1997 Yearbook Theme

Groups excel

Jefferson kicked off the fall term of its 40th year with enrollment soaring to 1,700 students. The J-Hawks started the fall term with a bang in sports, fine arts, and academics.

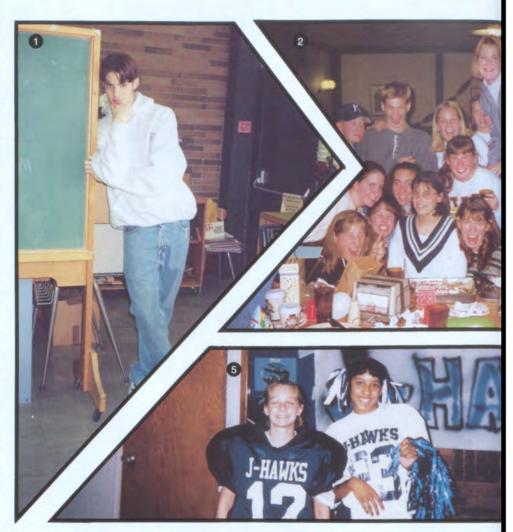

All of our sports teams achieved accomplishments during the fall season. The football team broke a 25-game losing streak by defeating rival Kennedy. The volleyball team took second in the state at the Five Seasons. And, girls' swimmers were district champs and some individuals finished very well at the state meet.

Westside Delegation followed in their great tradition with outstanding performances at open house and the Christmas Concert. The Concert Choir had the privilege of singing in Washington D.C. in December. Then at our fall sports assembly, the marching band received the news that they would be playing in the 1998 Rose Bowl parade next January 1.

As the fall term neared its end and finals approached, students were becoming more involved with their school work, and concentrating on their grades. As the school year progresses everyone is becoming anxious, especially the seniors, to see the end of May come fast.

With Jefferson's 40-year tradition of excellence, winter term was certainly no exception.

The Fine Arts department put on great performances of "The Real Inspector Hound" and "Beauty and the Beast." Westside Delegation took first in Urbandale, and put on an outstanding Valentine's Day concert. Mrs. Novy's speech team also earned a lot of trophies at their annual state competition.

Our winter sports definitely gave the crowds something to cheer about. This year we sent seven wrestlers to state: Tim Ironside, Brett Richardson, Toronald Harris, Dillion Kuda, Ryan Roff, Tom Eaton, and Dan Newhard. Tim finished fifth at 119, and Toronald, at 135, won Jefferson's twenty-eight state championship. The boys' swim team sent two individuals Keith Chismore and David Scott, as well as one of the relay teams to the state meet in Iowa City. This year the girls' basketball team also advanced to state after their thrilling victory over CR Washington. The boys' basketball team also did very well and was on its way to state to face Mason City, March 19.

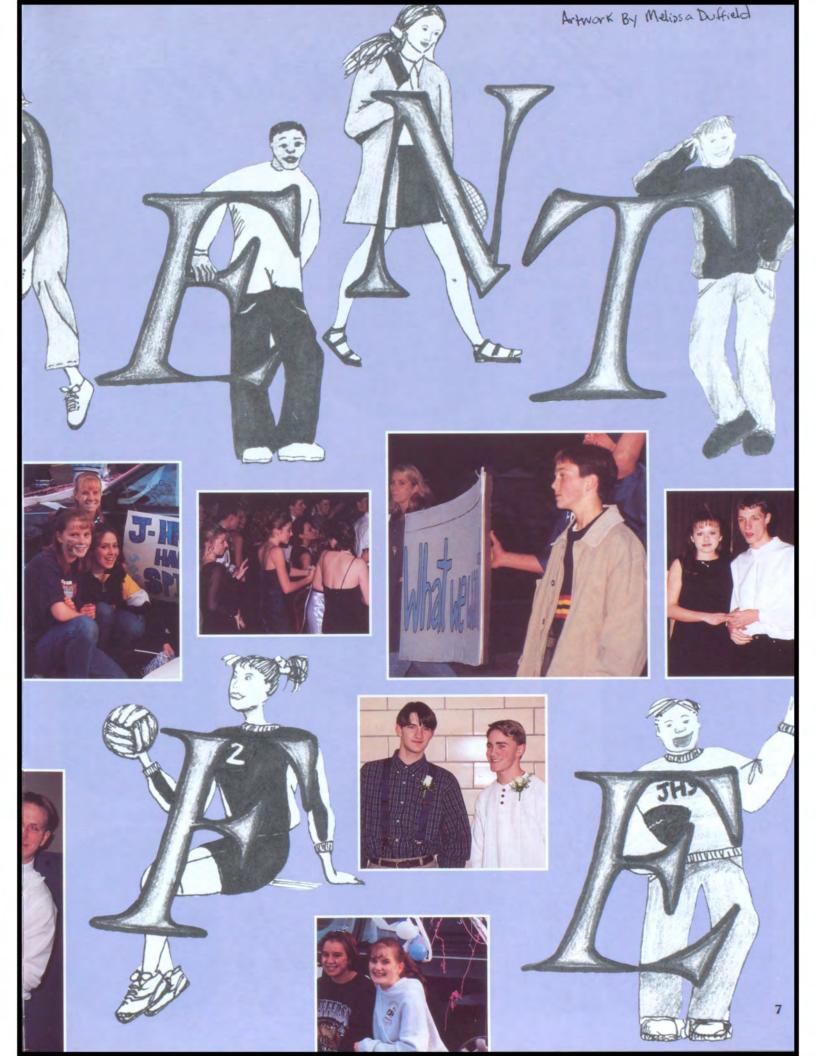

So, as winter wraps up, we look forward to spring and the fast approaching summer.

This year Jefferson celebrated its 40th anniversary with an old traditional Homecoming parade. All classes, clubs, and teachers helped design floats for the parade. Nominees for Homecoming queen and king rode in Corvettes during the parade. Students, teachers, parents, and neighbors all enjoyed the parade along its route to Kingston.

That evening Jefferson crowned a Homecoming queen, Renee Hackett, and a Homecoming king, Billy O'Dwyer. After Billy was crowned, he replied, "I felt privileged and surprised. It was fun being out there. All my friends were cheering me on."

The next evening, October 4, the Homecoming dance was held. The theme of the dance was "Forty Years Later. It's All Coming Back To Me Now." The song was Because You Love Me by Celine Dion, and the colors were purple and silver.

With colors blue and white ... Students show spirit

"Give me a J --- J" Give me an "H-A-W-K" What does it spell? J-HAWK! Yes, indeed, this truly was the year that students, faculty, and parents were proud to be part of the Big Blue machine. J-Hawks took teams to state in volleyball, girls' basketball, boys' basketball and wrestling and came home with the trophies to prove they did well.

According to Amber Rajtora, a member of the state runner-up volleyball team, "This certainly will always remain a highlight in my scrapbook of high school memories. I'm certainly proud to be part of such an exceptional group of high school girls."

Students in pep band, poms, cheerleaders, and matmaids spent endless hours to boost the spirit and morale of their respective teams. In preparation for the state meet, matmaids decorated the boys' lockerroom to show their team that the entire school was behind them.

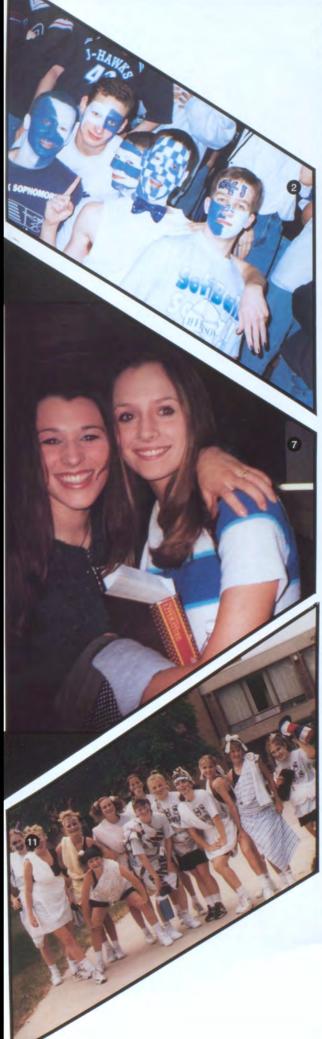

At the all-school assembly held to recognize winter teams, the smiles on students' faces showed all how proud we really were.

- 1. Mrs. Krejci, Krista Johnson, and Jenny Meyer show their enthusiasm during the spirit parade.
- 2. Junior guys display their pride at the boys' state basketball game.
- 3. Senior girls cheer on the J-Hawks. 4. Junior girls take a deserved quick

Night warms crowd

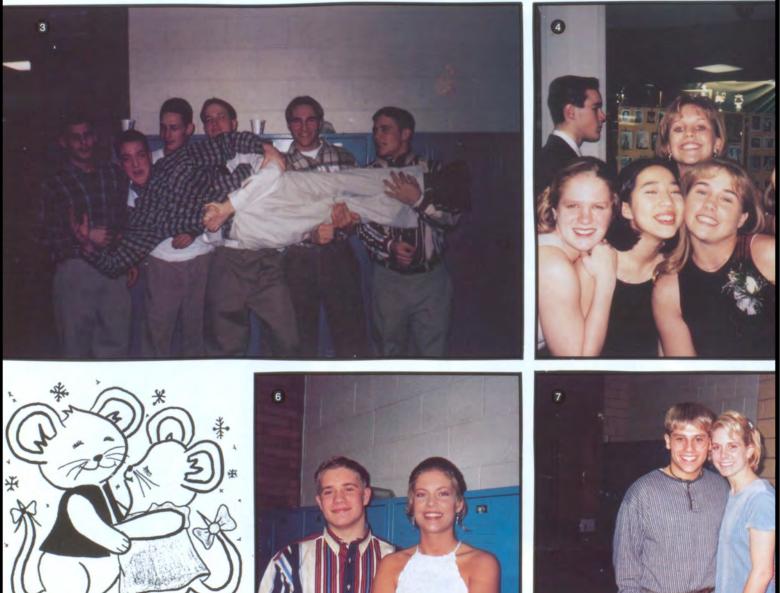

The winter formal, which was held this year on January 25, gave students a good reason to dress up and chase away the winter blahs. The semi-formal dance, in its second year of existence, replaced the traditional WPA dance, since students now elect a Homecoming king in the fall.

Sponsored by the Student Council, this year's theme was "Take My Breath Away" and the colors used to decorate were gold and forest green. Even though the WPA tradition was for the girl to ask the guy out, now it really doesn't matter who asks who.

Girls could be seen at the formal wearing elegant dresses or slack outfits while guys sported nice dress slacks and a tie. Before the formal, many couples went out to eat just as they do before Homecoming or the Prom. The evening ended up being rather expensive, what with the cost of tickets being $12 for couples and $6 for singles.

Megahnn Croy. junior, said, "Even though I didn't stay the whole dance, I had a good time while I was there! I had a lot of fun, and I'm sure I'll be going again next year."

Seniors remember prom forever

with elegant dresses & fancy tuxedos

Fancy, elegant dresses ... gentlemen in smashing, flashy tuxedos ... dining and dancing. A special night of romance and excitement. Prom night is one of those evenings you look forward to since you first step foot in high school. Everyone dreams of this enchanted evening. Once it approaches you don't want it to end. As couples waltzed into the dance on May 3, 1997, in the Jefferson gym, they glanced at the scenic castle that was standing in the distance. Many were escorted down the runway through a stream of raspberry and gold balloons at the grand march while pondering over the theme for prom. "A wish is a dream your heart makes" and that night many wishes were made from the heart.

Capturing studies

Looking back over the highlights of the 1996-97 school year, many events and activities stand out as being memorable. Few will forget the excitement of fall and the preparations that had to be made for Homecoming and the return of the parade as a part of the celebration. Oh yes, teachers still assigned homework during this hectic time, but we managed to survive!

It seems like more and more homework assignments were based around the computer, so special nights were set aside for the computer lab to be open. The addition of the Internet to the menu was a huge asset in gathering research in a hurry.

And let's not forget the importance of the electives which brought sunshine to otherwise dismal days.

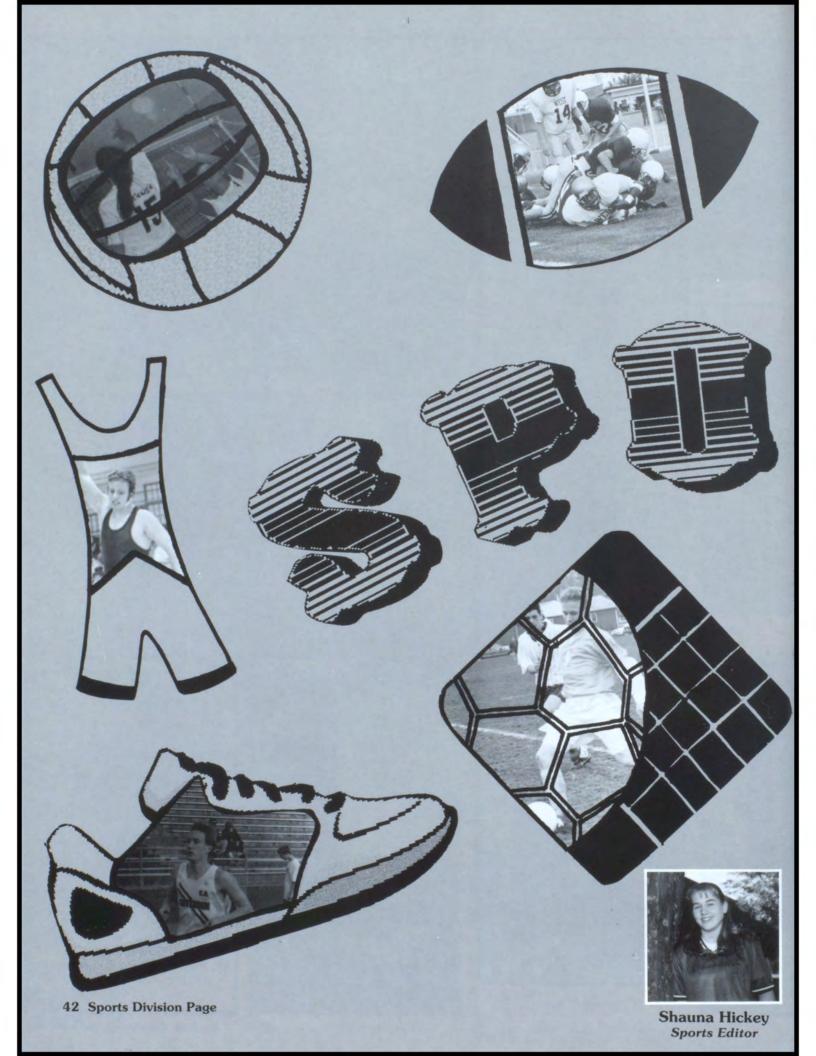

- 1. Amber Barkdoll and Lindsey Mitchell work on the computer during class. 2. Stephanie Morehouse and Kristi
- Skala pose for a photo on Hippie Day.
- 3. Students take a break from class to play hockey. 4. These senior guys show they have
- what it takes to pass American Government.
- 5. Tom Eaton and Diamond Luvan glance toward the camera for approval.
- Julie Unruh and Brad Hamann "cheese" it during Outlook class.
 Beau Galvin works at the chalkboard.
- 8. Meghann Croy creates her ceramic
- pot. 9. Students work hard during math class.
- Class.
 Seniors get final instructions before marching into the gym on Class Day.
 Wellness class is required of all fresh-men and is taught by Mr. Randy Dected Dostal.
- Kristen Widdel is pleased that her IMC homework is complete.

State was goal

The Jefferson Varsity Volleyball team was the first Cedar Rapids team to reach finals at state in the past twenty-four years. With the combination of skill and dedication, the road to state was a well deserved one, and resulted in much success. The team did outstanding in their conference, ending with a 7-1 record and an overall record of 30-7-5.

In the first round of the quarter-finals, the J-Hawks defeated Iowa City High. In the second round, the J-Hawks beat their long-time rival, Iowa City West. To go to state, the volleyball team crushed Burlington in the regional final. With a trip to the state tournament in hand, the girls looked to be victorious. The first round of state went smoothly with a win over Oskaloosa. In the second round the J-Hawks added another victory to their record by defeating Sioux City Heelan. Reaching the championship match, the J-Hawks faced a very strong Dubuque Wahlert, and finished the state tournament in second place.

Senior Cindy Schulte reflected back on her last season as a J-Hawk by saying, "Everybody worked hard and we were all very close friends, so that made the season enjoyable as well as very successful."

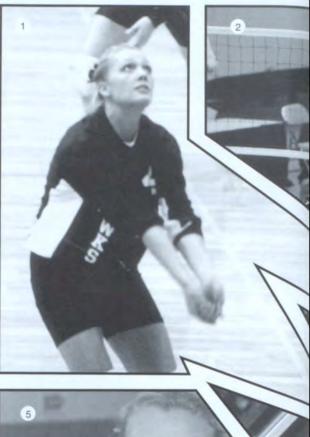

When asked if each player had reached their goals, junior Krista Johnson summed it up by saying, "Yes, because our main goal was to go to state and we accomplished it."

Coach Krejci, who earned Coach of the Year in the Metro Conference for the 1996 season, commented on changes that she would have made this season by saying, "I wouldn't change anything about the season. I had great kids to work with, they came together well as a team and achieved some pretty phenomenal things." By Lee Stahle & Anne Broghammer

Teams eye wins

The freshmen and sophomore girls walked through the gym doors in August, hoping to have a great volleyball season. They had that winning look in their eyes and they were prepared to take on any opponent. For the freshmen, it was time to prove themselves on the court. The sophomores brought back their experience to show that they had the skills necessary to have a successful season.

The sophomore team had the ability to take on the toughest of opponents. They believed that with skill and determination, they could take on anyone. When asked how the season went, Megan Johnston replied, "It went very well and real fast! Everyone worked together and always gave 110%". The sophomores had a great season. The effort that the girls put out showed results in the end.

The freshmen players had a great start to their school year by having a triumphant season. With their foot in the door, they took a step in the winning direction. They had an ending record of 15-12-4. Coach Paula Kincaid was asked if they had accomplished their goals by the end of the season. She replied, "Yes, this team learned a tremendous amount between the beginning of the season and the end. A lot of coaches that we met early on gave us a lot of compliments on how much we had improved and they didn't even recognize us." Coach Kincaid believed that, "We had a great group of girls. They had a wonderful work ethic and it was a lot of fun."

Dostal era comes to an end ...

Coach resigns job

Even though the 1996 football team did not have a 12-0 record at hand, they did produce a moral victory over a tough cross town rival, Cedar Rapids Kennedy.

The J-Hawk offense brutalized the Kennedy Cougars with a running attack that chewed up 217 yards. "They just couldn't stop us", said senior tail back Aaron Kingsbury. Behind steadily improving from game to game junior full back Jeremy Brown, and our BIG "O" LINE winning the war in the trenches, we were unbeatable that night.

The J-Hawks played some outstanding defense that night, holding J.C. Steinburg and the Kennedy Cougars to a -4 rushing yards. With Brad Rickard and Richard Cook holding down the front, along with our four linebackers, Brown, Ryan Roff, Mike Moody, and the relentless Ben Tricky, the Cougar running game was nonexistent. Holding the passing game down to the minimum were Lance Franklin, and Kingsbury at the corners, and at free safety, team interception leader, Corey Young. "For the people that worked all year long, this was more than just a "W" in the winning column" said Jeremy Brown.

"I've never been around a better group of guys. I'll never forget this season, the season we broke the streak", said Ben Trickey.

At the season's end, Coach Dostal resigned for professional reasons, claiming that even though he won't be the coach of the J-Hawks next year he still wants to remain involved with football in some way.

Squads learn skills

As every freshman J-Hawk football athlete knows, it's very important to get that one win under your belt, and that's exactly what the freshman achieved. "A 3-5 win, loss record is ok, but disappointing knowing we could have done better," said receiver Nick Brown.

They got off to a great start with a victory against Iowa City, City High. The sophomore football team had a squad that always started off well but could never really put it all together until Kennedy! Yes, that cross town rival, Kennedy, felt the frustration, and the harsh attack of the sophomore J-Hawks.

Putting the BIG HURT on the Cougars was the hard nose J-Hawk defense, anchored by Mitch Johnson at linebacker. "In mid-season, beating a rival team like Kennedy, 27-0, that's something I'll never forget," said receiver Mike Bruener.

Yes, coaches alone gave the athletes the opportunity to win. Even though this class of sophomores did not go undefeated, they did show the heart and determination of a true J-Hawk.

Running long distance in practice ... Athletes train

This year the J-Hawk Cross Team All Conference. Country teams were out in full force. Though this was certainly not the winningest season the teams have experienced, it was a well-liked one. Both the boys' and the girls' teams were very closely knit. When asked what her favorite part of being on the team was, Susan Hoelz said, "Everybody on the team was so friendly, it was fun going to practice."

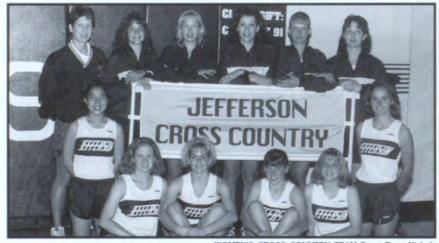

Though the teams' records were not outstanding this year, there are a few J-Hawk runners who won honors for their efforts. Erin Doud and John Ryan made us proud by earning All-Academic All-Conference honors and Katie Fox won both Honorable Mention and Second

Of the runners who were interviewed, most attributed their poor record to not running during the off season, attendance and scheduling problems, lack of belief in what we could do and, as Dalton DeSotel put it, "Too much messing around during practice."

One improvement they hope to see next year is more runners. This year the men's team numbers dwindled and the women missed having any freshmen on their squad. Another thing that would help the team would be to have fans at the meets to show the squads some school spirit! With these improvements, the 1997 season could be the best yet! By Betsy Meter

Squad excels

The 1996 girls' team had themselves an awesome year! They finished first at districts for the first time in the school's history. With a large team of 37, they completed the season with a ninth place finish at the state meet.

This season the J-Hawks took down two records. One relay, the 400 free, was broken by Brooke Ralston, Lindsey Raabe, Traci Koch, and Laura Marz. Brooke also broke the 500 free, at the state meet. At districts, 12 J-Hawk swimmers qualified for the state meet. The qualifiers included freshman Brooke Ralston, sophomore Sarah Stadie, junior Lindsey Raabe, and seniors Traci Koch, Laura Marz and Tristen Towe. Amber Bails, Amy Beer, Clare Snitker, Jesica Saenz, and Sara Cope were all alternates and the team manager was Sarah Leverinton.

At the awards banquet, Traci Koch was named co captain, Most Valuable, and Hardest Worker. Laura Marz was also named co captain, Most Valuable, and James C. Taylor recipient. The Sparkplug award went to Tristen Towe and Sarah Leverington. Hardest Worker award went to Amy Beer and Most Improved award went to Carya Kramer, Michelle Keith, and Clare Snitker.

Coach Feuerhelm summed up the season. "It was a fabulous season, we all pulled together as one!"

Men return to state

The 1996-97 men's varsity basketball season lived up to just about every expectation that was made, even a run for a state title.

In his sixth and final year, head coach Rick Williams took his state bound J-Hawks to the third straight state tournament. The J-Hawks began their season with three, one point heart breaking losses. But the young, though strong, and mighty J-Hawks made Cedar Rapids Prairie pay. And pay they did.

Just like Prairie, cross town rival Cedar Rapids Washington also felt the vicious bite of the J-Hawks. "Going to someone's house, and beating them at their own game like we did to Wash, ...

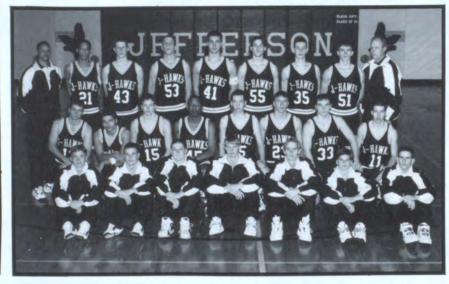

it's a good feeling," said junior lan Mattice. The trouncing of Washington ended by juniors Jeremy Brown and Jackson Jones nailing free-throws in the clutch. Other big victories included a strong finish at sub-state with Clinton.

The first round of the state tournament, the J-Hawks faced the #1 ranked team in the state, ... Mason City. But that didn't stop Coach Williams and his J-Hawks from meeting the challenge they were given.

Slowly but surely the J-Hawks fell more and more behind in the score, but never quit. "We wanted to send Coach out a winner," said junior Jackson Jones. The final score of the game was 48-45.

Squads works hard

The sophomore men's basketball team had an extremely successful season, breaking the school's previous record with an outstanding 17-1 season. Mike Hebert commented that the season highlight was beating I.C. West to become MVC champs. Andrew Tower also reflected on the season saying, "We played as a team, that was the key to our success this year."

The 17 wins set a school record at the sophomore level. This was only the third sophomore men's championship in Jefferson history. The squad finished with the best defensive average, 49.7 points per game, and the second best offensive average, 65.3 points per game, in the MVC.

The ninth grade teams also had some great season highlights. Both teams showed determination with overtime wins. The Blue team had an exciting 43-42 OT win over Washington Red. The White team also had two overtime wins over I.C. High's Red and White. Both freshmen teams ended their seasons with 6 wins and 8 losses. Coaches revealed that some notable team characteristics included hard work, intensity, and dedication. They put out supreme efforts for every game.

Girls to state again

The 1996-97 girls' basketball team accomplished many goals this season. They finished the season 18-6, a dramatic improvement from the previous year's 12-11 record. The team also made it to the first round of the state tournament after defeating Iowa City High at Washington High School. Sophomore Katie Fox added that another season highlight was a thrilling overtime win over city rival Washington. "They beat us last year to advance to state, so we felt that we owed them one."

Another highlight of the season was their 86-63 win over Prairie at home. Senior Cindy Schulte earned 2nd team All-State, 1st team All-District and 1st team All-Conference and All-Metro. Colbi Miller and Kristin Johnson both earned 2nd team All-Conference and 2nd team All-Metro. Chandra Hayes, Katie Fox, Melissa McDevitt, and Lydia Tiedemann all earned Honorable-Mention All-Conference and Honorable-Mention All-Metro. Coach Larry Niemeyer received the All-Metro Coach of the Year.

Looking back over the season, the team was proud it had earned its fourth trip to the state tournament since 1990. It was the fifth state trip under Coach Niemeyer.

Both teams work hard as ... Wins mark year

The freshmen and sophomore women's basketball teams both had fantastic seasons. Each girl walked onto the court hopeful and willing to do anything to defeat the opposing team.

The sophomore team showed its fierce competitiveness on the court. With the skills of eight girls, they dominated the Mississippi Valley Division. They won the 1996-97 Mississippi Division Championship with a 13-3 record. Look no further than the offense for the reason for their championship. The J-Hawks were the top scoring team in the conference.

Four players averaged above or near double figures in scoring per game. The leading average scorer was Fanaye Kifletsadik with 16.5 points per game and 76 steals. She had this to comment on about their great team, "We dominated the conference. With the help and skills of every girl, we proved to be the outstanding team." Jennifer Dahle was the leading rebounder with 5.4 rebounds per game and she averaged 10.6 points per game. Tanna Browning led the team in steals with 77. The members of the sophomore team have a great future ahead of them.

The freshmen team also had an outstanding season. They finished the season with an overall record of 14-2. They finished the Crandic Conference with a 12-2 record which placed them second in the Crandic Conference. Each and every girl put forth an effort that was fantastic. Coach Jeremy Rickardson believed, "All 14 girls contributed to the success of this team. We were a very balanced team.

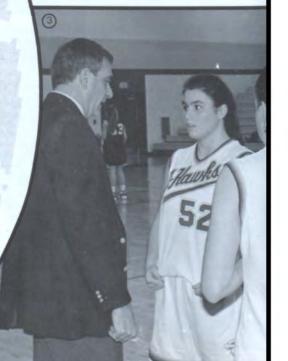

Everyone practiced their hardest and it showed in the end." Every member gave it their all and worked well as a team. Shannon Hoppes had this to say," I feel that as a team, we did awesome. We all came together to beat the toughest of competition." The freshmen team showed their competition that they meant business by finishing second in the Crandic Conference.

Harris earns crown

The 1996-97 wrestling season was outstanding with many accomplishments up and down the line to make every J-Hawk proud. For the second year in a row, the J-Hawks took seven to state and finished eighth in the team title race at state. The seven state qualifiers were state champion Toronald Harris, Tim Ironside, who brought home fifth place, Brett Richardson, Dillon Kuda, Ryan Roff, Tom Eaton, and Dan Newhard.

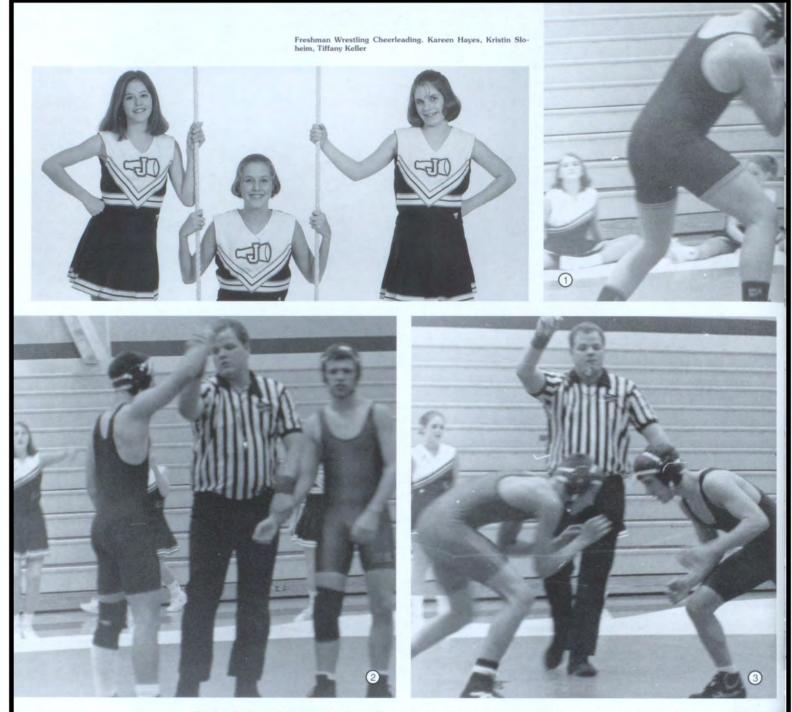

This year was a great year all the wrestlers were very hard working, they believed in themselves, and never gave up on their goals. This is due to great senior leadership, as well as followers. The seniors laid a foundation to build a bridge for the next peak of Jefferson wrestlers.

"This may go down as one of the most fun years of coaching I have had, due primarily to the wrestlers and their work ethic and positive mental attitudes," noted Coach Briggs. "This year's team was the most coachable team I have ever worked with. They knew when to pat each other on the back or give each other a kick when someone was slacking off."

Guys earn honors

Both the ninth and tenth grade wrestlers did an outstanding job during the 1996-97 season. This fact was proven by the number of awards which were handed out to the participants at the end of the season.

Clint Miller was awarded the Most Outstanding Freshman honor. Most improved freshmen ended up a tie between Josh Boyle and Nick Williams. As for most improved sophomore, the award went to Jason Cole. Special recognition went to David Daly and Joe Kirchoff for being inducted into the Guts Club. These two boys never missed a day of practice, never left early, and never showed up late to neither practices nor matches.

Coach Hegarty explained that David and Joe, as well as the rest of the team, are a "hard-working group." Other than awards, the 9-10 wrestlers did very well at matches and tournaments, he added.

The ninth and tenth grade wrestling team took fifth place at both the Rock Island and Bettendorf tournaments. They also came home with a third place win at the Southeast Polk tourney. These high finishes were befitting of a team that was celebrating its 40th anniversary as a sport at Jefferson.

Additional recognition included having some of the 9-10 wrestlers at some point during the season wrestle on the varsity team. Josh Boyle led the underclassmen with 16 pins. Coach Hegarty concluded that this year's team was "very coachable" and a "fun group of guys to work with."

Team gains skills

The men's swim team splashed onto the scene this year with 21 members on the team, which included only 4 seniors, and 7 returning Varsity letter winners. With strong Varsity and J.V. teams the J-Hawks proved victorious over Kennedy and Dubuque Senior.

Nine new members were added to the team this year. One of them was Erich Schmidt. Teammates Chad Derlein and Nathan Lawrence said that at the sophomore conference, "He rose to the occasion and flew past the competition."

Senior Keith Chismore and sophomore David Scott qualified for state in two individual events. Derlein and freshmen Blake Borrett joined them in the 400 yd. relay team. The team not only saw great leadership from the seniors this year but also from the juniors and sophomores as well.

Team awards went to David Scott for MVP and Hardest Worker. Joel Shugart received the James C. Taylor Award and the Spark Plug Award. The Most Improved honor went to Erich Schmidt. With only four seniors graduating this year and 7 varsity letter winners returning next year, the J-Hawks are optimistic about the future.

Working hard in practice ... Girls play to win

When asked about how the season went for the Jefferson Women's Soccer team, Coach Paula Kincaid had this to say, "Our record isn't indicative of our progress and growth as a team. Five losses were only by one goal. Our season highlight came just before the MVC tournament when we learned that Rachel Collins would be signing a national letter of intent to play for Mt. Scenario College. Our team is particularly close and we are very proud of Rachel - she is the first Jefferson Women's Soccer player to sign."

When asked the same question, varsity player Meagan Boyle said this about the season, "One of our best games, was against a top Iowa City West team, where we let them score only two goals and provided some tough competition for them."

Even though they only won two games the entire season, the team is very pleased with their overall performance. During the game against Prairie, Jefferson won 1-0, with the only goal being scored rolled by the Prairie goalie right into the goal.

Overall, the Jefferson Women's Soccer team played very well together. They may have only won two games, but they did their best and had a great time together at practice and during the games.

Team defeats Wash Pendergast leads team in goals

Under the leadership of Coach Terry Strait, the 1997 Men's Soccer team had a record of 5 wins, 6 losses, and 2 ties. The team was led by junior David Pendergast, who scored 12 goals and had 8 assists throughout the entire season. David was also KCRG-TV 9 Hardee's "Athlete of the Week."

At the soccer banquet the guys found out who became the winners of certain awards. Jeremy Vann and David Pendergast won MVP. Mike Tschopp, Brad Matt, Brandon Kohl, and Adam Sayer received honorable mention. All conference athletes were Jeremy Vann-1st team, David Pendergast and Erich Schmidt-2nd team. Jeremy Vann, David Pendergast and Erich Schmidt also were All metro 1st team athletes. The person who won best attitude was Joel Shugart, and Chris Hull was the most improved over the season.

In all the victories of the men's soccer team, CR Washington was the toughest. The J-Hawks have always tied with Wash, until this year, making it their most memorable game by beating Wash 2-1.

The J-Hawks went to districts with the opposing team being IC High. Although the guys lost 1-5 they walked away with their heads held high, and strong hopes for next year's season.

Otto Rajtora said that if he could change anything about the season it would be "the team's ability to work together." Jeremy Vann added that the team needed to work on "intensity, heart, and the desire to win." These are the goals for next year's season.

The season in the end came out to be the best for most of the guys. "Thanks for making my first year of soccer a blast, I enjoyed every minute of it," concluded Chris Hull.

86 Sports Year in Review

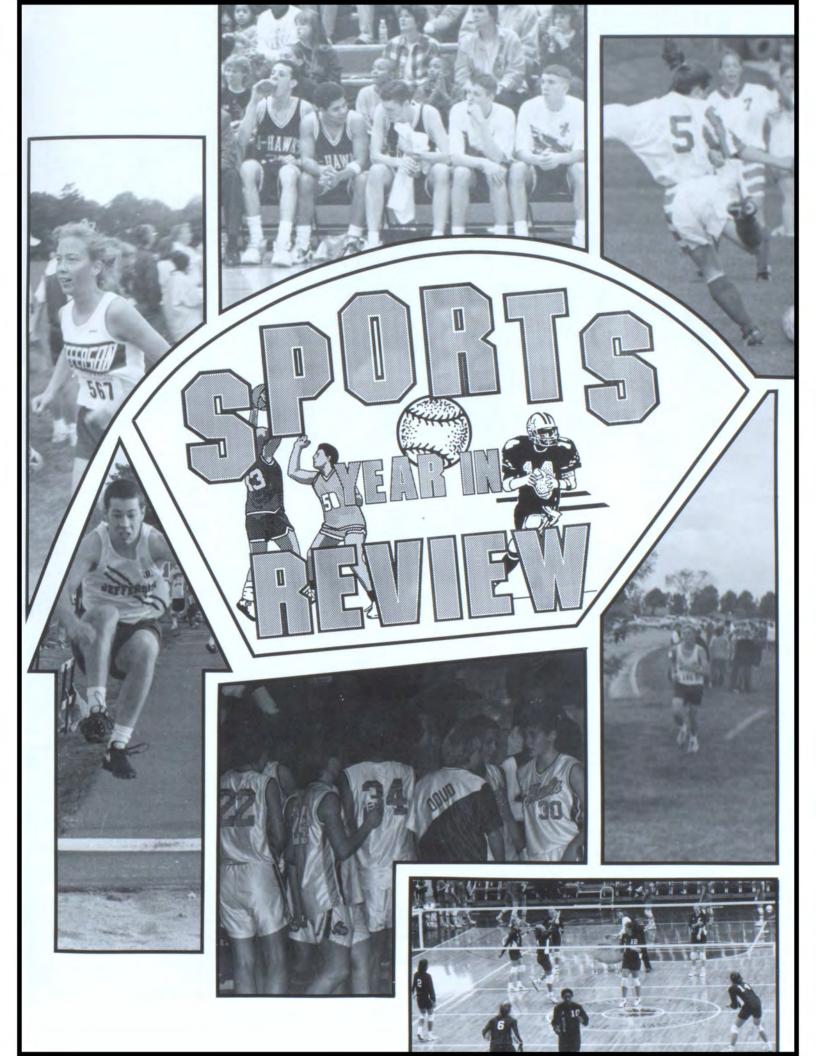

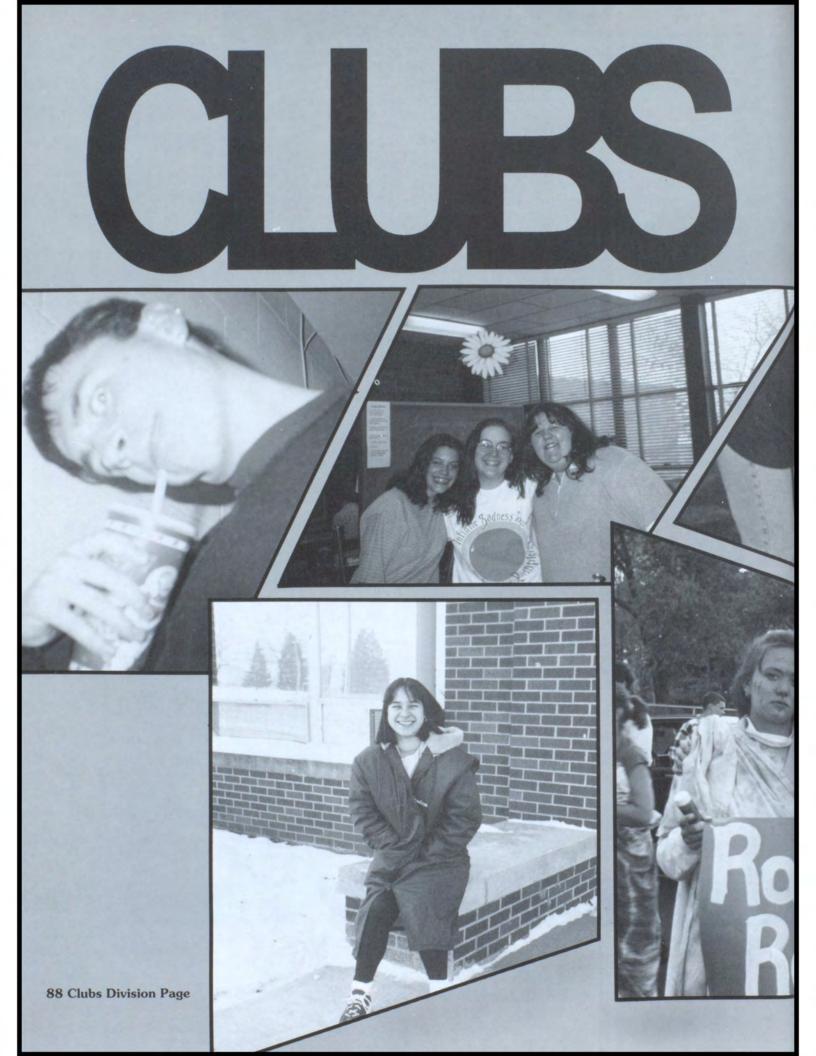

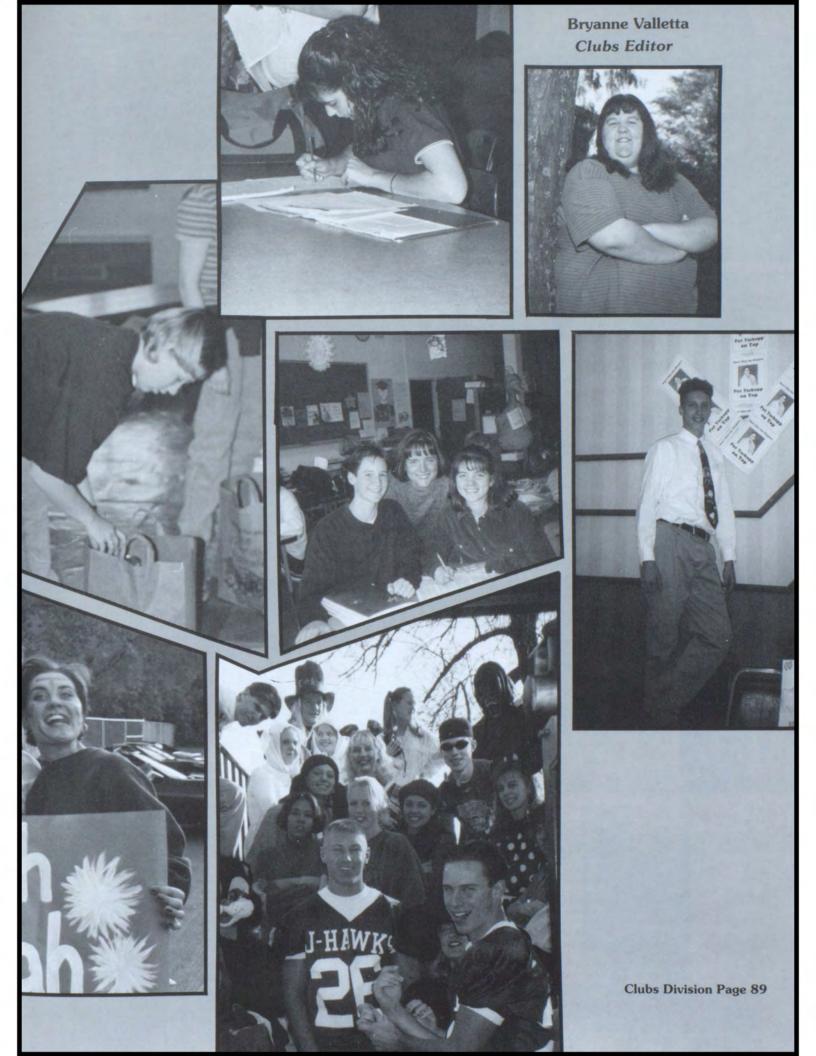

Arranges many projects ...

Council active

During the 1996-97 school year, the student council has been extremely busy as usual. They started the new year off with Homecoming. This year, Jefferson had its first ever, Homecoming parade. The parade was a huge success and the groups who decorated the floats enjoyed it immensely. The parade started at Jefferson and ended at Kingston. Student council members also decorated for the dance.

Winter Term was a busy time for the student council. In December, they organized the annual food drive. It was very successful. Once again, Jefferson was the top distributor this year. Enough food was received to feed 100 families throughout Cedar Rapids.

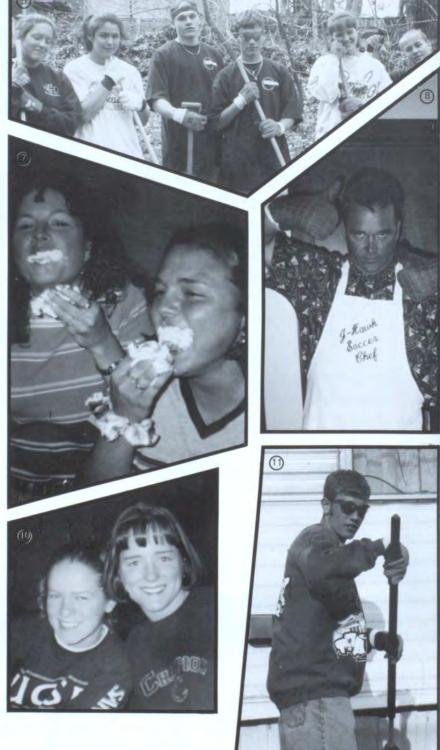

In January, 12 members participated in a run/walk at Coe College for the American Cancer Society. Students that participated said that they felt good about what they were doing because it was for a good cause.

Spring term, Student Council participated in Days of Caring for United Way. They devoted an entire day to doing community service work around Cedar Rapids. They also grilled out for the teachers on Staff Appreciaiton Day. The teachers were grateful and said that it was nice to know that the students cared.

By the end of the school year, the student council reflected over the past year. All the members were in agreement that the 1996-97 year was a fantastic year for the student council and many of them will be participating next year.

Book covers year

Times were busy and sometimes even hectic in the Publications Office as some 112 students worked hard to publish this 1997 Statesman. Under the supervision of their adviser, Mr. Ron Smrha, the group was challenged in meeting its six deadlines, according to co-editors Laura Marz and Holly Henderson.

The year started out in September with all staff members suggesting improvements to be made over last year's book. Next, students built ladders telling specifically how much coverage each sport and organization was to receive in this year's book. Finally, the order of events was determined by each section editor. Throughout the year, students created new page designs to be used throughout the yearbook.

Layout editor Angie Nelson had a difficult challenge before each deadline selecting the layouts to be used in the various sections of the yearbook. Her goal, she revealed, was to provide a pleasing combination between basic and advance designs to tell the story of the 1997 school year.

To help keep the yearbook ad free, a select group of students organized a silent auction which turned out to be a huge success. Many local companies donated items that were bid on by students and faculty members.

During the course of the year, each staff member was responsible for editing a layout to be used in the 1997 yearbook. In order to do this, first a layout had to be designed, pictures taken, and cutlines and copy blocks had to be written. This process put a lot of stress on staff members but in the end they realized they had produced a layout that would appear for everyone to see in the 1997 Statesman. This is perhaps the only time that students will be able to claim that they published a book.

Though meeting all deadlines was hectic, much fun was had by all in the process. Pizza parties, doughnuts, and bribes from the adviser all made the experience memorable and fun, agreed Sara Cope, head photographer.

Under staff's leadership ... Issues aired

Outlook, by Webster's dictionary definition, is a mental view or attitude. Definition by those in class was a creative, successful, enjoyable journalism paper. Stephanie Morehouse said, "I would tell anyone to get in this class when they can. It's a great experience for anyone and it's a lot of fun too." Everyone asked said they had a fun year on the staff and definitely would do it again. The only faults of the class were deadline day (because everyone was grumpy), and the stress with coming up with headlines, and all the projects that they had to do at the end of the third term. Those were the jeers, the cheers were the centerspread, pictures, and the cheers and jeers. One of the best things published this year was the personal ads. When asked what some favorite articles of the year were the responses were the "Macarena" article by Chris Metz, and the "Tanning" article by Emily Quaas. Lindsey Marshek was asked what she enjoyed most about the year and she replied, "Seeing my name in the newspaper!" The year wouldn't have been as exciting without the Outlook staff. What would we have done to bug our teachers. Teachers always had to keep telling us to put our papers away, but usually they gave in and let us read them. Outlooks saved the day!

Jobs help learn

This year's DECA class consisted of an average of 30 students who studied all of the techniques of marketing. Other than class obligations, DECA students also competed in test and role playing situations at Districts and State.

This year, DECA senior Mike Tschopp, earned a state office position as Vice President of Communications for Iowa DECA. As an officer at the state level, Mike is learning a lot about communicating with others while working to make Iowa DECA a success. Congratulations and Good Job!!!!!

When asked what was best about DECA and how it helps in the marketing world, class members said, "It's great! It really prepares you for the business world. It teaches you good communication skills for relating with marketers, entrepreneurs, and business owners."

It's also a great way to meet new people throughout the year with all of the community activities DECA students are involved in. A closing remark from DECA member, Ben Trickey was, "I Love It!"

If you think the DECA program sounds interesting to you, be sure to contact Mrs. Bev Spilman before your senior year to apply. Those who are accepted into the program usually attend classes in the morning and then report to their job sites in the afternoon. The job entails more than just job shadowing since students hold the job throughout the entire school year.

Skills are used

Once again Mr. Niemeyer advised the Office Education class this year. The class consisted of about twenty members who became employed by various companies in the community. Many were employed by Rockwell, but there were also positions held at banks, pharmacies, and even with the Cedar Rapids School system. Each student performed a variety of tasks, ranging from typing to communicating with the public.

The Office Education program helps students get jobs that they usually wouldn't get on their own. The jobs require a lot of responsibility and dedication. Mr. Niemeyer said this year he received a lot of positive feedback from the employers. He added this year's group of students were great workers with very professional attitudes.

On-the-job training is not the only part of the program. The class consists of seniors and meets every day in room 248. This is where they practice all of the computer and business skills needed for their jobs. They also practice job interviewing skills, and participate in other business-related activities.

Rachelle Little, this year's Office Education president, was extremely pleased with her involvement in the program. She had this to say about Office Education, "I feel I've gained an enormous insight to the business world, and received a great head start!"

Anna Harad

Being an exchange student can be good to grow up and learn so many new things. It was the best expericence for me. I'll always remember all the good times and all the awesome friends I made here at Jefferson.

Marleen Restina

Sure, Iowa and Cedar Rapids is really different, if you come from a big city like Berlin! And even though I just continued what I used to do in Germany with coloring my hair blue, purple, green, ... I might have shocked some people, but I guess that's what I wanted to do!!!

> Love and Peace Marleen*

I'm so glad that I made the decision to come here. It is an awesome experience that will be with me all my life. I never thought it would be so much fun and I never expected to make the friends that I have now. It was hard to be away from my family. I'm really lucky, and I want to say 'Thank you very much' to each one of you who made my dream come true.

Movsisyan

Hello! My name is Tatevik. I'm from Armenia, it's not Romania or Russia, it's Armenia. I've really enjoyed my stay here in the US! Of course it's hard to be so far from your country, family, and friends, the people who care about you. You start to think independently and solve your problems by yourself. So I think this has been a very good experience for me!

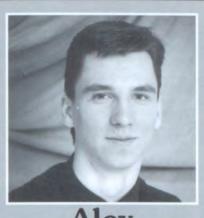

Adriana Paula Vinecentin

Being a foreign exchange student was a wonderful experience. I had a great time learning about this culture. Thank-you to Jefferson High School, to all my teachers, and to my host family.

Jonas Dahlberg

My experience in the US has been very positive. Of course, it has been hard from time to time. Being away from home and family has been a challenge. Friends and teachers here have made a great effort to make probably the most important year in my life a good one.

Alex Pogrebnoy

I have found people here very friendly. I have found the United States and particulary Jefferson very different but I still enjoyed it.

Marie Palsson

For being a school, Jefferson is very nice. I'm very impressed with Jefferson's sports programs. One part of the year that I definitely will remember is the volleyball season. I learned things that I never dreamed of, that I could do and at the same time I had a lot of fun. I'm having a good time and I hope I can come back and visit you all again.

From gathering and processing information, the tedious memorization that accompanies world geography, to more innovative methods such as eating cherry life-savers every time one discusses, tests, or even thinks about the subject of math. These are just a few techniques our Jefferson Academic Decathlon used to reach the top. From all of these methods, explains the team's coach, Mr. Wojtowicz, "One of the most difficult parts is trying to adjust to every student's learning style." Yet they did adjust and reached the top of the nation. The Jefferson Academic Decathlon made it to Nationals, placing eleventh in the nation.

The Academic Decathlon team consists of a group of students who understand teamwork and hard work. With the strong leadership of Coach John Wojtowicz and steady flow of bright young talent, things are looking up for Jefferson High School's Academic Decathlon teams in the future.

On National Honor Society Recognition Night, April 21, 1997, Jefferson students were proudly addressed by Matt Paul. Paul was a former Jefferson student council president and now is a special assistant to Mayor Clancy.

Inducted to the National Honor Society were ninety-one Jefferson juniors and seniors. These students were added to the sixty-six seniors already inducted into the National Honor Society last spring, bringing the National Honor Society members to one hundred and fifty-seven students, both juniors and seniors.

These students are recognized for having a 3.5 and above grade point average for three consecutive terms. Also, the inductees were the students who show leadership traits, good character, and service for our school and all the students in it.

Practice makes perfect ... Team earns honors

Director of the speech team, Mrs. Kathy Novy, was incredibly happy with this year's speech team's success. Two of the members who represented Jefferson, and received many honors were Andy Marz and Stephen Hieneke. They were both double All State winners and were nominated in both Acting and Literary Program categories. Other outstanding recognition was given to Catherine Aumer, who was an All State performer in prose. Jessica Huston also performed at All State in Public Address.

This year's Large group consisted of twenty four members. They competed in many different events and also received honorable awards. The Choral Rreading Group performed "Shakespeare A la Carte," which was an All State nominee, and Readers' Theatre performed "Adaptation." This performance received three "1's" at state, but was disqualified when Aaron Hoose accidentally picked up a pencil and used it as a prop. Perhaps he learned his lesson in "adapting" to the rules!

Mrs. Novy was extremely happy with this year's success. She also added that these next few years could be some of the best years for the speech team yet. This is because the sophomore members possess many strong speaking and acting skills. Out of the twenty four entries that were taken to competition this year, seventeen of them were sophomore entries.

If you would be interested in joining the speech team see Mrs. Novy, or her assistant, Mr. Erbe.

After hours of practice ... Show reveals talent

The Band of Blue had another successful season this year. The music chosen for this year's show was written by Timothy Mahr. The repertoire included "Fanfare and Grand March," "Fantasia in G," and "Hymn and Celebration." According to Mr. Houk, "The music challenged us and was a strength." Director Earle Dickinson felt, "When ever you successfully perform difficult music, it is well worth the extra effort."

The Band attained its seventeenth consecutive division one rating at State Marching Band Contest. They also placed second at the Marion Marching Band Contest this fall, and fourth at Valleyfest.

The Jefferson Drum line also had a successful season. They earned an outstanding first place finish at the Washington Drum line Contest, and they hosted the popular Jefferson Drum line Contest. "Trepak", from The Nut Cracker, "Rosemont Ripoff," and "Slavonic Dance Number" made up their repertoire this year. Tash David said, "We had a positive experience, but it was a lot of work."

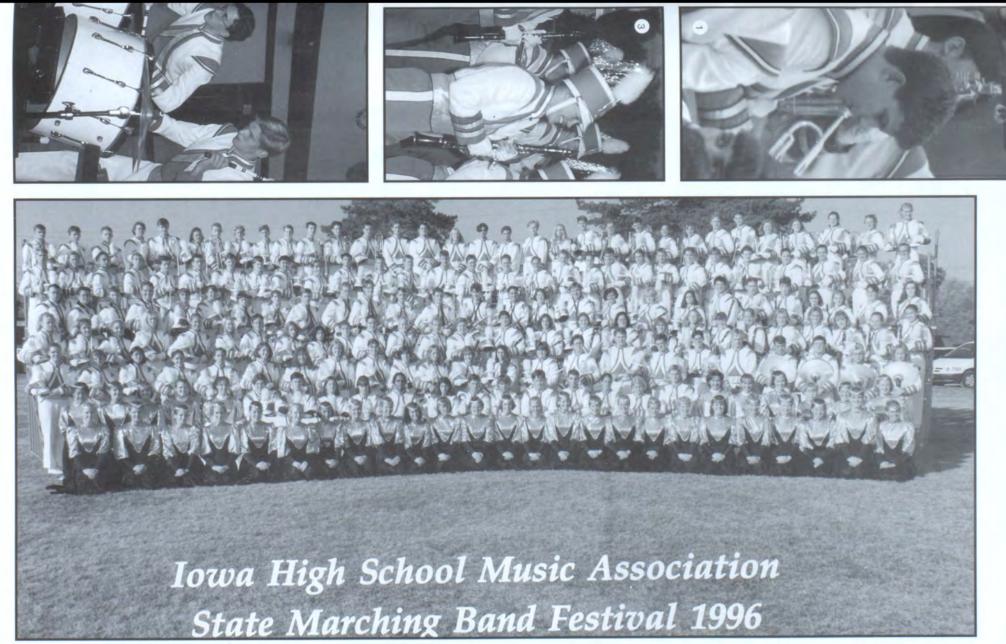

1996 was an exciting year, and we hope to be equal, or better, our next season. Mr. Dickinson believes that the Band of Blue's reputation has "remained constant throughout the year." At the season's end band members accepted an invitation to march in next year's Rose Bowl Parade.

The road ahead looked rocky for both the color guard and the poms at the start of the '96-'97 season. After being left coachless at the end of the previous season, the poms had little time to find someone qualified. After considering a couple different applicants, the search was successfully ended when Eve Mattiace was hired.

For the second year in a row the poms won second place at the Westdale Mall competition. They also won an award for best choreography along with many other awards and ribbons at camp or various performances. The poms were also excited about getting new uniforms for the second year in a row. These helped to bring in even more crowd excitement.

The color guard also attained another successful season. With the addition of dancers in the final piece, the feeling was interpreted through not only the music, but through these dancers as well. The crowds were very impressed with the new ideas of the added instructors. After struggling all season to piece together the show, their final performance was a huge success.

To top off the great season, the guard was ecstatic along with the band to hear the news of their acceptance to march in the Rose Bowl Parade in Pasadena, California, in the 1998 parade. It looks like they have yet another exciting season to look forward to. Along with the excitement brings much more work for both color guard and poms to tackle during the upcoming season.

Bands kept active

The top two bands at Jefferson High School are the Wind Symphony and Symphony Bands. Members practice long and hard for concerts held throughout the year in addition to making special appearances at conventions held throughout the year.

Certainly a proud moment for Wind Symphony members was the standing ovation they received from over one hundred band directors at the Iowa Bandmasters Association convention. To be invited to perform, Mr. Dickenson had to have a recording of the Wind symphony performing various selections. Then, the long wait began before they received word that they had been selected to perform a forty-five minute concert at the convention.

Wind Symphony also earned its twenty-second consecutive Division I rating at State Large Group contest this year. During their trip to Chicago, they were rewarded with a second place gold rating.

The Symphony Band, led by Mr. Houk, received an honorable mention and silver medal in Chicago. They also earned a Division II rating, missing the top rating by only one point, at the State Large Group contest.

Year has been exciting ... Groups perform

This year has been especially exciting for Jefferson Orchestra members. Besides earning a Division I rating at state large group contest, the Orchestra also won first place and the Grand Champion award at a contest in Chicago while on their spring tour.

Performing comes easy for many students in Orchestra. "I like performing in front of people - especially when we sound good." revealed Melissa Lekin, soph violin player.

Perhaps what has made this year's Orchestra so successful is their positive environment. Students also enjoy the teaching style and guidance given by their leader, Ms. Driskell.

"I appreciate all the time she puts in, and Ms. Driskell also selects interesting music and also rehearses with us so diligently to help us improve." noted Liz Johnson, sophomore violin player.

Besides Orchestra, many players also play in the Symphony Orchestra which includes members from the Jefferson Wind Symphony.

The Freshman Concert Band has undergone changes this year. Due to the fact that the band had 120 members. Mr. Dickenson and Ms. Driskell decided to divide the band into two groups. The groups were just too big to learn anything effectively. Mr. D noted that 120 students is just too large a number.

Dividing up the bands has allowed the two teachers to improve their instruction.

Earning many distinct honors ... Groups rate tops!

This year's Jazz Band received many outstanding awards. A Division One rating was earned at State Jazz Band Competition in Cedar Falls. Outstanding soloist awards went to Mike Krejci, Brian Maiers and Curt Jackson at NEIBA district jazz. The Jazz Band also performed several times throughout the year in noncompetitive concerts. The Jazz Band made its annual appearance at the Jefferson Talent Show. Mr. Houk feels that in order to have a successful jazz band, "You gotta get with the groove." The Jazz group played a large range of music styles this year. Swing, blues, shuffle, ballad, and samba are a few of these types. Jazz Band can be viewed as more difficult than Concert Band because the same rhythms are played differently in Jazz Band. According to Ryan Hoagland, "Jazz Band helps prepare you for real life

Nine instrumentalists traveled to Ames this year to take part in the All-State Festival. This phenomenal number is a record for the Jefferson fine arts program! Twenty vocal artists accompanied the band members to this elite event. It took hours of hard work and dedication to make it to All-State. Due to too many people auditioning for All-State in both the choir and band departments, the directors had to pre-audition students to decide who could represent Jefferson at the All-State tryouts.

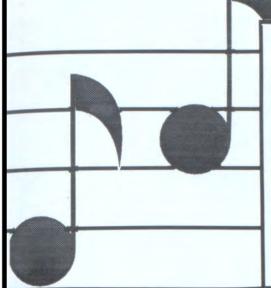

The Meistersingers had a very successful season. "They have studied a very wide spectrum of choral music," Dr. Eklund said. Throughout the year, many students have shown a great amount of personal growth. As a long range goal, Dr. Eklund hopes to make Meistersingers an A.P. course. He also feels that, "Next year's choir should be quite strong." Meistersingers is looking forward to another rewarding and productive year.

The Concert Choir guys made their way back to Washington, D.C., in December, only this time they were accompanied by the Women's Choir. While in Washington, they made recordings at the National Cathedral and toured various monuments and sites.

Members agreed that the trip was indeed a huge success. In addition to the sightseeing opportunities to museums, there were scheduled stops at dinner theaters, and of course numerous hours spent shopping at malls in the area.

Aside from school concerts, these two groups also traveled to Luther College for the Dorian Musical Festival. And who will ever forget the numerous hours spent practicing for the state contest where both groups ended up with division one ratings. The choirs ended the year by singing at commencement exercise at the Five Seasons.

Choirs learn quickly ...

Practice, practice

Practice, practice, practice, more practice, finally perform. That is the drill for the members of our prep show choir, Ovation, and our freshman show choir, Encore.

Although they may sometimes get tired of all the early morning rehearsals, the members of these groups have proven that hard work really does pay off.

Ovation has definitely had a great year. With two first place finishes in the prep division at the Urbandale and Mount Pleasant Invitational, and second place overall (second only to West Side Delegation), at Mount Pleasant, the group has shown that if you are dedicated to being the best, you can surely be the best.

Junior Tiffany Friis says, "The highlight of the year for me was when they announced the winners of the Mount Pleasant competition, and we found out that we beat all of the show choirs from other schools, and was second place to West Side."

Encore has also had a good year. Although they didn't compete at all, they dazzled us with their great performances here at school. The members have experienced the thrill of performing, and how it feels to awe the crowd.

The 1996-1997 school year has been a terrific year for Westside Delegation. Their greatest accomplishment happened on March 19th and 20th, when Jefferson's Show Choir participated in Showstoppers. The National Show Choir Convention was held in Nashville, Tennessee, this year. At the Opryland Hotel, WSD competed against fourteen other high school show choirs.

Not only did Westside Delegation participate in Showstoppers, they tied for first in the overall competition. Sharing the co-championship with Westside was the show choir from Clinton, Mississippi, Attache. This is an outstanding feat for Jefferson's show choir to accomplish. With the leadership of Dr. Pete Eklund, Westside was more than prepared.

B.J. Montague and Kevin Worley, both seniors, participated in the soloist competition at Showstoppers. They were two amazingly talented show choir competitors who were confident enough in their abilities to compete at the national level. Worley placed an amazing fifth with his solo "Honey Bun," a song from the movie "South Pacific."

Dr. Eklund is known for his strict attitude and beneficial teaching. However, his dedication to helping Westside be the best they can, deserves recognition as well. "He's brought us a long way," senior Leslie Thomas commented on his behalf. "Westside wouldn't be Westside with out Pete." When asked what she thought of Dr. Eklund's directing, Thomas told us, "From the music he arranges to how he gives us each opportunity to excel; Pete teaches us things you just can't learn in the classroom."

Obviously, many long and strenuous hours are put into Westside Delegation. The forty-seven students who worked hard to make Westside one of the best show choirs in the country, certainly deserve the recognition they have received. Jefferson High School has much pride in its student body, whether they be athletes or artists. As our show choir, Westside Delegation, certainly helps to generation much of this pride in our school.

Group performs

This year has been a very prime one for Jefferson's Thespian Troupe 561. At the beginning of the year, a new director was introduced into the drama department. Mr. Rick Anderson took over Mike Peitz's old director position, and Mr. Peitz then took over Mr. Geuder's old job, as head director, since he retired.

This year's troupe president, Katy Thomas, believes the drama department has done well. "We had the loss of the Thespian office, but we were still able to stick together, even with the loss of Mr. Geuder, but we got another great director in the process."

The Thespian officers for this year were Katy Thomas, president; Kevin Worley, vicepresident; Emily Quaas, secretary; Katie Straw as treasurer, and Emily Johnson as scribe.

One of the dilemmas this year has been deciding what was to be the spring musical. At first, Evita was the main choice, but was later eliminated, because of the lack of main characters. Many other options were tossed around, until the music and drama directors decided on Pippin.

"We've had a very successful year," remarked Thomas. "We've pulled off original, challenging shows. With all of the vast adjustments we've had to keep up with, we've done very well."

With new head director's help ... Actors succeed

This year's fall play, Neil Simon's Brighton Beach Memoirs, mixed comedy with drama in a very unforgettable and fun way. It was presented in Jefferson's Auditorium on November 7-9.

This play focused on a Jewish family living in Brighton Beach, Brooklyn, New York, during the Depression, in the year 1937.

It was narrated through the eves of young Eugene Jerome, played by Aaron Hoose. Other cast members included Scott Fratella and Bri Waychoff playing Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jerome; Lisa Hunt as Blanche, and her daughters were played by Heidi Clark and Sossity Davis. Joel Hatfield played Eugene's older, troubled brother, Stanley.

Sossity Davis, who played Nora, commented, "The play was a lot of fun to work on, because the cast got really close and new friendships developed or grew even stronger."

The set for Brighton was done in a more unique style than most sets. The house seemed to be cut down the middle, so the audience could see all of the scenes going on in the various rooms.

On December 12-14, The Real Inspector Hound, was performed in the Little Theater. The play takes place at Muldoon Manor in Essex, England. It can best described as a play within a play.

The show starts out in the 1970's with two critics, (Matt Deter and Brandon Clemmons,) who are supposed to critique a play set in the 30's. The dialogue and action switch from the actors being viewed by the critics, to the critics themselves. Before you knew what was occurring, the critics find themselves onstage, wrapped up in the play they were viewing earlier in the evening.

Other cast members included Katherine Aumer, Steve Huneke, Alex Klinkhardt, Kirk Munson, Angela Torres, Kevin Worley, Corey Coleman, and Emily Johnson. One of the most unique roles, however, was played by Craig Hauschildt, as the passive, dead body which spent its time underneath the couch with an occasional arm or foot sticking out.

The set was constructed in a more old-fashioned period, reminiscent of the Gothic Style, complete with Gothic arches, a brick fire place, and French doors.

Murder, mystery, comedy, passion, and intrigue rolled into one to provide many enjoyable evenings shared by the cast, crew and audience.

Kids enjoy play

Children's Theater this winter was the classic tale, Beauty and the Beast. A preview was held on January 29th, with seven more performances scheduled on January 30 - February 1st in the Auditorium.

Everyone's familiar with the charming story. A selfish, young prince is cursed by an old witch, and turned into a hideous beast. A woman takes shelter at the Beast's castle, and attempts to steal his special rose. The Beast lets her go back to her home and children, if she promises to return to spend the rest of her life at the palace as his prisoner. Her kind daughter, Beauty, takes her place, and grows to love the harsh and bitter Beast.

The role of the Beast was played by Andy Marz and Dirk Munson, opposite Jennifer Frey and Hannah Jeffrey who portrayed Beauty. Madame Rondeau was played by Katrina Purdue and Noelle Rotkosky.

Also included in the tale were the enchanting pieces of furniture, a moving chair, (Matt Hagmeier and Brandon Clemmons,) a creative painting, (Katy Thomas and Holly Upah,) and an expressive clock, (Angela Torres and Kerry Kieler,) which resided in the Beast's castle. -Michelle Swanson

- Andy Marz puts vigor and animation into his role as The Beast.
- Jennifer Frey chats with the amiable furniture, (Angela Torres, Katy Thomas, and Matt Hagmeier), upon entering the castle.
- Frey mourns over Dirk Munson's death, resulting from her departure.
- Katie Straw puts a savage curse on Dirk Munson, which changes him into a beast.
- Steve Huneke is attacked by furious furnishings; Holly Upah, Kerry Kieler, and Brandon Clemmons.
- Fearful Josh Baack and Kevin Worely don't exactly, "storm the castle."
- The family gapes in awe at Frey's glamorous new accessories.
- Sonya Ehret condemns Nick Gefaller before fulfilling her curse on him.
- 9.) Katherine Aumer coaxes Noelle Rotkowsky to take the special rose.
- Jon Rustebakke takes time out after Friday's late show, to take his place on the throne.
- Mike Schulte and Frey glow in the light of their love.

The same question ran through the minds of all in the audience; What was with all of this fog? A figure stepped out onto the stage, and began to tell of a little town called Grover's Corners.

This spring, the Jefferson West End Players performed the popular play, Our Town, written by Thornton Wilder. The main idea of the play, was about how people never really appreciated and absorbed life while they were alive. The production had three acts. The first act was about youth, the second act about falling in love and getting married, and the third act about death and letting go of all that we know and are familiar with.

Our Town is told through the point of view of the stage manager, played by Steve Huneke. The play centered on the life of Emily Webb, (played by Carly Visek,) and George Gibbs, (played by Aaron Jackson,) who have known each other all of their lives as neighbors in the little town of Grover's Corners. That's disrupted, however, when they find that they're falling in love with each other. Mr. and Mrs. Webb were played by Andy Marz and Sonja Ehret, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs were portrayed by Dirk Munson and Sarah Gardner.

The cast and crew had abundant praise for their work and roles in the show. Emily Johnson, who played Mrs. Soames, commented, "The cast and crew came together to produce a great ensemble performance."

Hit musical reveals ... Life has meaning

The spring musical put on by the West End Players and Orchestra this year was the hit musical comedy, Pippin. It was put on Wednesday, May 21st, through Saturday, May 24th.

Pippin is the somewhat simple story, about the eldest son of a king, (Pippin,) and his adventures as she tries to find something "completely fulfilling," for him to dedicate his life to. The role of Pippin was alternated between Mike Schulte and Ryan Howard.

Pippin tries to find fulfillment in battle with his father and brother, as king, and even as a handyman around an estate, but nothing seems to live up to his expectations. He finally finds contentment with his love, Catherine, (played by Carrie Powell and Katy Thomas,) and her young son, Theo, (Robert Johnstone.)

The Leading Player of the story was portrayed by the animated Kevin Worley, who narrated, sang, and danced with heart throughout the show.

The makeup and costumes in the show were lively and full of originality. The fairly simple set, as well as a few outstanding backdrops, made Pippin an exciting show to behold and be a part of.

We've had many great times girls! With one year left, let's make it the best possible! Shauna

Always.

Reliving the year

Jefferson High School has a 40-year tradition of excellencestrong athletics, winning fine arts, active clubs...and this year was certainly no exception.

Westside Delegation made the school proud by tying for first place at the nation-wide show choir competition, Showstoppers, in Nashville, Tennessee this spring.

Following in the great traqualifiers, and had successful seasons overall. The J-Hawk baseball team had a great season, and were on their way to state until a disappointing upset ended their season. This year's softball team was very strong and captured another state trophy on August 8 in Fort Dodge.

Finally, to wrap up the academic year, graduation took place on May 31st at Salute ...

It's almost August, and as we finally finish the last two pages of this book, we would like to thank...ourselves, for taking time out of our summer to finish the 1997 Statesman. On the other hand, we couldn't have done it without the help of this year's staff, who did a wonderful job. Thanks to all of you, this year's Statesman will be one of the best ever. Also, a big thank you to Mr. Smrha for his leadership and encouragement. We hope that you enjoy this book, and will appreciate all the hard work that went into making it a
