly take care of pets (mostly dogs) for people who leave on vacation and don't have a place to keep them.

The Mulherins' board cats and on occasions have boarded skunks, guinea pigs, and ferrets.

John helps his Mom out with running the place but for the most part he said, "Even though I do enjoy the dogs I don't spend as much time with them as I'd like." John has also bred and raised many rare breeds of dogs including a Schippercke, which he sold for a $1,000. This breed of dog resembles a miniature black Husky.

For John's family, breeding, raising, and taking care of dogs, while also keeping up a farm and a household, has been a way of life since he was six-years-old. In addition, John enjoys participating in gymnastics.

Bryn Butler leads a very active life. Besides participating in both volleyball and cheerleading, Bryn finds time to show horses with her family.

During the spring months one can find her riding, training, and caring for the Butler's two yearlings, a gelding, and a mare. "A lot of care and understanding is needed with all animals, and horses are no exception," Bryn explained. Traveling to all sorts of places, Bryn claims to have met many people. "It's fun being outdoors and experiencing the glamour of owning and showing horses," Bryn smiled. "It's something few people ever get to do." Bryn herself has won awards many times at the All-Iowa Fair.

Another horse related field which Bryn participates in is horse judging. Bryn and other members of her 4H judging team were honored as the top state team last year. Also as a member of the Iowa Junior Quarter Horse Judging Team, Bryn has traveled as far away as Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Boy wins titles

While most guys lift weights to build muscles, junior Larry Garman lifts for competition. Competing in the events of bench press, dead lift, and squat, Larry placed second last year in a city wide meet in his weight class.

Larry has been competing since he was in the eighth grade and hopes to continue to lift. Concerning why he likes to lift, Larry commented, "I like the competition. It's good exercise, and you can see your physical progress."

Aside from lifting, Larry keeps in shape by eating right and taking vitamins. These factors, along with a good positive mental attitude, help him to steadily improve.

Whether at work or at play, juniors Gina Behrens, John Munn, and Tarie Hegland realize that a smile helps make it all worthwhile.

Seniors

The class of '81 entered Jefferson with varied reactions, but all looked forward to the day when they would be SENIORS. That year of being at the top is what they excelled at most. On the sports scene, J-Hawks took two state titles, and in each sport seniors led the way. In the fine arts area seniors played a major role, as well as set examples for underclassmen to follow. Creativeness was a significant trademark of the class of '81. They were undoubtedly a class of winners.

—Ann Scholl

SENIORS

The long awaited senior year no sooner arrived and it seemed like it was over. But the class of 1981 will have many highlights to remember as they look back on their final year.

Those who became state champs included the girls' cross country team, led by the Sedlacek sisters Jan and Jean; the boys' gymnastics team with help from Mike Johnson and Reid Boyer; the girls' indoor track team; as well as Mike Johnson in wrestling.

The revival of the Hat Gang by Scott Hill and Ray Peters added extra excitement at the athletic events.

The prom was held on May 2 at the IBEW Hall and on the morning of June 6 that final big step was taken . . . graduation!

Although that senior prestige is now gone, the class of 1981 will be remembered academically, athletically, and also as the year when "J-Hawks were Winners."

Seniors reveal career plans

The idea of having a writing assignment usually turns most students off. But senior Beth Adams has spent all of her spare time writing stories since the age of ten.

The stories Beth writes are all being published in a magazine called Fanzine. The magazine is composed mostly of science fiction novels. Beth said she has not received any awards yet, but she has gained recognition from all over the country.

Beth has written twelve stories ranging anywhere from 2 to 128 pages. In addition, she writes to over 100 pen pals all over the world. Beth plans to continue writing and hopes to turn professional some day.

The question of what to do after graduation is often a difficult one. However, that question is not hard for senior Pat Waybill to answer.

Since she was a sophomore, Pat has wanted to become a truck driver. When asked why, she replied, "I like to travel, and I can't think of a better way to see America."

Pat will have to enroll in five weeks of schooling. She plans to attend Kirkwood Community College this fall.

Pat would like to try driving for right now to see if she would like to make it a career. Chances are good that she will enjoy truck driving enough to continue it.

Dedicated managers help many teams succeed

Many students attend athletic events and nearly all of them notice the players. However, not many notice "the man behind the scenes" who helps the team in a different way. Jefferson's man behind the scene has been senior Tom Williams.

Tom has contributed to sports of all seasons. He was manager of the varsity football team, boys' varsity basketball squad, and the boys' varsity baseball team.

The work he does is very demanding. He is responsible for getting all equipment loaded for away games, seeing that the players get water and towels, and washing the uniforms after every game. He also has many responsibilities during each practice. "It's a lot of work, but I don't mind. I just try to help," stated Tom.

When asked what sport he liked best, he said he liked them all about the same. In all the many ways Tom helps out the athletes, they should be thankful to have this "man behind the scenes."

Being a three year manager for the girls' basketball team is an accomplishment that senior Annette Baker is proud to claim. Annette stated that she liked being a manager because she enjoys the excitement.

Some of the more important things Annette does include making sure all garment bags are packed and the name boards are correct for both teams.

Annette gets her self-satisfaction from helping out the team. This year the team gave her a plaque and last year she got her varsity letter. Annette revealed, "This job comes first before anything that I'm doing, like my job or any priorities at home."

Team member Deb Gaskill stated, "The team would be lost without a manager. I'm glad Annette is a part of our team." Most members agree that their team would be lost without someone like Annette.

Seniors enjoy prom memories

Spring fever and high spirits set the mood for the all-important senior prom.

Instead of the Sheraton Inn, which in year's past had hosted this annual event, the IBEW Hall was chosen as this year's location by the Senior Senate executive board.

Decorating committees were chosen in Senior Senate. Decorations included pastel colored silk flowers, lighted trees, and lilacs. Refreshments were also furnished for couples in attendance by the Senior Senate.

To supply the evening's music, Senior Senate came up with Akasha as the band. The theme song was "Memories". The band will be long remembered, since the general opinion expressed by the couples about the music was very good.

Couples could, as usual, have their pictures taken, and candid photos were snapped and made available to those who wished to purchase them for their scrapbooks.

Post-prom parties topped off the early morning hours of a most memorable event to cherish.

—Debbie Ficken

DATE: May 2, 81
TIME: 8:00
PLACE: IBEW
THEME: Memories
BAND: Akasha

A warm spring evening provided the setting for the annual senior prom, which was on May 2. As couples gathered in the IBEW Hall, memories of the thirteen years of attending school flashed back through the minds of soon-to-be graduates of 1981. This annual event will stand out in their memories for years to come.

Cool pastel colors accented the surroundings and the mood of the prom. Couples danced while the band Akasha played popular songs of 1981. Many photos, both posed and candid, were taken at the dance as a remembrance. Silk flower arrangements of pink, green, light blue, and yellow pastels served as table decorations and keepsakes.

"Our three years of work really paid off," commented Debbie Ficken, chairperson of the decorating committee.
—Patty Graham

The senior prom held Saturday, May 2, proved to be a very special evening as evident by the expressions on these individuals' faces: 'John Forrest, Cathy Johnson 'Jim Baker, Cindy Wray 'Kris Walker, Jeff King 'Mark Harris, Teresa Zalesky 'Mark DeHann, Peggy Colbeck 'Lori McDowell, Mike Hilton.

Graduation is a time all look forward to

For the class of 1981, graduation exercises were held on June 6 at the Five Seasons Center.

Led by marshals Dr. David Hoyt and Mr. Donald Hoepfner, the 482 member class marched in as the band played "Pomp and Circumstance".

Senior class president Ann Scholl opened the ceremony. Cindy Egger then led the audience in the singing of the national anthem.

Valedictorians Don Anderson, Ron Anderson, Teri Rust, and Scott VanderWiel each spoke about "Reaching our goals is not as important as what we become trying to reach them—a winner".

The featured speakers were J. Lauree Gerber, vice president of the Board of Education; Dr. Marvin Maire, superintendent of schools; and Dr. William C. Jacobson, principal.

After the benediction, the graduates filed out to "Days of Glory".

Many Teams Win Titles

1981 proved to be an exceptional year for the J-Hawks as they proved they were winners in many ways.

In sports, J-Hawks showed their strength as some of the past year's highlights included the girls' cross country team and the boys' gymnastics team both taking state championships in the fall.

Mike Johnson and Jean Sedlacek each earned an individual state title in their respective sports of wrestling and track.

Graduation will be both a time for celebration and a time for separation.

As many of us will separate and go our own ways in life, we will always be together in memories.

Taking off for the lake, skits at pep assemblies, and dancing at mixers are things that we will always look back on and laugh!

Being the top person on the pyramid at a basketball game, falling over a hurdle in front of the whole boys' track team, and getting janitorial duty for going to Wendy's instead of the lunch room are just a few more memories that will stay with us for ever.

FINALE

Past Memories

The motto of the 1980-81 school year was "J-Hawks are Winners", and through the course of the year this theme was exemplified over and over again.

In sports, J-Hawks proved they were winners by turning in one of the best sports years ever.

In other fields, 62 new members were inducted into the honor society and the music and drama departments put on many fine shows.

Thanks So Much

I have so many people to thank for their hard work and cooperation. Many thanks to the general staff members, who do so much and receive so little in return; to all the section editors, for their leadership; and to the photography staff, for their endless hours in the darkroom. Thank you doesn't seem to be the right words to say to Mr. Ron Smrha, for the knowledge he has given me. He is the definition of the word "advisor", and his dedication to students has yet to be matched. Jan Sedlacek, my co-worker and full-time friend, has been my driving force the entire year. I can never repay her for all she has done. I sincerely hope the 1981 Statesman will hold for you as many memories as it does for me.

Head Photographer

It has been both a pleasure and a new experience putting together this 1981 yearbook. Many people put in a lot of time cropping photos and writing copy blocks. They are to be thanked and I'd like to also give special recognition to all the section editors for all of their effort. To the photographers, special recognition must be given, for without them we could never produce a yearbook. And to Ann Scholl, my co-partner, thanks for all the hard work and putting up with me. And a very special thanks to Mr. Smrha, without him we would never have one of the best yearbooks in the Midwest. He taught me a lot this year and thanks doesn't seem to be enough but I thank him very much.
