Snow means fun

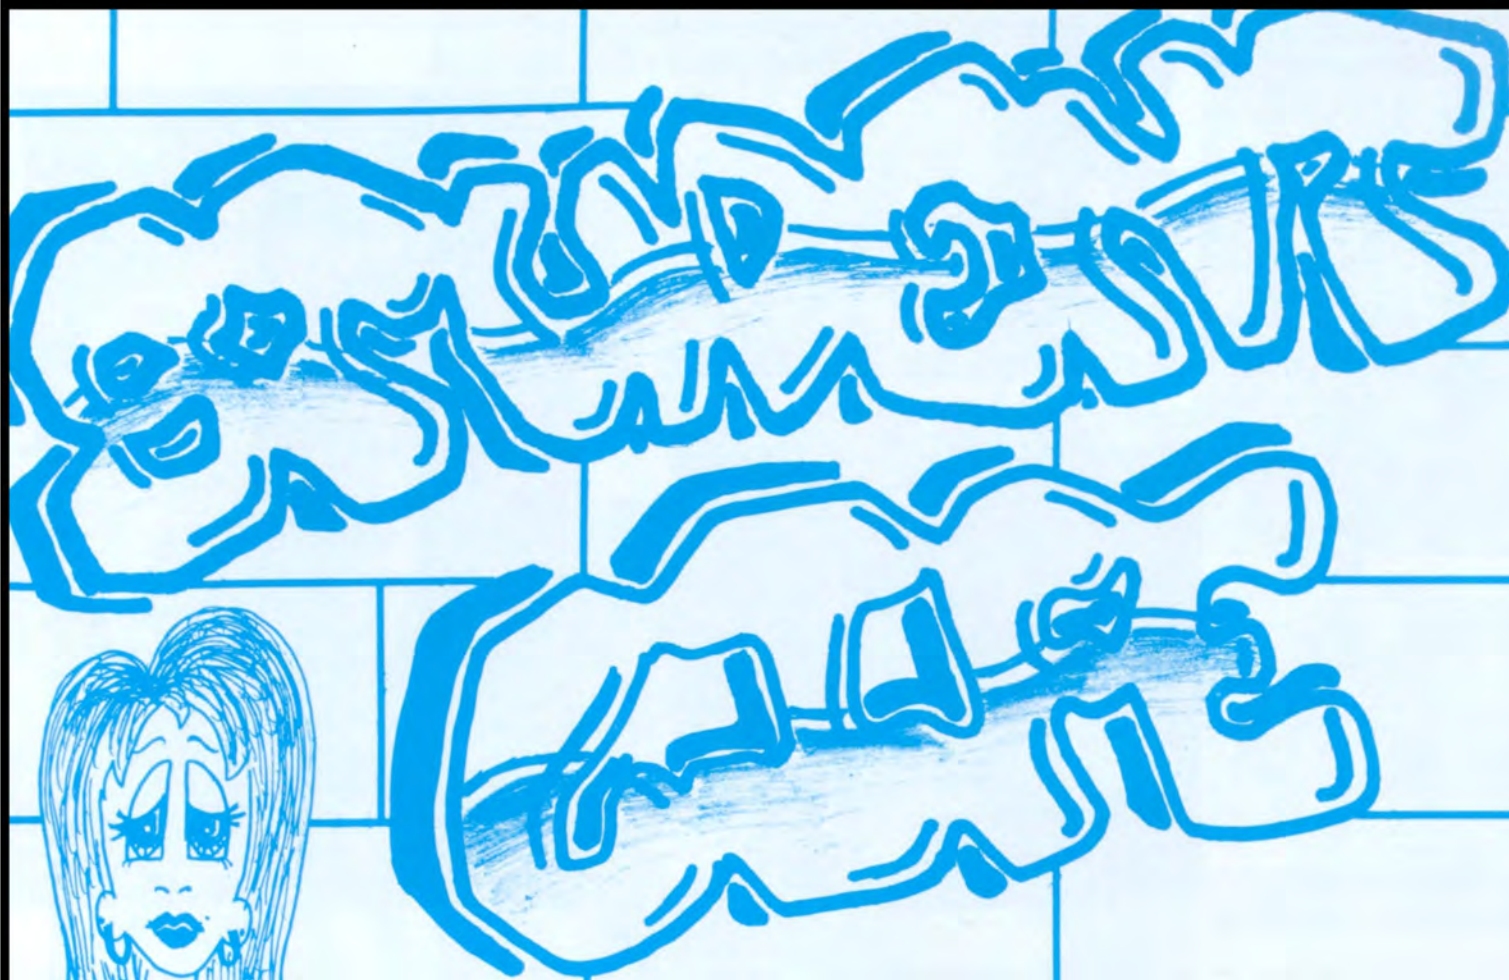

Jefferson has a strong tradition of excellence during the winter season...strong athletics, winning fine arts, active clubs...and this year was NO exception!

Jefferson's West Side Delegation kicked off the year with multiple winnings at Urbandale and Onalaska, where they captured Best Band Best Vocal, Best Male Soloist, Best Show, and Grand Champion! Senior Jody Fenton stated, "I am going to miss all the performances and competition, but I don't think I am going to miss the long practices very much." No one can forget the bands' trip to Florida and its national debut in the Orange Bowl parade. The only thing the band members regret is not being able to stay longer!

The winter athletics had one of the most impressive starts in Jefferson history! Both the men's and women's basketball teams had winning seasons. The women's basketball team had a very slow start but shot ahead towards the end of the season and made it past districts. Men's basketball's only loss was by one point, and they put on an exciting season for the fans at state. Swimming and wrestling both had a rebuilding year with some close meets, so watch out next year! Action returned to the intramural leagues this fall. Intramural basketball had its highest participation this year, even though the teachers ended up winning! And who will ever forget the blizzard of '96 and the two days off. Yes, these events all played significant roles during the winter term, which ended on February 27.

Royalty named

During its 39 years, Jefferson High School has only crowned a queen to reign over the annual Homecoming dance. 1995 was the first time ever that Jefferson crowned a king too.

"This new way for Homecoming is too much like the other schools. We have always had a Homecoming queen and a WPA king---most like it a lot better that way," was the opinion voiced by many students concerning the change.

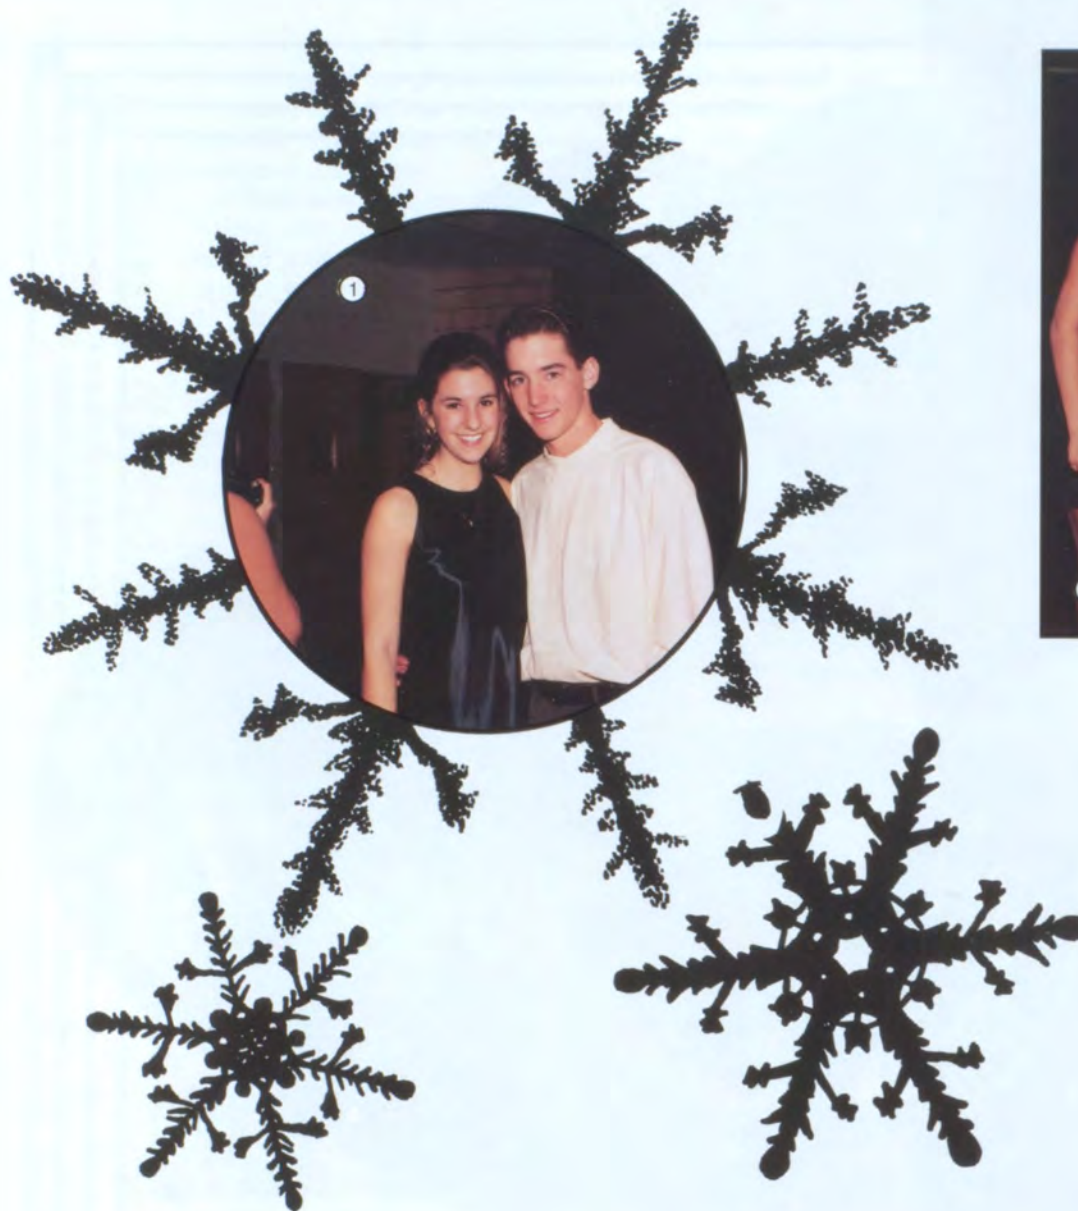

Student Council prepared for the Homecoming dance and assembly the night before the day when the top ten guys and girls were announced for Homecoming king and queen. Chris Abram and Sherrie Carnicle were crowned king and queen for Homecoming 1995 at the Jefferson-Waterloo West game. The dance was held the night after the Homecoming game, in the Jefferson High School cafeteria. This was the first dance of the year, so over half of the students attended, which was a great turnout. The theme of the dance was "Someone to Love," and the colors were cream and burgundy. Admission was $8 for singles and, $16 for couples, and pictures were taken by Read Photography.

1. Kelli Schlotterbeck and her date pose for a memorable photo at the Homecoming dance.
2. Leslie Marshall escorts Toby Walsh at the Homecoming assembly.
3. Josh Halfpap reaches out to receive a hug from Mr. Johansen, his stand-in dad at the assembly.
4. A tearful Tara Brostad is escorted by Aaron Pook.

6. Friends Shelly Roman and Andrea Foster socialize after the assembly.
7. Michelle Eichmeyer smiles for a quick shot with her date.
8. Homecoming queen candidates smile for the crowd's pleasure.
9. Homecoming king finalists observe the crowd after being introduced.
10. Finalist Ryan Bosch smiles while being escorted by Laura Marz.
11. Traci Koch is escorted by Dan Wolfe, following a skit for the Homecoming assembly.
12. Candidate Kia Chandler smiles for the camera while being escorted by Nate Johnston.

Formal thaws winter

This year's winter formal was quite a change from previous years. Formerly known as WPA, the evening was highlighted by the crowning of the four kings. But since a Homecoming king was chosen for the first time this year, the dance was changed and renamed the winter semi-formal. The fact that now there was no dance where women specifically had to do the asking and paying seemed to anger many men.

On top of that, there was yet another complication — Mother Nature. The week of the dance, a severe blizzard struck the Midwest, causing school to be cancelled and the dance to be postponed. It was rescheduled for mid-February which gave those dateless individuals more time to search out that special person to ask to the dance.

The dance, sponsored by Student Council, featured a festive setting as students danced away the evening with music provided by a local DJ. Stephanie Morehouse commented that she thought it was one of the better dances held this year.

1. Jodi Fenton and Jeff Schamberger pause for this memorable photo at the winter formal.
2. These sophomores stop for a friendly moment to remember the evening.

Musicians score highly

Our Fine Arts Department has done it again! On October 21, J-Hawk musicians traveled to Independence for All-State Music Festival auditions and had 36 students accepted — a very high honor.

Such an accomplishment isn't easily attained. Instrumentalists such as Susan Hoelz mentioned that she tried to practice at least an hour each day for months while soprano Jill Tonsfeldt noted, "Every day was filled with a simple humming of one of the songs or an in-depth rehearsal with your quartet."

The auditioning process was quite different for each group. While instrumentalists had to play 3 scales, 2 etudes, and a prepared solo, vocalists had a 4 part a cappella tryout with sections of 8 songs. After all of this, recalls were made before the final cuts.

In all, 8 instrumentalists were selected along with 28 vocalists. Considering that a maximum of 28 vocalists can audition, and all of ours were accepted, is extremely impressive as alto Andrea Foster agreed. "It was a great accomplishment for Jefferson, Dr. Eklund, and Ms. Tralau. I'm glad I could be a part of it!" Our All-State musicians performed November 18 and definitely made us proud.

Pump up the volume!

The marching band season of 1995 is one that will be remembered for years to come by both its members and supporters.

Its 223 members kicked off the season with three days of band camp where they practiced their music and marching skills on August 14, 15, and 16. The freshmen were not allowed to join the marching band this year, due to size, which gave director Andrew Houk the advantage of working only with more experienced band members. However, some concern was shown as to how much time it would take to teach next year's sophomores the drills. Junior Sossity Davis commented that, "Next year there might be a few problems since they have no experience."

After camp, the band attended two hour daily practices until the beginning of the school year, when they began holding their practices at 7:00 a.m. Concerning how difficult it was to work with so many members, junior Susan Hoelz said, "In rehearsals there was a lot of talking, but the job always got done."

Contests were also a large part of the marching band's season. They attended the Marion Marching Invitational and took first, the Valleyfest Competition in Des Moines where they placed second, and the State Contest where they received a Division 1 rating. Holec said she will never forget, "Seeing Mr. Dickinson's face after our blowout performance at State Contest." The most outstanding accomplishment of the band was their performance in The King Orange Jamboree Parade in Miami, Florida, in January. Director Earle Dickinson said when he found out we were accepted, "I was happy, but concerned, too. Most of the concern was about if we would have enough practice time before we went and if the weather would be okay down there. Certainly it was warmer than Iowa!"

Classy acts

The 1995-96 Colorguard and Pom Pons season ended as yet another successful year despite several changes.

Colorguard had three new instructors: Amy Boland, Karen Pollard, and Michelle Reichmann — who all helped the guard win Best of Show at the Marion Invitational, while the absence of freshman on the squad made it easier for the girls to learn new routines.

The Poms also had a great year under the guidance of Trish Firzlaff. They won second place at the Westdale Competition as well as Best Choreography. During the winter months, the Poms entertained large audiences at home basketball games with their jazzy routines. Hours of hard practice and sparkly new uniforms paid off as the girls entertained the audience.

Although there were many changes in both groups, the girls once again proved they are a welcomed addition to the band.

With much hard work ...

Bands have talent

Although they might not get as much attention as our Wind Symphony, the Symphony Band and Freshman Concert Band have made several improvements throughout the year.

Since the removal of freshmen last year, Mr. Houk has increased the difficulty of Symphony Band's music. With plenty of patience and hard work, Symphony Band proved they can take on this increase in difficulty by improving their sound and receiving higher ratings at contests.

The Freshman Concert Band has also made improvements. In its second year of existence, this concert band is under the direction of Mr. D along with our newest addition to the music department, Miss Elizabeth Sinadinos. Though just doing exhibitions at contests, our Freshman Concert Band continually impresses the judges.

Both bands played a wide variety of music, from Christmas carols to "Sunset Boulevard", "The Inferno" (from The Divine Comedy) and John Zdechlik's "Chorale and Shaker Dance II".

Despite drastic changes within the last two years, our Symphony Band and Freshman Concert Band continue their steady climb up the ladder of success.

Freshman Concert Band/Symphony Band

Practice pays off ...

Top honors earned

Jefferson's Wind Symphony and Jazz Band have had a very hectic year. Whether it's been an outstanding performance at the Sesquicentennial concert or Division I ratings in contests, these two groups have maintained their ability to impress their audiences after what seemed like endless hours of practice.

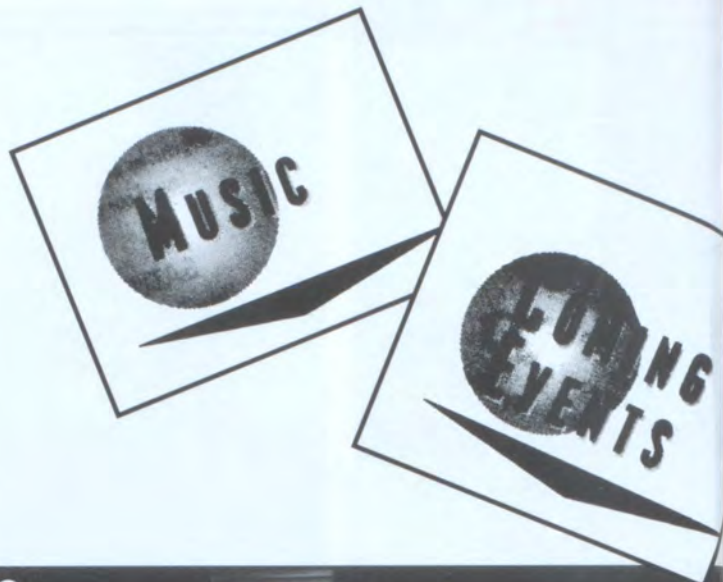

With such a wide variety of performances this last year, Wind Symphony mastered more music than ever before. Busy with advanced music for contests and specially commissioned music for the Sesquicentennial concert, this concert band was able to provide listeners with a special treat at concerts and graduation.

It was also quite a pleasure listening to our Jazz Band perform this past year. Mr. Houk and his Jazz Band successfully earned several top ratings at contests, featuring a wide variety of jazz, including "Polka Dots and Moonbeams", an incredible alto sax solo by Mike Krejci.

With all of this year's success, the Wind Symphony and Jazz Band plan on even better rewards next year.

New director stresses ...

String work

Our orchestra had quite a year, with a new director boldly leading.

Miss Sinadinis admits she's learned a lot her first year teaching, such as ways to balance realistic vs idealistic goals. She's proud of her students: "They desire to succeed and do! I'd take credit for their hard work, but can't."

Noel McCormick (Jr clarinet) says a triumph of Symphony Orchestra was a I at State, the last in '93. "Hard work earns such honors, but with devoted authority," says Tammy Christoffersen (Sr violin) "She spends a lot of time with us, putting emphasis on the music's expression."

The orchestra spent months preparing Dvorak's Symphony No 9, "From the New World" with tricky rhythms requiring skill to master. It was a success at the Sesquicentennial concert.

As performance strength advances, everyone looks to bigger and better opportunities next year.

Jefferson's performing arts owes a lot to one man: Mr. Robert Geuder. For the past 37 years, he has been the heart and sole of the theatre department.

Jefferson has a national reputation for excellent theatre. This is due mostly to the hard work and dedication of this man. He has been the sponsor and biggest supporter of the Thespians.

The Thespians, too, accomplished a lot this year. Among the play they presented were "Piece of My Heart," "Don't Drink the Water," "Quilter's," and "West Side Story."

Mr. Geuder has directed many of the plays, and been a hard worker overall. Thank you, Mr. Geuder, for everything! - Emily Quaas

Fall play had 'Heart'

The fall play, "A Piece of My Heart," by Sharon Lauro was a moving drama about women in Vietnam. It was held in Jefferson's Little Theatre on November 3, 4 and 5. "A Piece of My Heart," was performed also at the International Thespian Festival in Lincoln, Nebraska, during the summer of 1996. It was also performed main stage at the State Thespian Festival on November 11, where it received a standing ovation and the six women actresses earned awards for their performances.

The play featured six women and one male. The play was about the women's experiences during the war and their treatment when they returned home. For example, imagine returning to your homeland and the first thing you hear are voices screaming at you, "Babykiller," or "Go back to Nam!" All the characters experienced different hardships and these were portrayed by the actors and actresses.

When director, Michael Peitz, was asked what points he wanted to make, he gave four; "(1) The extreme emotional stress on all those who served," "(2) The poor treatment of those returning," "(3) The long term effects and the difficulty in getting over the experiences," and "(4) The healing that the Vietnam Memorial brought about."

The play also had a realistic set designed by Mr. Andel. The set and lighting effects helped in the portrayal of the Vietnam experiences that the cast represented. Also, the crew of "A Piece of My Heart," did a wonderful job of making the play run smoothly.

Because of the intense content of the play, practices could get really heavy, but the actresses and actor still managed to have a good laugh once in awhile. The lives of the people who took part in Vietnam were changed dramatically and this was reflected realistically by the actors in this moving play.

Zany comedy amuses

Drama students opted for an unusual comedy for the winter play this year. "Don't Drink the Water", a zany comedy by Woody Allen, premiered on the Jefferson stage December 7-9.

This play was a genuine comedy as far as mad chases, bomb explosions, and picketing mobs all contributed to the excitement that audiences saw on the stage.

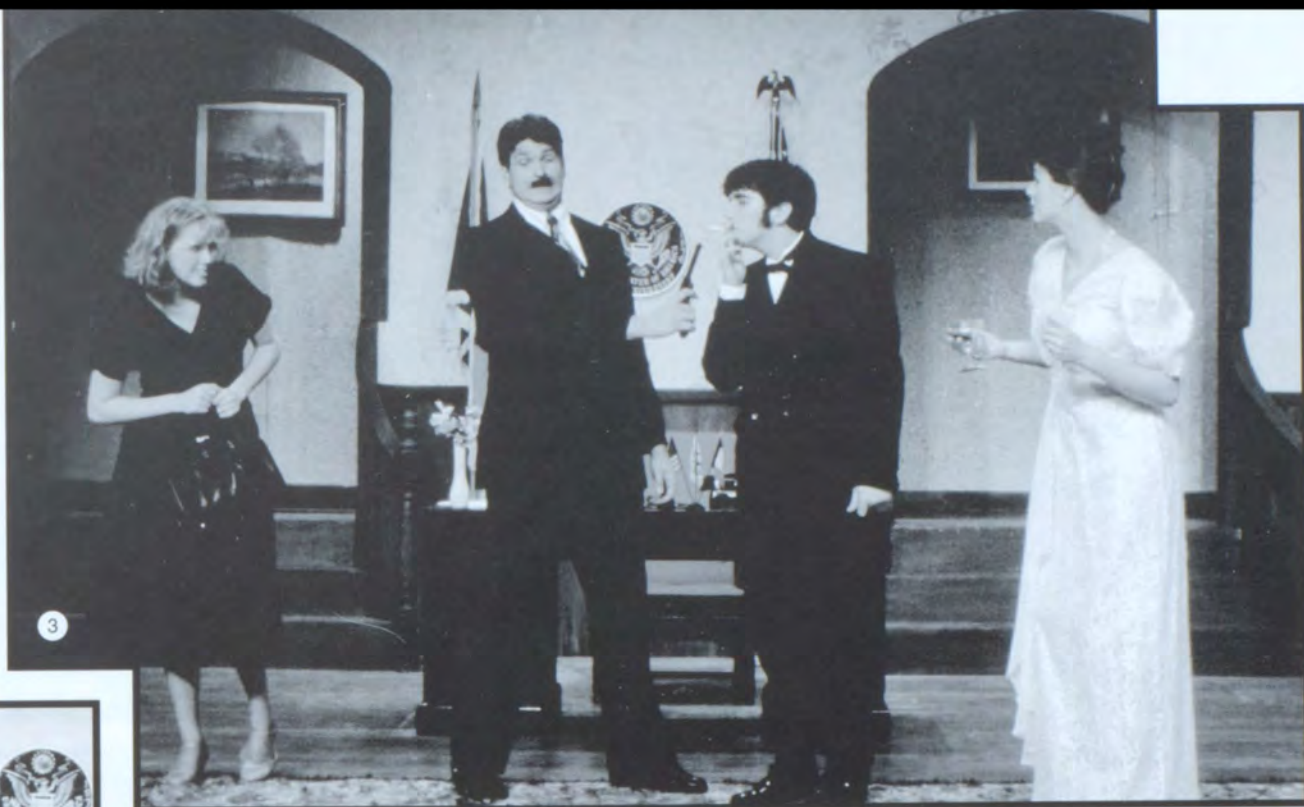

The play also had a political air about it as most of it took place in the United States Embassy of a country still behind the Iron Curtain. A group of three tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollander, played by Mitch Emerson and Katy Thomas, and their daughter Susan, played by Brianne Waychoff, are trapped in the U.S. Embassy after being mistaken for industrial spies. The ambassador, however, is out of town, leaving his careless son, played by Josh Nissen, in charge. The plot thickened as the audience met an insane chef, a drunken sultan, and Father Drobney, played by Matt Detert. Matt portrays a full-time priest and a part time magician who has been trapped in the Embassy for six years.

Mr. Robert Geuder, who directed the play, said he was real proud of the cast. He recalled how hard they all worked to memorize their lines as well as become familiar with their stage cues. He noted that he was very pleased with the audiences reaction to the actors and the play as a whole.

Kids like play

This year's Children's Theatre presentation was The Emperor's New Clothes. It was scheduled to be performed on January 24, 25, 26, and 27, but due to a blizzard it was not performed on the 26th. Mr. Geuder directed two different casts of main characters, but had the same village people and emperor for all performances. Jon Dyrland played the emperor, a very foolish man, who thinks himself wise because he has read the entire dictionary. He then, half-wittedly, makes a promise that if a man could fool him he would receive the hand of his daughter and half the money of the royal treasury. He also makes another promise — that the tailor who could make the best suit of clothes in all the kingdom will receive the other half of the royal treasury. This makes for an interesting plot in which the villains (Matt Detert and Bryan Riensche as Skreech, Adam DeMeulenaere and Michael Bartels as Clodney) try to get all the money in the kingdom, and the main character, Pony (Dirk Munson and Scott Fratella), tries to win the princess. The story gets all twisted around, but it all turns out well in the end.

Play airs issues

This year's spring play was one that brought controversy and enlightenment to Jefferson's stage. "Quilters," a play by Molly Newman, was a musical drama about the lives of many pioneer women brought together in the making of a quilt.

Issues in the play included events such as a baptism, a birth, and the problem women faced with too many children, or their other option of a painful, frightening abortion. When asked how he felt about it, director Mike Peitz stated, "I looked at it as a piece of history, that's all."

The play consisted of thirteen women, and no men's parts. This fact made it an interesting play, but created another noticeable controversy. When hearing that there were no men, it caused some disinterest in people. Peitz, however, said, "It made the show almost more enjoyable. It was nice to see a play that gave women a bigger opportunity on stage."

Overall the play went well. The size of each audience was large, despite some issues, and Peitz stated that he, "was really pleased with the end product. I was also real proud of the cast."

Practice makes perfect

You hear them singing everywhere — in “B” lunch, in the hallways, in the classroom, in Miss Walton’s PE. Yes, they may be a member of Concert Choir or one of our fabulous show choirs, but there is a good chance that they are a member of one of our three underclassmen choirs: Amabile Singers, Jefferson Singers, or Varsity Singers. This habit of singing wherever these members are is a true sign of a lot of hard work and persistence despite several changes.

In the past, when someone mentioned Sophomore Singers, they meant our sophomore co-ed choir, while Jefferson Singers were freshman women and Varsity Singers were freshman men. Varsity Singers hasn’t changed, but the name “Sophomore Singers” has been replaced with “Jefferson Singers” and freshman women are now “Amabile Singers”. While these changes may be a bit confusing, these singers continue to work as hard as ever, along with their directors, Dr. Pete Eklund and Ms. Carol Tralau, and do not give up easily.

It is a never ending cycle. Day after day, week after week, month after month, it’s practice, practice, practice. This diligence gradually leads to perfection, but only with plenty of hard work and patience.

Choir ranks high

One of our best choirs here at Jefferson High School is Concert Choir. This selected choir rehearses during fourth period everyday. Tryouts are held during the last part of the spring term. For tryouts, you sign your name on a sheet of paper for the time that you can come and audition. At the audition, the directors see if you can read music and they have you do some exercises too. Concert Choir has split into men and women performing separate. Carol Tralau leads the women while Pete Eklund leads the men.

Concert Choir performed at Washington High School for Large Group Contest on May 3. This year, the men received a division I rating. The women also received a division 1 rating. "Both of these groups did a tremendous job at Large Group Contest at Washington High School," noted Dr. Eklund.

Concert Choir also participated in the Sesquicentennial Concert at the Five Season Center. Several area schools, like Kennedy, Washington, Jefferson and other schools, participated in this concert. They joined together to celebrate Iowa's 150th birthday. They not only participated in the Sesquicentennial Concert at the Five Season Center and Large Group Contest at Washington, but also at concerts during the year.

The quality and talent that comes from Concert Choir members gives the group more opportunity to do harder and more difficult music.

Work pays off

Jefferson's choral department has worked very hard this past year. Our show choirs Ovation and Encore, along with our Meistersingers, have strived to surpass their potential with many great concerts throughout the year.

Many hours go into putting on a show, which Ovation and Encore have learned this year through many practices during early bird and after school. Ovation also had an annual retreat at Camp Wyoming, where members rehearsed all weekend.

A preparatory show choir, Encore prepares students for other show choirs here at Jefferson. Although Encore doesn't compete in contests, it never ceases to amaze its audiences.

To be accepted into Meistersingers, students must go through an extensive and difficult audition. Meistersingers dazzle audiences every year with outstanding performances and very hard work, practicing during seventh hour every other day.

These three choirs are just one aspect of the great success of Jefferson's performing arts program due to hard work, long hours and dedicated members.

STUDIES

Laura Edmonds
Editor

Change is implemented ...

Day is now longer

Starting the 1995-96 school year, the seven period day was introduced for the first time ever in Jefferson's 39-year history. This extended the school day by twenty minutes, making each class fifty minutes in length. This change drew mixed reviews from the student body ...

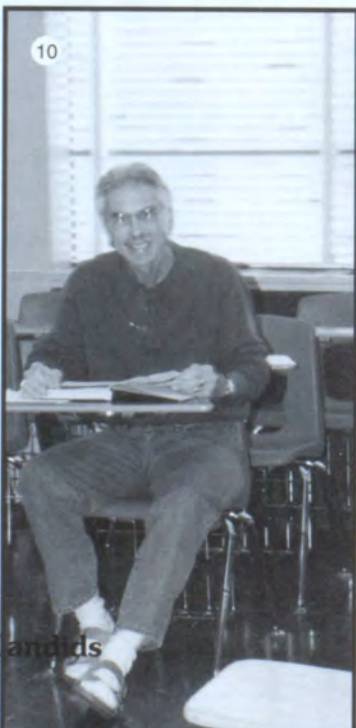

"It makes the school day go by faster," noted Amanda Klees.

"I don't like it because I can't find enough classes to fill my schedule," said Eileen Blase.

"I like it because it allows us to take more classes so we can get more credits," added Renae Robidoux.

Advantages of the seven period day affected people who participate in fine arts. It allows them to fit in their required courses and be involved in fine arts at the same time, stated Principal Bob Tesar. He also said the biggest disadvantage of the seven period day was that people who have most of their requirements out of the way have trouble filling even six periods, which means they would have study halls for which they receive no credit.

Group kept busy

With direction from two sponsors, Mr. Terry Strait and Mr. John Wojtowicz, members of the Student Council planned and carried out a variety of activities this year. As usual, Homecoming festivities occupied much of the Council's time during the first month of school. For the first time in the school's history, it was decided to crown a Homecoming king as well as a queen.

During the winter months, much of the Council's time was occupied planning the first winter formal, which replaced the traditional WPA activities. The semi-formal dance was first scheduled for mid-January, but Mother Nature decided differently when school was cancelled because of sub-zero temperatures.

Rounding out a hectic schedule, Council members organized another successful blood drive and sponsored a luncheon for teachers during teacher appreciation week. In addition, a food drive was organized in December.

Senates kept busy

Student Senate, we have one? Of course! In fact we have a Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Senate. Each senate has a sponsor to assist them with what they are doing. This year the Sophomore Senate has sold M&M's and suckers to help raise money. According to many Juniors, the Junior Senate has done little to nothing this year to build its treasury. The Senior Class Senate has had a busy year. They had a mixer in the fall, and sold senior class t-shirts to raise the money needed for prom. Class senates help raise money for their class so they have enough money to pay for colored pictures in the yearbook, buy the class gift, and have a spectacular prom. It sounds like the underclass senates are off to a good start. As for the seniors, they did most of their fund-raising in previous years so they could finalize their budget, explained Mr. Terry Schneekloth, sponsor.

7. Sherrie Greenfield pauses to consider which word to use in a copyblock about Colorguard.

This year's Statesman had six deadlines to meet. Noreen Niemeyer was this year's Editor-in-Chief, along with Mandy Haster as Managing Editor. Together they worked hard to make this 1995-1996 yearbook spectacular. Many students got a lot of experience by designing layouts, selecting photos or writing copyblocks. Many long and hard hours were put into finishing this year's yearbook by the end of the school year.

But as always, there were many frustrations met along this way. Layout Editor Laura Marz said that one of the hardest things was choosing layouts that would fit the subject and that would be interesting. Adviser, Mr. Ron Smrha, said that the hardest part for him was to motivate editors to do their job under deadline pressure, while the general staff members did more than expected.

There were also memorable moments. Mr. Ron Smrha said his most memorable moment was each time the staff met a deadline. Many people have their favorite part of the yearbook. Mr. Smrha said his favorite part of the yearbook is that it is like a history book, since each yearbook records those events that make a year special. Even though the yearbook staff had plenty of ups and downs, it was still a memorable experience.

Recording a year

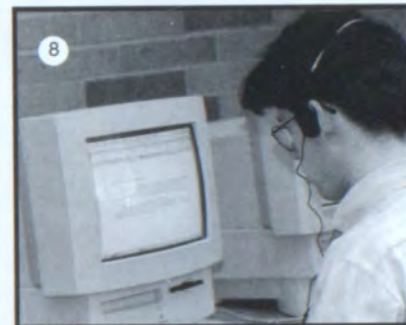

News for you!

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Smrha, some 30 members of the Outlook staff published nine issues of the paper for the student body's enjoyment this year. From dreaming up exciting and new topics to write about to finishing a layout in time for the 3 p.m. deadline, many fun and exciting times were shared by all in the publications room. Chester Truesdell, editor-in-chief, guided a talented crew which did stories on outstanding students, controversial topics, and week-end events. "Perhaps the most difficult part of my job was making sure that it came together on deadline day each issue," noted Chester. For each issue, reporters wrote stories, salesmen sold ads, and photographers developed pictures to make the paper truly student-produced.

Speech team rates

Practice makes perfect! That's exactly what the members of the speech team and their sponsors, Ms. Kathie Novy and Mr. Jim Erbe, spent endless hours doing before each contest. The proof that they were successful in their efforts came at the season's end when All-State awards were announced.

Yes, this year's speech team was one which attained many awards and made significant accomplishments. Besides taking three of their large groups to All-State, they also managed to take along three of their individualists, including Jaimie Miller, who was an All-State double winner.

Speech contests were held during the winter term on almost every week-end. Sponsors loaded vans and traveled to Monticello, Clinton, Des Moines, Tipton, Ottumwa, and Cedar Falls.

The All-Staters from Large Group were the ensemble performers of "Piece of My Heart," the TV team, and the Reader's Theatre performers of "The Wonder Years." Individual All-State winners included Katie Straw, Katy Thomas, and Jaimie Miller. Ms. Novy explained it takes real talent to be singled out by the judges for this honor.

1. Katy Thomas lets out a loud sound for "The Wonder Years."
2. The Readers Theatre presentation of "The Wonder Years" received an All-State nomination as one of the best groups in the state. Members included: Angela Torres, Scott Fratella, Liz Vogeler, Katy Thomas, Amy Muzingo, Kevin Worley, Matt Detert, and Katie Straw.
3. Jennifer Burns and Mrs. Novy eagerly wait for a meet to start.
4. Maybe speech competition does cause STRESS, as Heather Ash takes it out on Amy Muzingo.
5. These seniors, Jaimie Miller, Amy Muzingo, and Heather Ash, are all smiles at their last contest together.
6. Concentration and focus are requirements for a meaningful performance. All-State nominees Jaimie Miller, Katie

Alexeyev

Dmitriy Alexeyev is from the Ukraine. Here at Jefferson High School he was very active in sports. He participates in varsity soccer and JV basketball, which he enjoyed very much. Dmitriy says he really enjoyed living in the United States and he says that it was a very good experience. He has enjoyed all of the friends he has made and will miss them very much when he leaves. Dmitriy hopes to get the chance to return to the United States again some day to see all of his friends.

Anders Engberg-Pedersen is from Denmark. He is very impressed with the fine arts program at Jefferson, in which he was an eager participant himself. In the fall he made All-State as a bass and he has kept busy with Westside Delegation, Concert Choir, and Meistersingers. The thing he will miss the most about leaving the United States is all the friends he has made here at Jefferson. He hopes he gets the chance to come back and visit Iowa someday in the future.

DENMARK

Jens

Jens Harbecke is from Germany. He says that his school back home is very different from Jefferson. He said that there is a better relationship between the teachers and the students at Jefferson than at his school back home. At Jefferson he was involved in concert choir, Westside Delegation, the spring musical "Westside Story," soccer, football, and the talent show. He said he will always remember his experiences with Westside Delegation and all of his friends that he's made.

Bruno Hoffmann is from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. At his school back home he does not get to choose which classes he will take. His most memorable time in the U.S. was seeing snow for the first time; he did not like the cold weather. At Jefferson he participated in soccer. Bruno said back home they do not play football, baseball, or hockey. They play basketball but it is not a common sport. Here he has learned how to play football and basketball. Bruno said he will always remember the U.S.

The 1995-96 Office Education class had a most successful year. This year's class was led by President Shannon Stokesberry, Vice-President Kelly Atkins, Secretary Noreen Niemeyer, and Treasurer Jinny Jung.

Four students attended the state conference in Des Moines. They were Laura Edmonds, Andrea Thorstenson, Shannon Stokesberry, and Candi Hilton. Andrea and Shannon also qualified for the national conference in Phoenix, Arizona, in early May.

Led by Mr. Larry Niemeyer, the Office Education members learned different office skills which they were able to use at their job sites including Rockwell, G.E. Capital, and the Cedar Rapids Police Department.

"All in all, this year in Office Education ended up being very educational, successful, and a lot of fun," concluded Laura Edmonds.

Another of the business programs here at Jefferson High School is DECA, which usually averages about thirty students each year. The officers of DECA this year included Presidents Tara Brostad and Stephanie Pegump, Vice President Shaleen Rowray, Secretary Liz Miller, and Historian Shelly Roman. Twelve of the members of the class competed at districts which were held in Cedar Falls on February 1, noted Tara Brostad.

All students took three tests which were then combined to tally winners for the individual events. Many students received awards and honorable mention certificates for competing in the individual events again this year.

"The class has helped me understand how the business world wheels and deals. I will also have an extra advantage when I attend college in the fall," explained Megan Rudd.

DECA combines class instruction with on-the-job work experience required of all members, according to Ms. Bev Spilman, sponsor.

Students busy bees

Once again juniors and seniors who have a high grade point average were considered for induction into Jefferson's Aristotelian chapter of the National Honor Society. All teachers were asked to consider potential candidates in the following specific areas: leadership, character, and service to the school. Then, a faculty committee read through these recommendations and made the final decision as to who would be inducted this year.

Much of the homework done behind the scenes concerning the selection process was steered by Mr. John Wojtowicz, ELP coordinator. Most of the inductees were members of the junior class, since those seniors with high grade point averages were already inducted last year when they were juniors, he explained.

Seniors helped plan the ceremony as well as took active roles during the evening's induction. Following the ceremony, a reception was held for inductees and parents.

Dismal year but ... Team tries

The 1995 J-Hawk football team came out with a new attitude, with new uniforms and a new logo to usher in the "New Era." With the loss of several key players, the J-Hawks ended the season with a 0-9 record and sour feelings.

Seniors, Kris Kimm, James Lee, Travis Ptacek, Andy Kroemer, and Charlie Huston inspired the underclassmen to step up to the challenge. Aaron Kingsbury, Curtis Dennis, Jason Barber, Ryan Roff, Ben Trickey, and Dan Wolfe, all juniors, will try and reverse the record next year.

Some J-Hawk players were recognized for their individual performances. Kris Kimm, who was Most Valuable Player for the team, earned 1st team All-Metro, 1st team All-Conference, and Honorable Mention All-State. James Lee received Honorable All-Metro with Curtis Dennis and Ryan Roff. Aaron Kingsbury earned 2nd team All-Conference and Charlie Huston received 2nd team All-Metro.

Sophs build great year

The freshman football team struggled through a long season as their first J-Hawk football team. The team ended the season at 1-7 with improvement needed. The only win came when the team traveled to Iowa City High and defeated the traditionally strong Little Hawks, 12-0. Coach Steve Reed said, "The bright side of the season was definitely the win at City High. Another bright side is that there were 45 guys still on the team after 55 started the year. This shows me that they were all committed."

The sophomore team just about brought the conference title back to Jefferson. The team finished the season with a great record of 7-2 only losing to Prairie and Cedar Falls, the last game of the year. By losing the last game of the year, it denied the J-Hawks the conference title.

Jeremy Brown, the sophomore's leading rusher with over 1,000 yards in 9 games, said, "We were really disappointed because we knew we could have done better and should have beaten Cedar Falls."

Brown also said, "The important thing was that we improved from last year, and had a fairly successful season."

Brown also mentioned that the team plans to hit the weights hard in the off season and try to be smarter next year when they execute the plays.

As the freshmen become sophomores, and the sophomores move up to Varsity, J-Hawk Collision will be expecting a lot out of these two teams. With the sophomores having a winning record and the return of a lot of juniors, they will all work hard to hopefully put the varsity back in the win column.

Under coach's guidance ...

Team sets wins

The 1995 volleyball season was a successful one. The team went undefeated in the conference with an 8-0 record, and they looked like state contenders. As the post season came, the J-Hawks crushed Prairie in the first round of districts. In the second round they got beaten by Iowa City West in a contest that lasted five games.

Suzanne Krejci, who won the Coach of the Year award, said, "I think you need to assess your season as a whole. Not just one night of the season. We were disappointed but could also smile at our accomplishments."

Amber Rajtora said, "It was a great season, but we wished it could have lasted a little bit longer."

Rajtora added, "The reason we did so well is because of the leadership Melanie gave us. She gave us the confidence to come out each night and play well."

Krejci also added, "Melanie (Becker) was sad to see the season end earlier than she and the team wanted, yet, she was able to put it into perspective and move forward."

Melanie also said about the season ending before she got back to state, "I was really disappointed because it was the team's preseason goal and we started to peak at the end which made me believe we were going to make it. I really thought I would get a chance to get back there before I graduated."

As for being the only senior, Melanie had this to share, "I realized my role on the team, not just being a leader physically on the team, but to step up the expectations for myself. I worked so hard to be the best player possible, and I think I achieved it by the season's end."

As the '95 volleyball team was dominated by underclassmen, Coach Krejci is also looking forward to next year, "These are great people that I've been blessed to work with."

Reasons for joining squads are revealed

Although according to Brooke Hale, the sophomore volleyball team finished with a record of 4-7, losing more games than they won, they had a good time trying to win.

Brooke Hale added, "Coach Hutchensen makes the game fun." This year there were 22 participants on the sophomore volleyball team.

Brooke explained, "The best highlights of the season were the games that we won and the good times I had with my friends." Hale also said that, "Playing volleyball can help get rid of tension by serving the ball."

According to most players, there are many reasons that they play volleyball, just as there are different ways people play volleyball. Hale also said, "Many people think that people play volleyball to be serious but, actually, I think that most people like to play volleyball just for the fun of it."

An observation from one of the varsity players, Amber Rajtora, revealed, "All of the freshmen and sophomores worked really hard during the season and had lots of fun playing too."

Both teams are looking forward to competition next year.

Building up endurance ...

Teams strive

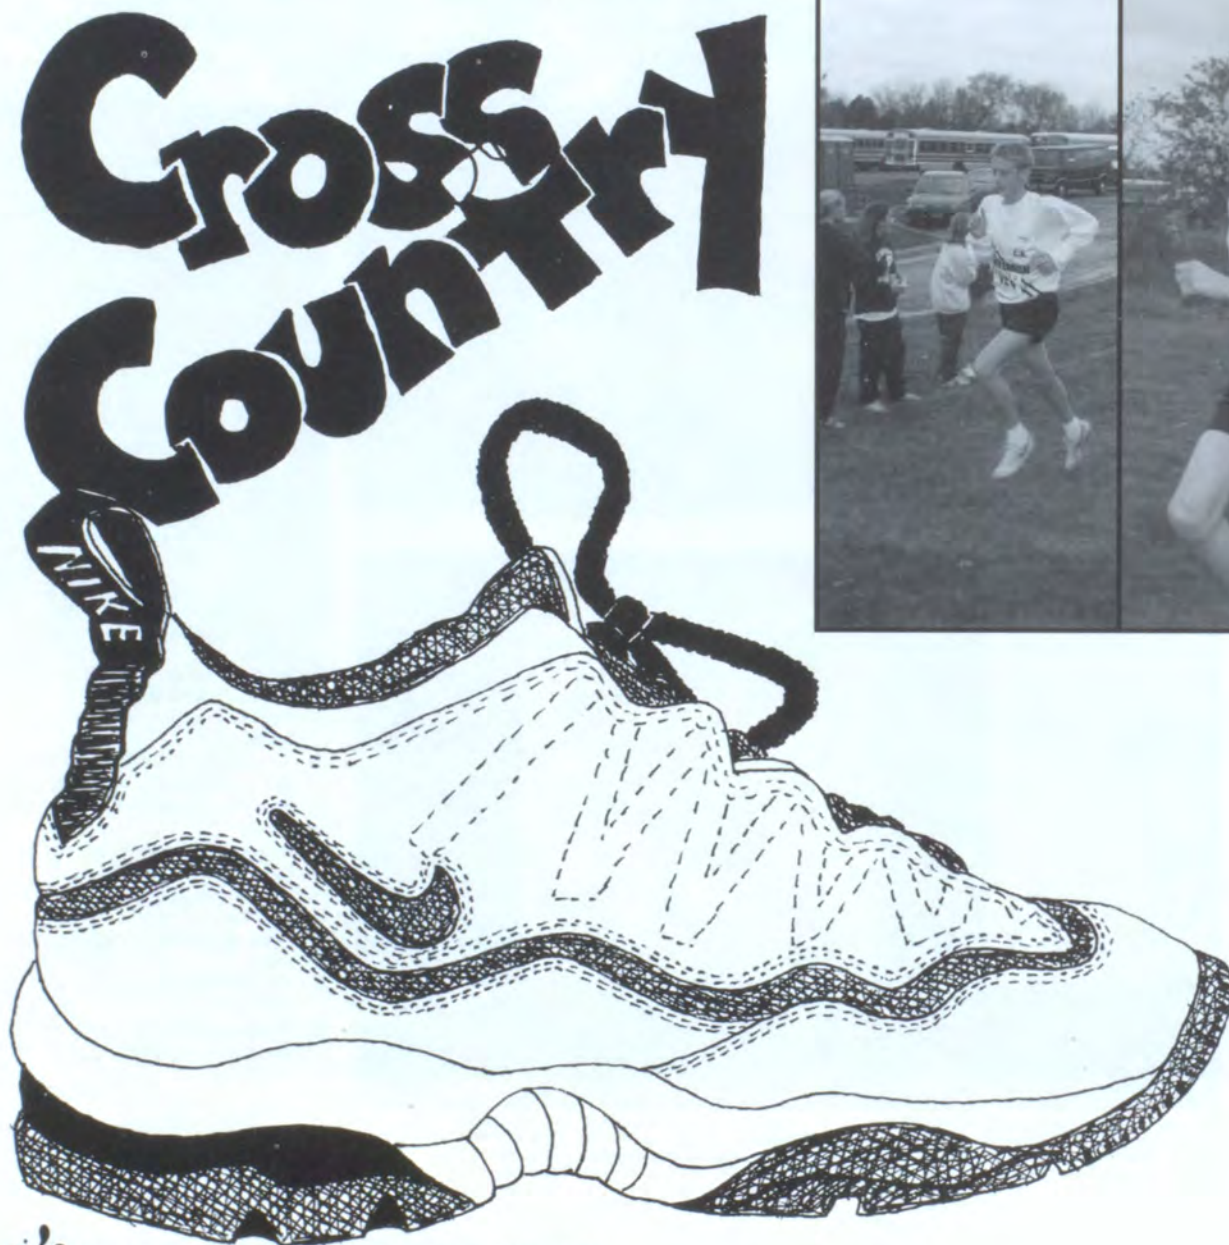

The season came and went and even though the cross country team didn't win state, many winning things came out of the season. Coach O'Brien's ninth year of coaching was very rewarding for everyone involved. There were 38 personal or season best records on the team throughout the season, which turned out to be a new high.

Struggling in the past several seasons, the men's cross country program took a big step forward. Having a team of young talented athletes, Coach Schneekloth's team is bound to get stronger. Runners such as Zach Dawson, Jason Jensen, and David Scott stepped right up to help lead the team.

Senior Shaleen Rowray and Zach Dawson received MVC Academic All-Conference honors. Coach O'Brien could sum up her performance by saying that Shaleen Rowray had the best work ethic of any runner he has ever coached. "She is a great role model and team leader which will make these tough running shoes to fill."

Everyone made the season fun and exciting and with the 1996 season in mind, there can only be even better things in store. The runners know that there is only one way to run and that is J-Hawk style.

Hip, hip, hurrah ... Squad tops Wash!

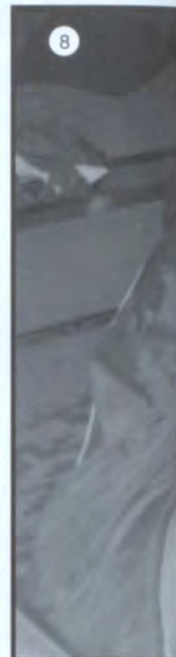

For the second time in JHS history, the J-Hawk women swimmers and divers defeated Washington in a dual meet. Head Coach Heather Feuerhelm commented, "I'm elated! The crosstown rivals are always fun and I'm very proud." Feuerhelm said her team's strength this year depended on teamwork. She added, "They really pulled together. Natural ability was combined with a family atmosphere. Everyone wanted to succeed as a team."

The J-Hawks finished the season with a 6-2 dual meet record, as well as a ninth place state finish. This was the highest team finish at state in the Metro area. Freshman Sarah Stadie qualified for state in the 200 and 500 free style. Dawn Joseph was sixth in diving, and Traci Koch was fourth in the 100 free, and seventh in the 50 free, with a new school record. Tracie Keizer, Traci Koch, Lindsey Raabe, and Laura Marz also scored state points by placing fifth in the 400 free relay, and sixth in the 200 free relay.

Traci Koch received the team's Most Valuable Athlete Award. Sarah Smith and Dawn Joseph were voted team captains of the year. The swim team's slogan this year was "Crushing the Competition." The slogan gave the team something to share with the rest of JHS students.

Squad works hard

The 1995-96 men's swim team was proof that a team can rebuild and have fun doing it. The team pulled together and showed a lot of improvement. Their hard work earned them a winning season.

Their competitive spirit and determination was evident through impressive wins over tough opponents Waterloo West, Dubuque Hempstead, Iowa City West, and Iowa City High. The swimmers were underdogs in each meet, but proved with these wins that they were definitely a team to contend with in the conference.

At the state swimming meet in Iowa City, the 200 yard freestyle relay showed the hard work that went into their season. The four person relay team was made up of senior Nathan Lueck, senior Dan Wohlers, junior Keith Chrismore, and sophomore Chad Derlein. They placed an impressive 13th in the relay after being ranked 24th going into the meet.

Individual recognition goes out to Nathan Lueck, who set a new school record in the 100 yard freestyle with a time of 49:00. This new time broke the record set last year by former J-Hawk, Ryan York.

The season was also a learning experience for the swimmers. The men learned that nothing makes people more successful than the right attitude and practice, practice, practice.

The young J-Hawk swim team used their great attitudes to make it a successful year. With these young men and their hard work, the team will hopefully continue to improve. Although they will miss the great swimming and leadership from their seniors, they will prove to be a great team in the years to come.

Great job swimmers!

Boys join squads

A first in 39 years of Jefferson High School history occurred this year when Cheerleaders added four boys to their ranks. Yes, after trying out with approximately 50 girls, the four boys were added to the varsity boys' and girls' basketball squads.

"I had fun. It was hard at times but I learned a lot of new things from all the girls, not just on my squad. It's one of the best school experiences I've ever had. Maybe I'll try it again next year!" revealed Trevor Foss.

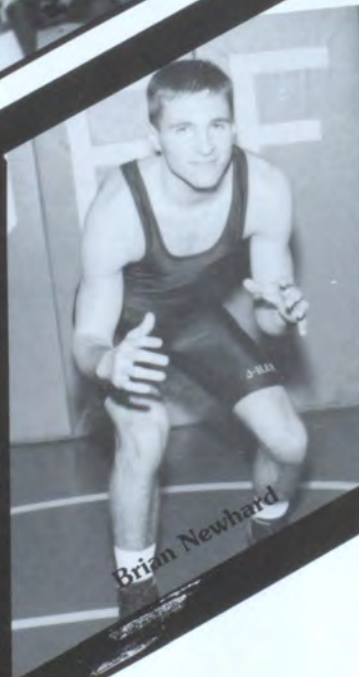

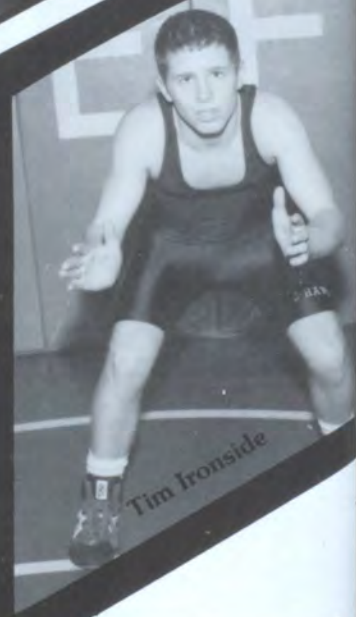

Cheerleaders began their hectic year last summer when they hosted their own camp, which featured American Cheerleading Federation (ACF) representatives who taught the squads a new dance, cheers to be performed at pep assemblies and games, and new mounts.

"Basketball cheering with the guys was really different. I had just as much fun, if not more, with our squad. The guys really tried hard and what they lacked in experience they made up for with heart and cheerleader spirit," explained Jessie Young.

Squads meet goals

The 1996 J-Hawk wrestling team qualified seven wrestlers for the state tournament, more than any other team from the district field.

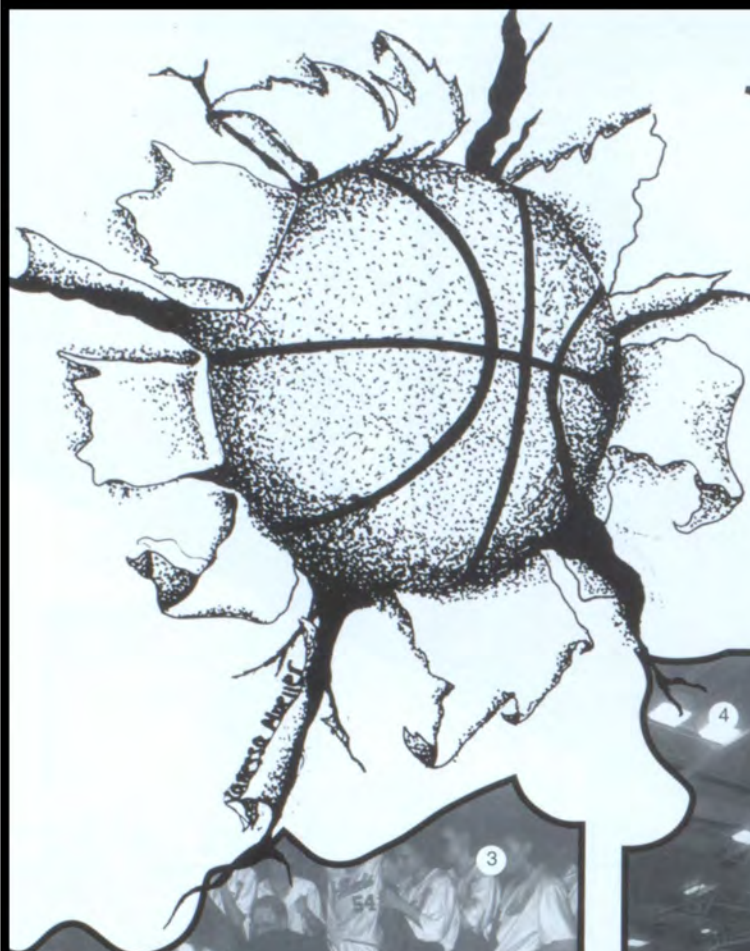

Wrestlers Brian Newhard, Tracy Donels, Nick Bloxham, Tim Ironside, Andy Evers, Dan Newhard, and Tom Eaton all qualified for the state tournament for the J-Hawks, revealed an excited head coach, Dick Briggs.

Goals for the J-Hawks were to win the district team title, which they did, and to qualify as many wrestlers as possible for the state tournament, and those wrestlers that do qualify place as high as they can.

"Sometimes you get sick of practice and tired of cutting weight and you want to give up, but you tell yourself, if this is what I have to do to get to the step in Des Moines, then when it's all over and I'm standing there with the medal around my neck ... it will be well worth it, said Dan Newhard.

"The J-Hawks were a very well balanced team up and down the line-up, except for the 103 and heavyweight divisions," stated Briggs. Already he's looking forward to next season when many of these guys return.

After Christmas break ...

Team unifies

The 1995-96 women's basketball season was a year of changes. For the first time in three years, they earned a winning record of 12-11.

The season started off slow with a 1-7 record before the long Christmas break. The girls lost some close ones, including a double overtime loss to crosstown rival Washington. After the break, the team began playing great and took a 10-10 record into the tournaments. Big games included wins over Washington, Kennedy and Regis.

In the first game of the tournaments, the girls played excellent ball, knocking off 13th ranked Linn-Mar. They then beat IC West to move on to the Regional final against cross-town rival C.R. Washington.

The girls suffered a tough loss, but showed they came ready to play by outscoring the Warriors 17-6 in the first quarter.

Senior Noreen Niemeyer said, "It was a great season. We showed a lot of improvement, especially after Christmas."

Kendra Olson added, "Our team showed a lot of improvement over last year and we are looking forward to another successful season next year."

Compiling 16-1 record ...

Frosh excel at game

Success was the word that described the freshman women's basketball team this year. They finished with a record of 16-1, losing only to Linn-Mar. Head Coach Jeremy Rickertsen said, "I thought the girls did a very nice job of playing together as a team. We had four girls average in double figures in scoring. That shows we were very well balanced."

As the season progressed, the team began winning games by larger margins. They ended on a 13 game winning streak, beating their opponents by an average of 14 points a game.

Although the sophomore women did not have a winning season, they ended it with a win over Dubuque Hempstead, 33-32. The team had an overall record of 5-15. They won three games in the conference and lost two close ones by just three points. Everyone on the team contributed through hard work and hustle. Even though the record may not reflect it, the girls showed a lot of improvement and worked hard as a team.

The men's varsity basketball team placed third in the state by defeating Davenport North, 80-68.

Ryan Bosch, Dave DeSmidt, Ryan McCulla, Bruce Sain, and Tim Schroeder provided senior leadership for the 22-2 J-Hawks.

Schroeder and sophomore Ian Mattiace shared the point guard position. DeSmidt, Bosch, and junior Corey Young rounded out the other guard slot. Sain and junior Brad Hamann played small forward. Sophomore Jackson Jones and McCulla shared the post position, along with senior Jack Wilson and junior Drew Munson.

Post-season honors were numerous for the J-Hawks. Sain and Jones were named 1st-team All-Conference. Sain, Jones, and McCulla earned All-Metro selection.

The J-Hawks earned an unofficial Metro championship, with a 7-1 record against Metro foes.

Entire team returns ...

Team has strength

You may have noticed that on any given day in the summer there is something going on over the hill at the Jefferson Softball Complex. Whether it is practice or games or tournaments, the team keeps itself busy.

The 1995-96 Women's Softball Team is looking forward to a very successful season. With the return of everyone from last year, the girls are one of the top ranked teams in the state. Having qualified for the state tournament the past two years and finishing 8th last year, the girls have a lot of experienced players on the team. The team has earned a record of 7-1. Included in these wins were victories over Davenport West 4-0, Benton Community 15-0, and two wins over Davenport North 7-0 and 5-1. Conference wins included victories over Iowa City High 2-1 and two wins over Waterloo East 11-0 and 13-0.

The girls plan to keep busy with conference games every weekday and tournaments every weekend. Three of these tournaments are named after the team's seniors, Noreen Niemeyer and Kim Kaplan. In each tournament, the team faces tougher opponents and competition, but they know that this competition makes the team better.

The softball team takes a lot of pride in their program and plans to show this pride through their great play. If the girls work together as a team, they can definitely make this another very successful year.

1. Noreen Niemeyer, Erin Doud, Melissa McDevitt, and Kim Kaplan take a break before a game.
2. Kim Kaplan gets ready to stretch.
3. Liz Erbe pitches while Katie Fox gets ready to field the ball.
4. Tiffany Tiedtke and Lydia Tiedemann rest while lifting weights.
5. Christina Schmaltz, Fanaye Kifletsadik and Erin Doud are ready to play the game.
6. The team gets ready to go back into the dugout after a meeting.
7. Liz Erbe, Tanya Robinson and Melissa McDevitt pose for a picture before practice.
8. The girls on the bench pay attention to the game.
9. Katie Fox checks out her stats.

SENIOR SEND-OFFS

Mandy-

"There is an appointed time for everything..." and your time at JHS is just about over. Next step- NWC! Remember you can do all things with the Lord's help - just rely on him daily. Don't forget who you are and you will be able to reach your goals and dreams. You have made us extremely proud. Good on you!

We love you,
Dad, Mom, & Nathan

Congratulations Sherry!

You've done well and we are very proud of you. We will always be there for you, and wish you the very best!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Dustin-

We've been through a lot together. It's always been just us & we've stood by each other through thick and thin. Now, as we move forward in our lives, change is inevitable. But our history will always tell a great tale of father & son, friends 'till the end. I'm really proud of the man you have become & I hope you'll always treasure the memories of your childhood as I do. I love you!

Jodi (P-Nut)

Through the years you have filled our lives with joy, happiness, and love. You are a special person. Believe in yourself and reach for your dreams. Remember always that you are lovable and capable! We are very proud of who you are. We love you! Mizpah!

Mom, Dad, Traci and Cuddles

Hey Tammy, What can we say... you made it...we knew you could...Be yourself...Be proud...we knew you could...Be Happy...you'll go far!!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Amy, Dan
(Sid & Sam)

Kelli,

We are very proud of the beautiful person you are, and all of your accomplishments. May health happiness and success guide you through the future.

Remember, we'll always be there for you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

*Seniors shine
in the spotlight*

*You should be proud of how far you've come,
The choices you've made,
the things that you've made,
And the Class of 1996
deserves every success
For, in all that you've done,
you have given your best!*

Becky, Congratulations! you've always made me proud. Onward to the U of I!
"Reach high for, stars lie hidden in your soul.
Dream deep, for every dream proceeds the goals"

Love, Mom

Kia Lynn

"Our Lives are before us, our past is behind us, but our memories are forever with us."
Congratulations on all your achievements keep your dreams for the future.

Love,
Dad, Mom
& Family
96

Congratulations Shell, I know you are happy this day has come. We can't but feel sad, for it means you will be at home with us less. You are such a beautiful person inside and out. Have confidence in yourself! You really can use it.

Love you much,
Mom, Dad, Shawn & Tushi

P.S. Remember you can't move out until your 25!

From a wagon to a tricycle to a car, to the future. You've always been on the go. Good luck and happiness in all that you do and pursue. Congratulations Angela.

Love,
Mom and Dad, Big Sis, and Big Bro

Jodi, We have been proud of you from the day you were born. You are determined to not only try everything, but determined to be successful at everything you try. We know you will continue to make us proud as you go from high school to college and beyond. It won't be long and we will be seeing your name in "lights"!

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations Andrea!

We are so proud of you and all your hard work. You're a wonderful daughter and a very beautiful person inside and out. Hard work and determination to do your best will make you a success at whatever you do. Look forward to your future and enjoy every day to the fullest! We love you,

Mom, Dad, & Erica

Nicholas, we are all very proud of you. You have made an outstanding achievement. We wish you luck in the future. You are a very special person and we love you very much.

Love Ron & Vickii

Nicholas, I'm very proud of you honey. You have worked very hard to complete you dream.

Congratulations!

Love, Amber

Scott Anderson

From a little chunk to a big hunk!
Congratulations Scott!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Julie, Josh, & "Jakie"

Tracie,
Thanks for all
the memories,
and making us so proud. Good luck in college

Love,
Mom & Dad

Congratulations Aimee!

We're proud of the wonderful young women you've become! You have a lot going for you and a bright future ahead. Make the most of it! Strive for the best. We know that you can accomplish about anything if you just set your mind to it, and give it a shot! We have every confidence in you.

Lots of Love,
Mom, Dad, Adam

GO SANDY!!
With never a doubt

Congratulations Lexa!

We're so proud of you for so many reasons, especially for your dedication to your studies, friends, family, and the Lord. We encourage you to continue to make the most of the gifts that God has blessed you with and to use them to reach out and bless others.

Love Always,
Dad, Mom,
April and Andy

Edited By Matt Willett

Congratulations Lisa!
 You have made us
 very proud. Thanks
 for all the memories.
 We love you very much and wish you a future filled with happiness and success.

Love,
 Mom, Dad, & Sara

Jason, You've gone from a five year old cutie "dressed up" in his suit to a handsome, confident young man on stage at the Kennedy Center. Your singing has brought us such joy. We'll cherish the memories forever. We're so proud of you.. Your sense of humor, quest for adventure, determination, and innate goodness will take you far in life. Be happy. We love you.

Mom & Dad

Congratulations Joel!

We're very proud to have you as our son. We look forward to supporting you in your endeavors with the years to come. You will always be loved by us. Joel remember this!

"Some people dream about success while others wake up and work hard at it." We wish you only the very best for your future.

Love,
 Dad & Mom

Congratulations Briana!

We are so proud of you, and all you have accomplished. You have filled our hearts with such wonderful memories that will last a life time. Thank you for being the beautiful daughter you are. We wish you all the happiness you have brought us.

Love Mom & Dad

Briana, congratulations to the best sister anyone could ever have!!!

Love Ryan

Kevin remain the kind, considerate, caring person that you are. We are proud of you and wish success and happiness. Continue to work hard and you will reach your goals. Remember, we'll always be here for you.

Lots of love,
 Mom, Dad, and Tracy

Congratulations April

We are so proud of you and all you've accomplished. You're a beautiful person and we know you'll be a success at whatever you do. Remember, we love you always. We wish for you a lifetime of happiness

Love,
 Mom & Jen

Brooke,

We know it hasn't always been easy for you. But you worked hard to make it through. And we just want to say how very proud of you we are- not only on your graduation day, but always, and in every way. Just look at the great person you've become. You're a great daughter, sister and mother to your son. We're always here, with love for you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Justin & Chase too!

Congratulations Joe!

We are very proud of you.

Dave,

we are very proud of the fine young man you have become and will miss watching you as a J-Hawk! Yet, the future is bright for you and the best is yet to come. Stay true and work hard for your dreams.

Mom & Dad

Congratulations Andrea! With your mind hold on to great thoughts. With your heart, seek great dreams. With your soul, love God and his world! We love you and are proud of your accomplishments!

Dad, Mom, Devin and Cameron

Andrea, As you progress throughout your life, keep our dear Lord close to you. His closeness will keep you well and happy.

*Much love,
Grandpa Ray*

Laura's Smile

A Miracle, my infant a bundle to hold. The smile she gave me. More precious than gold. From toddler to youngster I watched as she grew. Trying hard, determined she'd succeed -- I knew putting child things aside. The snuggly, the toys, a teenager. A teenager now. Her interest in boys, cheerleading, and DECA. So involved she became. But the smiles that she gave me still stayed the same. Now she's a senior a success, as I new and her smile is the window, to watch as she grew.

We love you,
Mom, Larry, Grandma
& Grandpa Wayne

Forever...

We trode the path of youth together, holding each other's hand., we walked along the same rugged paths, but forever we would stand. Through tears and joy you carried me, and I vowed to do the same, I new I'd found my one true friend, who lived up to that great name. I pray to God to watch over you, each day's a brand new start, you know I'll never say goodbye, because you're carried in my heart.

Forever friends,
Lisa & Jodi

Just as June marks the end of another school year, the production of another Statesman comes to a close. I would like to thank each person that worked so hard to make sure we produced the best Statesman possible. A special thanks goes out to Mr. Smrha, who guided and instructed us each step of the way. I hope that everyone can look at this book in years to come and remember their 1995-96 school year at Jefferson as one of the best. As for the seniors, I hope we can all say that we had a great four years. This book will always help us to remember the good times we had during our final year together, and the friends we made that we will never forget.
