During fall, students create many memories

Another summer is long gone, and it was back to school for students everywhere this fall. Shorts and sandals were put away, sweaters came out of their summer hiding spots, and leaves fell to the ground to be raked all across the Midwest.

It was a fresh start for freshmen who experienced a new environment, J-Hawk style. After adjusting back to old school routines, upperclassmen were back in their element, getting involved in numerous school activities and bringing pride once again to the halls of Jefferson.

During fall term, we met new friends, reunited with old friends, and did our best academically and in other school activities. We also taught a new generation of J-Hawks that this isn't just any high school; it's the best one in all of Cedar Rapids.

With the start of this new school year brought many new friendships and accomplishments, making this term unforgettable with all of our memories in the making.

Summer and early fall are best times of year

Plop, plop, fizz, fizz oh what a relief it was to see the school year come to an end in June and the arrival of summer vacation. Trips to Palo beach, family-planned vacations to hot spots, and countless hours at jobs to pay the car and insurance bills kept students going from dawn to dusk.

"I really enjoyed the weather in June, but then it turned hot and humid during July and August," explained a tanned student who spent her days lifeguarding at Noelridge pool. Most students agreed that the weather was not that co-operative this summer but they quickly added that they were just glad to be out of school.

All too quickly summer ended and it was time to hit the books once again for the start of another school year in late August. The first day all-school assembly is something to always look forward to along with the first day always being only a half day of classes.

Before we knew it, Homecoming was upon us and hours were spent searching for the right date and the ultimate outfit that would make just the right statement. A freshman girl, who spoke to us on the condition that she remain anonymous, revealed to us that she spent almost $350 on her outfit for Homecoming. She explained that she wanted everything to be just right, including her accessories which took up a good share of her budget. Was it worth it? "Not really, she said as she noted her date and her didn't really hit it off, which meant for a very long evening.

When not attending classes, students could be seen supporting their favorite athletic team. Home football games were enjoyable this year since we finally started to win games again. Who will ever forget that first game of the season when we beat Linn-Mar or that victory in overtime over the West

Waterloo WaHawks during Homecoming.

The fall weather turned brisk and events became more numerous, including, a volleyball trip to state, which meant a half-day of classes for the J-Hawks, and the "House of Blue Leaves", the fall play, earned the honor to perform at the International Thespian Festival in Lincoln, NE.

A night to remember is one dream that everyone has when it comes to Homecoming. You have the football game, the crowning of the king and queen, and most important---the dance. You have the funky, you have the elegant, and you have the flashy dressers who all come to have a good time with their friends.

It always seems to be the favorite and most exciting dance of the school year. "Getting ready to go out to eat" is senior Amber Barkdoll's favorite part of the evening. Of course, everyone has their favorite place to eat. Junior Jill Kelly had a unique place to eat. She went to Arby's and revealed, "It's my favorite place to eat and it was extremely fast!"

During the week of Homecoming, everyone remembers something funny they did, whether it was the seniors decorating the cafeteria or it was the different styles of dressing up during the week to promote spirit. Senior Stephanie Morehouse remembers the spirit assemblies, the floats in the Homecoming parade, the crowning of the two kings, and the different styled background that Read Photography used for the couple pictures.

This year Student Council tried something a little different. The group decided to have the dance in the old gym. Everyone seemed to like it because there was so much more room. It didn't get as hot and there was more seating for people to rest and drink pop during the songs they didn't want to dance to. The DJ also played many different styles of music, from fast R & B to rap, hip hop, and of course the ever popular slow tunes.

The theme this year was "How Do I Live Without You" by Leann Rimes. Those who attended said this was a very good song to play for it makes you realize how you really feel about the one you love. When the dance got over at 11 p.m., the couples got their coats and looked back on the memories they just made at possibly one of the most fun dances of their high school years.

Jefferson's Homecoming this year was marked by an all-time first in the 41-year history of the school. The reason for this was because there was a tie between Luke VanDorston and Chris Holt for the title of king. Since both seniors earned this honor, both were crowned along with Megan Carpenter, who was named the new queen.

The crowning of the kings and the queen occurred during half-time of the game against Waterloo West, which the J-Hawks won 35-28 in overtime. This marked the end of a memorable spirit week and the beginning of the excitement for the dance the following night.

MY HEART

Couples attend dance to warm their hearts

The annual winter formal, held this year on January 24, was a great success, according to many students. There was a tremendous turnout of students who showed up at the dance, ready to have a great time on the dance floor. The weather wasn't perfect, but it wasn't all that bad. This year was the third year for the winter formal, which was previously known as the WPA dance, where the women asked the men.

The winter formal, sponsored by the Student Council, had the theme, "My Heart Will Go On" by Celine Dion. The dance colors used were silver and purple, and tickets cost $10 per couple and $5 for singles. Pictures were taken by Read Photography before and during the dance. Couples went out to eat before the dance started in various restaurants in the Cedar Rapids and surrounding area. Some couples even opted for the romantic dinner at home approach.

The dance was held in the cafeteria, and most who attended claimed the d.j. was fantastic. Various types of music were played. From rap to eighties music, there was a variety to please everyone. Many of the men dressed in nice shirts, ties, and dress pants while the women dressed rather formal. When the dance ended at eleven o'clock, everyone looked extremely hot, and a little worn out, but they all claimed to have had a good time. Special thanks goes out to all the teachers and faculty who helped chaperone this dance.

When senior Katie Stein, was asked what she thought of the dance, she replied, "I had a great time, but being my senior year, I'm a little sad that this will be my last winter formal dance that I will ever attend."

Students learn many lessons

Teachers stress many concepts using a variety of effective teaching styles to their students throughout the school year. Some rely on lectures, others utilize discussions, while many feel study guides are the best way for students to retain the concepts they've just taught them.

However, not everything retained by students is learned by reading a book. In fact, many students interviewed stressed the fact that peer pressure is a highly successful method of getting your message across to your friends. Sarah Dukes, a freshman, decided after thinking back through the school year that a very important lesson she learned was to make sure to always be nice to people. A little kindness goes a long way, she noted.

Meanwhile, Amber Noggle, a sophomore, learned another most valuable lesson from her teachers. That is, friendship is a quality that one must value and should never be taken too lightly. Many teachers interviewed stressed that they are deeply concerned by how their students treat each other and this principle of friendship is one they reinforce often in class discussions.

On a more humorous note, junior Andrew Kuennen noted that this was the year that he finally learned how to count from 1-10 in his math class. Certainly, this is one skill that he will not soon forget!

When students got bogged down with all their homework assignments, many buckle under the pressure and get behind in their homework. This is unfortunate.

Senior Dustin Bennett, commonly referred to as Gopher by his close friends, learned a most valuable lesson this year. He explained that he finally has learned to study hard throughout the term and not to slack off.

When choosing top students ...

Methods do vary

Which system for choosing valedictorians would be best, Washington's or Jefferson's and Kennedy's?

Washington permits all students above 4.0 to be valedictorians, while Jefferson and Kennedy limit it to the top 1% of the class.

*There are so many students above 4.0 that it wouldn't be that special. Valedictorians are supposed to be special.

-Freshman-

*I think that Washinton's way is better because everyone should be honored for getting 4.0 or better.

-Sophomore-

*It's more of an honor to get it at Jefferson or Kennedy.

-Freshman-

*I like Jeff/Kenn plan because it's been a tradition. We've always done it this way. If we change our system it will be hard to accept.

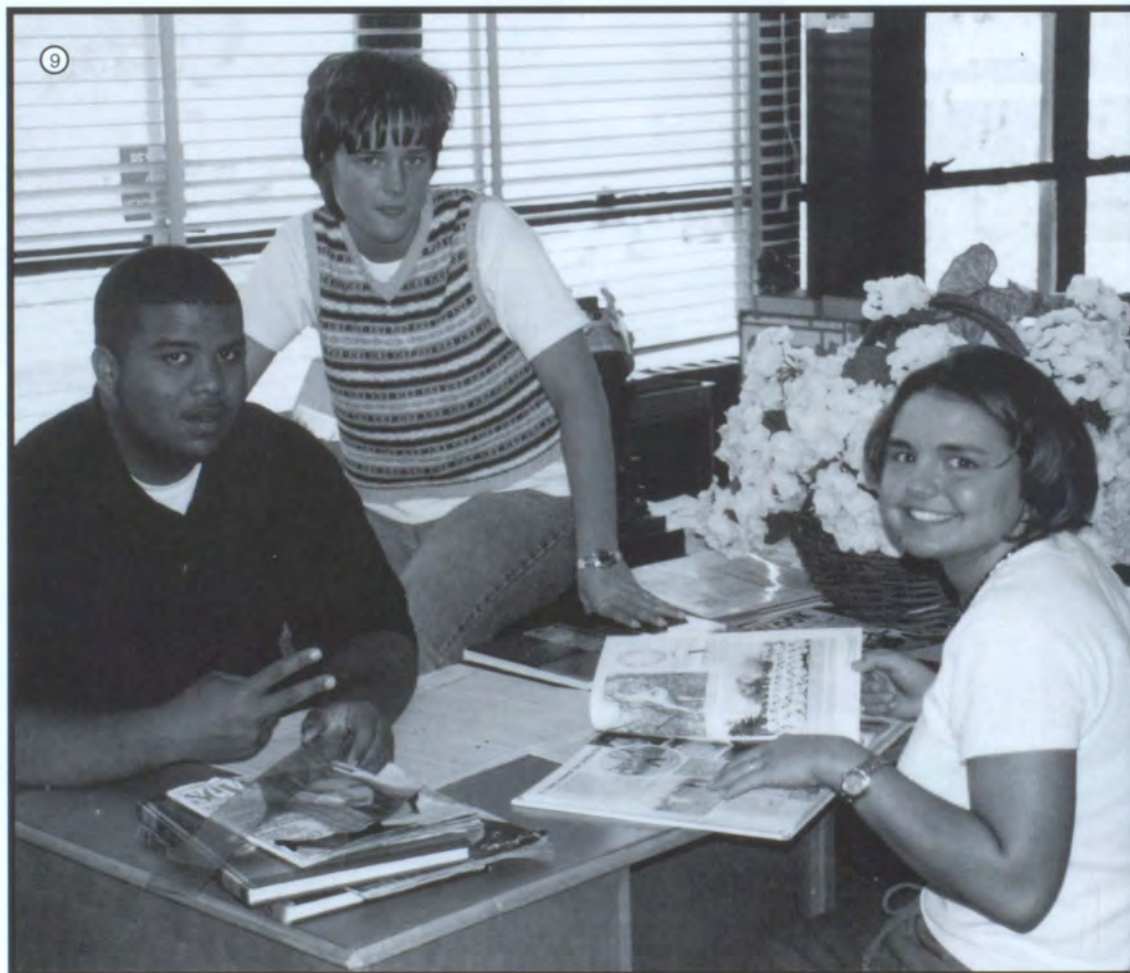

-Freshman

*Jeff/Kenn plan because there would be a lot of valedictorians, if we had all the students above a 4.0 GPA.

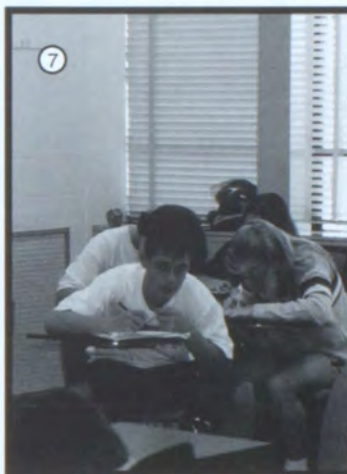

-Senior-

*Jeff/Kenn plan is what I choose because we need to limit our choices. We don't want too many or else we will make it look like we don't know what we're doing.

-Senior-

Friends matter

As the 1997-98 school year comes to an end and friends say goodbye, many students look back and remember some of their favorite memories outside of the classroom. Whether it is being with friends, participating in extracurricular activities, just hanging out, or working, Jefferson students have definitely had a memorable school year.

Many students were asked this question: "What was your favorite memory from this school year that happened outside of the classroom?" Here is what the newest additions to the school — the freshmen — had to say. Nicole Faul, a softball player, said she enjoyed hanging out with all the new friends she has made by participating in this sport. Phil Snyder loved the Band of Blue's trip to California. And Jedediah Chung said the last West Side Delegation concert was very memorable.

The sophomores, who have a little more experience at this school, also voiced their opinions. "Meeting new people and making new friends was my favorite part of this school year," revealed Jinna Lee. Melinda Sherzer agrees with many other students about the trip to Pasadena. She said, "The trip to California and marching in the Rose Parade was one of the most memorable events of my entire life!" Alex Schild commented that she really liked going to the Homecoming dance this year and added that she felt it was very worthwhile.

The junior class is especially excited, because they will all become seniors next year. But they express that they had a wonderful junior year and this is what they'll remember most. Alex Fowler said that he loved being with his girlfriend at school and that he loves her very much. Meanwhile, going out to eat with friends from school was considered fun for Angela Nesselhauf. Another exciting event was when the girls' basketball team made it to state and that was definitely Colbi Miller's favorite memory. "Going out with my boyfriend and other friends was a fun part of this school year," according to Natalie Heubner.

Jefferson students had a good time inside the classroom too, but most readily agree that time spent away from class was certainly much more fun!

The roar of the crowd came back to Jefferson football when the team completed their best season in four years. The senior - strong team was able to compile a 4-5 record, including a big overtime Homecoming victory over Waterloo West. The J-Hawks were expected to have a good season. Even though the team didn't meet all its goals, it was the start of a promising football tradition.

Junior John Welsh commented that it was a great rebuilding year and that the team was beginning to become very close. Senior Richard Cook said, "The Jefferson program is going uphill. Plan for the J-Hawks to be in the playoffs soon."

Head Coach Dave Jacobsen agreed with Cook saying, "We laid a good foundation for the future success of J-Hawk football real soon!"

Freshmen victorious

Much of the excitement surrounding football this season involved the freshman football team, who steamrolled, over their Mississippi Valley Conference opponents this season to finish 8-0.

The frosh started off their impressive campaign with a big win over a tough Iowa City West Trojan team, 14-0. This set the stage for the following week's cross town rivalry over the Warriors of Washington High School, which the young J-Hawks easily won, 30-12. But the biggest game of the season was yet to come when they faced off with the Prairie Hawks. At this point in the season, both teams were 6-0. But the J-Hawks controlled the game from the opening kick-off as they proved once and for all who the better team was by winning the game, 34-12. This victory for the freshmen clinched the Conference championship.

If it wasn't a pass from QB Blake Tiedtke to Andrew "Bub" Wagg or Roman Mitchell running in for a 2-point conversion, then undoubtedly the win over the Prairie Hawks was the thing that made this season so exciting. "We feel it was a learning experience, what we were taught this season will hopefully help us to go undefeated the next year and the year after that," explained Jerry Tuttle, a member of the team.

Perhaps the season could best be summed up by a comment following the final game for the season, when a player was overheard commenting. "To those of you who went to the games, the team says 'thank you' — because you've just witnessed the Varsity State Football Champions of 2001 in action."

Looking back over the season, players interviewed commented that the one thing they missed the most this season was the absence of fans at their games because they missed "one hell of a season!"

Meanwhile, the sophomore J-Hawk football team ended its season with a 2-6-1 record. Led by head coach and motivator Al Chism, the J-Hawks were very energized. After a disappointing season, the team hopes they can improve in the off-season, and help the Varsity squad next year.

Clint Miller commented, "There's always next year," (as any typical Chicago Cub fan would say), "and next year should be a whole new Varsity experience for us." Indeed, it seems as if the entire team wants to put this season behind them and start a whole new era. The sophomores are looking forward to helping next year's Varsity squad to become victorious in any way that they're called on to do so.

Wins keep coming

Team makes state again this year

"A Second Straight Trip to State!" This headline could only describe one fall sport at Jefferson this year — the girls' volleyball team. Coached by Suzanne Krejci, the team won the Mississippi Division of the Mississippi Valley Conference for the third year in a row with a 7-1 record.

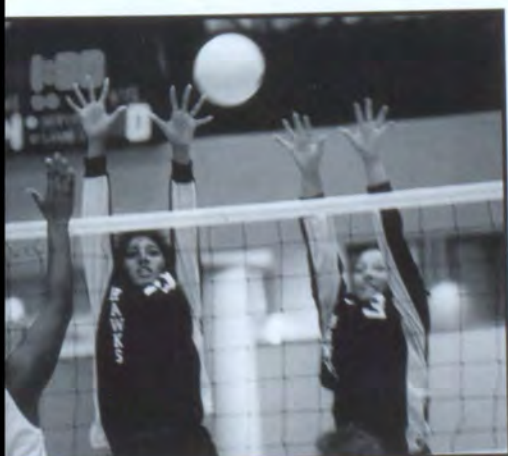

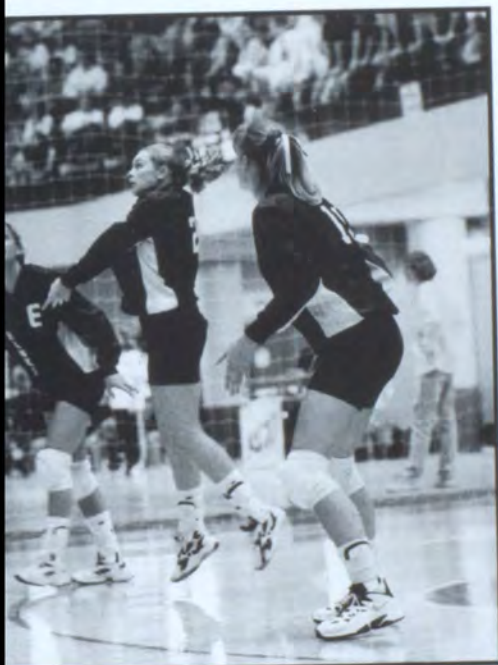

To qualify for their second straight trip to state at the Five Seasons Center, the team defeated Dubuque Wahlert in the Region 6 final. The J-Hawks are the only team to beat Wahlert since the 1994 season, and the first team to beat Wahlert on its home court in nine years. The team faced a tough Waterloo Wahawk team in the first round of state play and came up on the short end of the straw.

In addition to these outstanding accomplishments, the varsity team finished with an impressive 23-9-2 overall record. Tiffany Aschbrenner, Shauna Hickey, Erin Nekvinda, and Krista Johnson were all selected to the All-Conference and All-Metro teams. Jennifer Meyer, Megan Tschopp, Colbi Miller, and Tiffany Tiedtke also received post season honors. Aschbrenner was one of only 32 chosen to play in the Senior All-Star Volleyball Match.

This team consistently played excellent volleyball all season, noted Coach Krejci. Certainly, they will be remembered by fans for their poise and dedication to success which they displayed throughout the season, she continued.

At the season's end, Coach Krejci announced her resignation as head coach to pursue other interests, including looking after a newborn child and continuing work toward a graduate degree.

VOLLEYBALL

Unity is crucial

Teammates practice hard for wins

The Junior-Varsity volleyball squad finished their season with a 3-5 overall record. The team showed continuous improvement throughout the season in individual skills and team continuity. Several players were chosen by their teammates for special awards, best offensive player; Stacy Locker and Amanda Zentz, best defensive players; Stacy Locker, most hustle award; and Heather Scheumann, most improved player award.

Meanwhile, early in the season, members of the girls' sophomore volleyball team signed a contract to play as a member of a team. This team concept was stressed throughout the season. Players were asked to buy into the ideas of "there are no individual players" and "success will come from a common team agenda." The ideas that were promoted by the coaching staff and accepted by the members of the team warranted a successful season.

There were many exciting games and matches during the season. Winning was part of everyday in practices and matches.

1. Showing off her hidden talent is Jennifer Beer.
2. After a hard day of practice, these freshmen girls have fun just hanging out.
3. Working together to block a hit are sophomores Jennifer Foster and Lacy Blackhawk.
4. Giving it all she's got, Meghann Johnston hits the ball.
5. The girls listen carefully as Coach Jandik gives them helpful advice.
6. Meagen Boyle, Sara Rickertsen, and Monica Evens are all smiles during a timeout.
7. After winning their game, the freshmen girls take timeout to celebrate.
8. Serving the ball in perfect form is Meghann Johnston's goal.
9. Karen Phelps knows that concentration is the key to the perfect hit.
10. The JV team gets set to return the ball.
11. Always prepared to help the ball over, the JV girls watch intently.

es. The sophomores finished 1st at a Sophomore Invitational and 3rd at the Iowa City West and CRANDIC Invitionals. The crowning moment of the season had to be earning the MVC Co-Championships. The team finished 6-2 in the MVC and 18-7-5 overall.

The Freshmen White and Blue Volleyball teams completed a most successful season. The White team finished 10-7, while the Blue team went 9-8. Individually, the White team captured 8th place and the Blue 9th in a 20-team in-season tournament. The two teams combined to give the J-Hawks an impressive overall 4th place finish.

Meets test stamina

This season proved to be a highly successful one for the girls' cross country team, which saw themselves end up 5th at the 11-team district meet.

The J-Hawks were led by junior Katie Fox, who dropped more than 40 seconds off her previous personal best time down to 12:12 this year. By finishing 19th at the MVC Super Meet and 12th at the Divisional, Katie was awarded 2nd team All-Conference honors.

Katie was joined by a trio of freshmen, Jennifer Kruse, Annie Fox, and Nicole Walker, who all made incredible improvements this season, explained Coach Ann Weber-Holdgrafer, who was named Metro Coach of the year.

With the leadership of five seniors and a junior, the men's cross country team overcame small numbers to experience some real success. Five runners eclipsed the 19-minute barrier this season. David Scott led the J-Hawks all season as the #1 runner on the team, followed by captain Kenny Jones. Curt Jackson was the #3 runner on the team, followed by Dustin Peet and Dirk Munson.

It might sound strange but this year the girls' swim team feels that perhaps they were more successful out of the water than in it. How so? When questioned further, the girls explained that they felt that there was much more unity displayed between individual team members than in the past years.

Even though the team experienced a rebuilding year in the water, since so many key members graduated last year, there were still great individual goals attained by members, including Brooke Ralston and Carya Kramer, who both qualified for state competition in Ft. Dodge at the season's end.

While competing at state, Brook broke the school record in the 100 backstroke and the 500 freestyle, and received eighth place in both events. Carya, who participated in diving, received twelfth place. The team will greatly miss Sarah Livingston of Papua, New Guinea, who swam with the team during the past four years before returning to her country.

The 1997-98 men's swim team had an exciting season. The season was filled with life time bests and a record breaking swim at state by Alex Plotz in the 100 breaststroke.

The team was led by seniors Chad Derlein, Nick Miller, Brad Baker, Jim Greider, Jared Gilbertson, and Matt Todd. Senior Chad Derlein, freshman Alex Plotz, and sophomore Blake Borrett qualified for State in individual events and were joined by seniors Nick Miller and Brad Baker in the 200 freestyle relay and the 200 medley relay. Blake Borrett came close to breaking the school record in the 100 backstroke, but guarantees the records will be taken down next year.

Awards that were handed out to the swim team were the hardest worker which went to Matt Todd. Most Improved went to Keith Wiggins and Jason Showalter. Chad Derlein received the most valuable, team captain, and the James C. Taylor awards. Chad Derlein said, "With such a small team of 13 this year, we really pulled together and had a great season."

Ironside wins title

The varsity wrestling season climaxed on Saturday evening February 28, 1998, when Tim Ironside won the 130 lb weight class championship, finishing the season 27-3 with 17 falls. Coach Dick Briggs revealed his number one goal this season was helping Tim do whatever it took to win his title. In the semi-finals Friday night, Tim avenged two losses earlier in the season to defending champion Eric Sinclair of Cedar Falls. In the title match he decisioned Cory Tarchinski of Davenport West, 6-2.

Joining Tim at the state meet were district runner-up qualifiers Mike Vagher (112), Jason Cole (140), Dillon Kuda (145), and Kris Ehlinger (160). Vagher (26-12) was a 1st team all MVC selection as was Ehlinger (24-14). Dillon Kuda was a two time qualifier who broke his hand in two places five weeks before the district tournament. However, Dillon's great physical shape and determination allowed him to make the return trip to state. Jason Cole was third at the district tournament but qualified when the runner-up ahead of him was unable to go because of a broken jaw sustained in a semi-final match. Cole, Kuda, and Ehlinger each won one match at the state tournament before being eliminated. The team scored 27 points, placing 25th out of 64 teams.

The varsity finished the dual meet season 6-9-1. An inconsistent line-up due to illness and injury caused the J-Hawks to struggle early in the season. Coach Briggs felt his young team will mature and be very competitive next year if they continue to work hard in the weight room and freestyle before summer. He also stresses involvement in others sports for his wrestlers.

The 1997-98 varsity men's basketball team entered its season with high expectations. In the Des Moines Register's preseason poll, the J-Hawks returned five varsity letter winners, Dell Mims, Jeremy Brown, Ian Mattiace, Jackson Jones, and Brad Tower. They also had a talented group of juniors who had a conference best 17-1 record as sophomores.

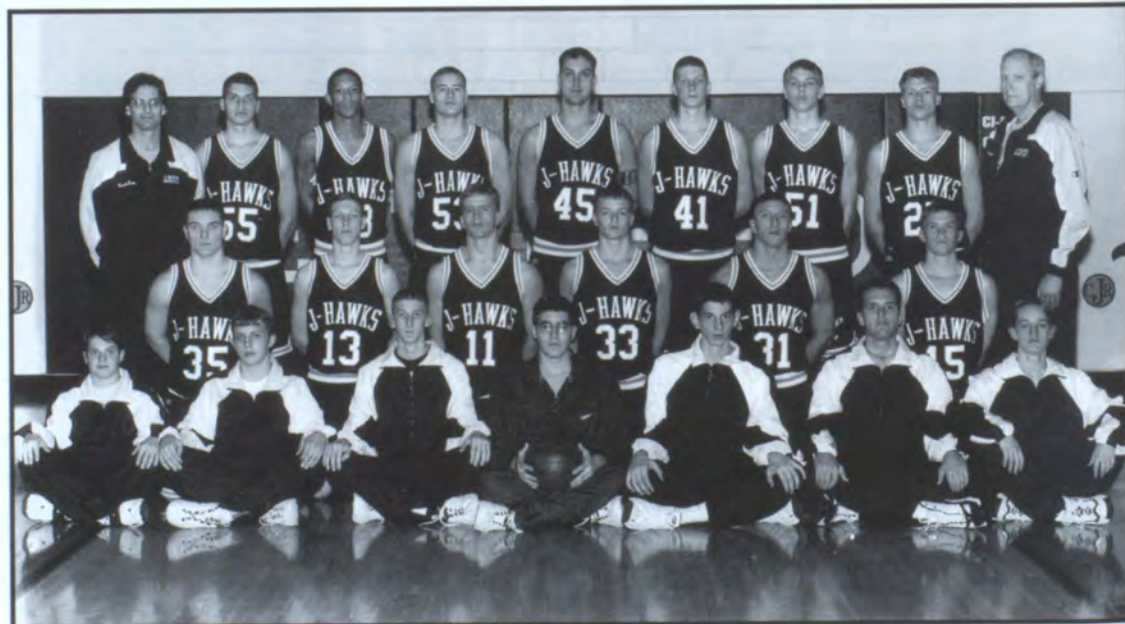

Despite all of their talent, the J-Hawks were upset in the first round of the tournament by the Linn Mar Lions, losing 63-60. The J-Hawks finished with a winning season never-the-less and a 12-8 record. The highlight of the season was defeating their cross town rival, the Washington Warriors, in both of their meetings. They also beat the Trojans of Waterloo East, who eventually finished third in the state tournament, and stomped Cedar Rapids Prairie, who ended up winning the state championship in class 3A. This was also the J-Hawks first season under the new head coach Stu Ordman, who replaced Rick Williams.

Next season the J-Hawks look to have not only another strong season, but a return trip to the state tournament, something that was missing this season.

Season ends strong

The 97-98 season for the J-Hawk sophomore and freshmen men's basketball was an overall success. Each team put in 110% effort and their records prove to be winning ones.

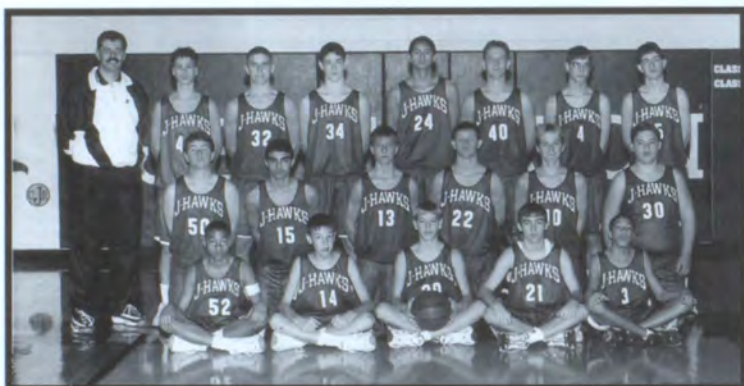

The sophs placed third in the Mississippi Valley Conference with their record of 10 wins and 6 losses. They shut out Kennedy twice and won close games over Iowa City West and Dubuque Hempstead by a margin of one point. Lead scorer for the sophomore team was Brandon Sain, who averaged 20.5 points per game. Brandon says he gives his teammates "a whole lot of respect" and stresses that a good team should have fun, argue at some times, but most importantly work together.

The Freshman White team finished their season with a 9 and 7 record. Their greatest win was over Regis, 64 to 47. The white team also beat another Cedar Rapids rival, Kennedy, 69 to 57. The Freshman Blue team's record was 10 and 7. They won an exciting game against Iowa City West Green, 54 to 52. Ryan Robinson, a member of the Freshman Blue team, praised Mr. Hilby, his coach. "[Mr. Hilby] kept the team together. He taught each member of the team his role in the game and the lockerroom. He made everyone a leader". It was this kind of positive leadership that made each team strive to do its best.

J-Hawk 9-10 men's basketball teams have once again proved their strength, ability, and effort. All squads worked hard and displayed good sportsmanship. With all the dedication and effort this fine group put forth, next season will only get better yet. The sophomores have shown enormous growth and maturity since last season, and the freshman will make an excellent team next season.

Goal is state trip

The 1997-98 women's basketball team overcame many challenges. The team, being young with only one senior, had to adjust after losing two of last year's starters. The J-Hawks pulled together and finished with a 16-8 record. Overcoming many injuries throughout the season, the girls made another trip to the State Tournament, beating city rivals Washington, 54-34, Kennedy, 63-57, and Davenport West, 60-39, in districts.

Individual honors given to the J-Hawks were 1st Team All Conference, All Metro, and All District to Kristin Johnson and Colbi Miller. Also 2nd Team All Conference and All Metro to Katie Fox. Honorable Mention All Conference and All Metro to Lydia Tiedemann and Christina Schmaltz and the Academic Award to Lydia Tiedemann.

Looking back over the season, the J-Hawk women's team improved not only as a team, but, each player stepped up their game and helped the team overcome all the challenges that were given to them.

Teams seek victory

Freshmen end season in second place

Freshmen and sophomore girls' basketball squads both had great seasons this year. Freshmen girls came in second behind Iowa City High with a record of 10 wins and 4 losses. Part of the reason the girls had such a great season was thanks to a wonderful coaching staff, which consisted of Coach Stulken and Coach Morgan. Girls on both the freshmen and sophomore squads worked very well as a team. They knew that if they didn't work together, they wouldn't get the job done.

Looking back, Nichole Walker, a member of the freshmen basketball squad, had this to say about the season, "It was awesome! We won a lot of games." She added, "Everyone worked well together, but there were sometimes that I felt we could have had even more of a team effort. Even doing something as simple as passing the ball to everyone at least once, just so that everyone could have been involved at least once in every game."

Although the freshmen basketball squad came in second, they were very pleased with all of the aspects of the season ... the team, the coaches, and the progress that was developed by all members. They were grateful for the wins they earned and the losses only made them stronger because they then learned from their mistakes.

Through hard work and dedication the 1997-1998 year was labeled a tremendous success, and the biggest lesson that was learned was to always stick together as a team and you'll accomplish your goals.

Both squads expressed appreciation to the cheerleaders and parents who faithfully showed up to cheer them up this season.

Tower paces track team

The Jefferson track team is reaching new levels. With Head Coach Ron Tower in his second year, the team is making huge steps in the right direction. You can expect some very good changes. The team is expanding in members, equipment, and quality. These changes will definitely help the track program, now and in the future. Already improving, this year was very successful for the team as they ran in many meets including the Drake Relays and the State Track Meet. Every meet was important, but the Drake Relays and State Track Meet are the ones you'll remember for the rest of your life.

Coach Ron Tower said, "Dropping your times each week and peaking at the end of the season are key to a successful season. Each meet the team had around thirty personal records; this is a payoff for all of the hard work done in practice. As the season came to an end we could really see these improvements, the varsity 4x800 meter relay dropped twelve seconds in the State Preview Meet.

There is more to track than all of the hard work. Track is a sport you can truly enjoy. There is always time to say "hi" to your parents during the meet, converse with other runners, or just kick back on the grass. Track is a sport that anyone can enjoy and as more people realize that, track will grow and become more popular. There is a lot of work to be done in the sport, to build its popularity. Getting people involved in high school is the first step. In order to do this we need to show people what track is about. "The season may end, but the Jefferson track program is going strong into the future. We've got the coaching staff, now we need the runners and fans," noted Tower.

1. Ben Bosenberg's "fan club" carry him off the field at the end of an exhausting practice.
2. Anthony Hobson stretches back before releasing the shot put.
3. At a meet, Roman Mitchell jumps high over a hurdle.
4. Curt Jackson keeps a steady pace during a race.
5. Toward the end of the race, Brent Myers and Josh Smothers push their hardest.
6. Teammates Jeremy Parrish and Scott Houston act cool in between runs.
7. During a relay, Matt Vagher passes a baton to Dillon Kuda.
8. Josh Moon helps Jeremy Parrish get stretched out before his race.
9. Clint Miller and Chris Snyder get ready for a race while Josh Moon holds the blocks.
10. Marc Hauschild and Dillon Kuda are determined to better their time.
11. In the thick of the pack, Tyler Albers fights for a good position to break away from his opponents.

Squad experiences success

Pride and determination were the winning combination for the '98 women's track team. The team was led by head coach Bill Calloway. Many returning letter winners and the capability of new members were important ingredients for success this season.

The J-Hawks started strong and only improved as the season progressed. Not only were team goals met, but individual goals as well. With warmups, buildups, challenging workouts, and all the meets, these women undoubtedly discovered success. Along the way, there were a few injuries but that didn't stop these women from attaining their goals. They had state on their mind so they stayed determined and ended up with a larger group of women qualifying than usual. Senior Krista Johnson and junior Katie Fox both agree that the highlight of the season was going to state and that an actual team went to state rather than just a few women. Not only did many J-Hawks attend state but a greater variety of events qualified. Instead of the usual sprinters, distance, track and field events, and relays also qualified.

Although there weren't any state champions, these women were very proud of the goals they had attained. The future does look bright for this J-Hawk team though. Many returning letter winners are looking forward to the challenges ahead in the '99 campaign under coach Calloway.

The 1998 J-Hawk men's soccer season was a total step forward under new head coach Derek Pendergast. The team set four new school records and also established some new traditions, including the pre-game milkman video, game film, or the movie, Endurance. The team was a family and got along quite well. To psyche up for every game, they would go to Zio John's for dinner the night before. The team ended its season on a positive note and predict they'll be back strong again next season.

A couple of changes have been made to the 97-98 women's soccer program which makes it different from previous years.

For starters, the team is full of seniors who are all returning letter winners. Dean Jandlik, head coach, said, "We have a strong team of seniors who have a lot of potential, they just need to continue working hard, but I have no doubts that they won't." These twelve seniors and a couple of juniors and sophomores make up the varsity team.

Another difference that has been made to this year's season is the addition of the girls' state tournament. In previous years the season ended with an MVC championship game. Regarding the state tournament, Jennifer Meyer added, "We definitely have the talent and desire to succeed, but only through team unity and dedication will this dream become a reality."

In addition to these changes, the entire team had to get used to the late start of the season. Instead of it ending in May, the season now extends into the summer. "I think that this was a good change for our program. Although it gets really hot and sticky to practice in, it has now made it possible for more people to participate and go out for women's soccer. Before the season extended into the summer, track girls were not able to go out, but now that has changed," remarked Almee Kassem, senior.

As we close the season, everyone will remember how hard everyone worked this year. "This team is like a family, and I'll never forget how much we came together and grew up as a team. I would encourage anyone to join the Jefferson's womens' soccer team and experience this opportunity for yourself," remarked Junior Jill Kelley. Although the season has had many changes, it has helped us become a team and appreciate more the game of soccer.

The varsity women's golf team ended its season with a record of 6-7, under the leadership of senior Jenny Burns. Two varsity members also made the All-Metro team this year. Jenny Burns was Academic All-Metro and Amanda Ray was first team All-Metro.

Coach Sandee Walton commented that this was one of the finest groups of girls she's had the pleasure to work with in recent years. "When a group like this comes along, you readily know why you're a coach," she said.

The Junior-Varsity also broke a previous record for most wins in a season with a 12-5 record. Another highlight during the year was the first annual Metro JV Tournament, in which Jefferson finished second.

The men's golf team had a spectacular season, ending with a record of 55-17. Two members of the men's golf team also made the All-Metro team this year. Chad Greenlee and Ryan Smith made first team All-Metro and Coach Cole Johansen was named the All-Metro Coach of the Year.

Besides learning how to play golf from two great coaches, athletes also get to learn a sport they can enjoy for the rest of their lives, noted Matt Glover.

The seasons are set up so that boys compete in the fall and girls still participate during the spring sports season. Most athletes surveyed said that they like this method of participation.

Book recaps year in pics

There were many memories made during the 1997-98 school year and the yearbook covers them all, from sports to the performing arts and academics, to just goofing around. Staff members not only work during their class hour but spend extra time working on the Statesman, to make this yearbook the best ever! Six deadlines had to be met during the year. These deadlines were challenging and at times stressful, but under the supervision of Mr. Smrha, the yearbook adviser, the deadlines were met with time to spare.

After the work was done and the goals reached, Mr. Smrha would reward the staff with pizza parties, doughnuts and other gifts. Each member had different responsibilities to fulfill. Some were editors, others photographers, artists, layout designers, while others worked on computer graphics. Each staff member also was responsible for working on a layout that was to appear in the 1998 Statesman.

First, a layout had to be designed, pictures selected, cutlines and copy blocks written. This process was stressful and time consuming, but in the end it was all worth it! The layouts turned out great, with good photos, and interesting copy blocks. Senior Amanda Klees said, "It was challenging being an editor of a section and being a senior. I had other classes to worry about, along with prom, and graduation. It was all worth it though. I feel very proud of my accomplishments and I am glad I took on so many challenges."

Brooke Ralston, a sophomore, said, "I enjoyed being on the yearbook staff so much. I met so many new people and developed a lot of new friendships. No other class would have given me the chance to meet so many new people. I think it was great having so much fun while I worked."

When the school year comes to an end, the staff realizes how much they have accomplished, and at the same time how much work still has to be done. For most students at Jefferson High School, on the last day of school when the final bell rings, it means no more classes, no more teachers, no more projects, or homework for the summer. But for some of the Statesman staff members, they must come in throughout the summer to insure this yearbook is done for the final deadline in July.

1. Jake Graham works diligently drawing artwork for a deadline.
2. Adam Hughes, Jenny Young, and Mary Varner are all smiles about the 1998 yearbook.
3. Annie Glover works hard to complete the junior class section.
4. Mr. Smrha reads another copy block for its content.
5. Jill Kelley and Jenny McGuinn work together on the spirit layout.
6. Jenny Meyer, Amanda Klees, Jill Kelley, Aimee Kassem, and Anne Broghammer love working on the yearbook and it shows.
7. Jake Graham's artistic work is used throughout the yearbook.
8. Sarah Likes thinks about what to include in the boys' swimming copy block.
9. Stephanie Morehouse, Lindsey Ptacek and Brandi Speicher work great as a team to get the senior section done.
10. Monica Evens gets rubber cement to use on the layout design.

Great year ends

Another year has finally come to an end and the last issue of the Outlook for the year has finally been put to bed. Time sure flies by when you are having fun. And this year's staff sure had a lot of fun. Although some aspects of working on your high school newspaper aren't a walk in the park, we greatly enjoyed being a part of this terrific publication.

Meeting a deadline isn't always easy when you aren't sure if your story idea has been approved or you don't know your exact line count. We all worked hard to overcome any obstacle that was set before us. It was actually rather amusing at times when Mr. Smrha didn't think we would all have our final drafts done by the deadline. Some of us would wait until the very last minute to hand in a story even though it had been finished several days before the deadline.

We all have made many memories that we will cherish for a lifetime. We will always remember the way Mr. Smrha kept us entertained by singing and dancing for us. There are two words that will never be forgotten, "Bubbles and Peaches." (It's an Outlook thing) Junior Jeremy Myers had this to say about the class, "It's been a lot of hard work, but we've had a lot of fun and the biggest reward has been seeing our work in print." It was great having the chance to meet new people and make some really good new friends. There's nothing like the feeling of working side by side such a great group of talented writers, artists, editors, photographers, and ads staff members.

In addition to the great memories that were made, the Outlook underwent some changes this year. We decided to try some new things. The addition of the Humor / On the Lightside and Faith & Values pages turned into a great success. We got many compliments on the cartoons and top ten lists and Matt Willett and Kerry Kieler's He Said/She Said stories. Faith & Values editor Matt Willett remarked by saying, "He was glad he had the opportunity to write many thought-provoking stories." Hopefully these pages will become new traditions in the Outlook.

Despite the times when an issue was delayed coming out or typing errors weren't caught before being sent to the printers, we had a great year. We put a lot of hard work into producing a paper we were all proud of. We hope all our readers enjoyed our stories and art work. We enjoy hearing your opinions and suggestions. If you are interested in being on the Outlook just drop by room 206 and we'll tell you how you can join. I would like to close by saying, "Best wishes and good luck to next year's staff."

Success in clubs

Let me introduce you to Jefferson's marketing education programs, DECA and OE. DECA has proven that they have the knowledge and understanding taught them by Mrs. Beverly Spilman. With winners at the district and state levels, and one member, Liz Vogeler, competing at the national level, they have definitely showed successful marketing skills. OE has also been learning about the world of work. Led by Mr. Larry Nelmeyer they have participated in such classroom activities as mock job interviews, simulating itineraries for a trip, and a math unit. They also displayed school unity by selling roses for Homecoming and Prom, and cards for Valentine's Day. Both classes have had community and business leaders into their classrooms to explain what it takes to succeed as an entrepreneur. Hats off to these marketing groups, who are teaching students skills for the working world.

Clubs honor excellence

Once again Jefferson students proved to everyone that they can excel. J-Hawk students not only excelled in athletics and performing arts, but also academically. There are 85 present National Honor Society members, along with the 99 new National Honor Society inductees. The Academic Decathlon Team made it all the way to Nationals where they finished in the top ten. And, Governor Terry Branstad visited Jefferson to present the school with another F.I.N.E. Award.

There is certain criteria that a student must meet to be selected to be in the National Honor Society. The four qualifications are: scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

The assembly for the National Honor Society Members was very informative, and after the induction all members and guests were invited to the reception that followed.

The Academic Decathlon Team worked very hard this year, and their hard work paid off. The team made it not only to state, but then to the national level, finishing eighth in the nation. The students were led by Mr. John Wojtowicz, and various other teachers assisted in specialty areas.

With students doing so well academically, as well as in other areas at school, it is no wonder that J-Hawks are getting recognized and rewarded.

10. Steve Huneke reads over his script before state.
11. Coach Leslie Charipar listens as a speech team member practices.

Jefferson's Speech Team proved once again this year to be an outstanding group of performers. Led as strongly as ever by Mrs. Novy, and assisted by Ms. Leslie Charipar, the team made an excellent showing at both the Colloquy Speech Festival and the Iowa High School Speech Association's (IHSSA) large group and individual events competition.

Team members placing in the top six in their category at Colloquy were duo Matt Detert and Andy Marz, duo Sarah Gardener and Kerry Kieler, Katherine Aumer, Liz Vogeler, and Casey Waechter.

At the IHSSA Large Group competition the speech team had performers in numerous events. Performers included duo Katherine Aumer and Matt Detert, duo Kerry Kieler and Sarah Gardner, duo Matt Detert and Andy Marz, and the Readers Theatre and Choral Reading groups. Selected as All-Staters were Matt Detert and Andy Marz, Kerry Kieler and Sarah Gardner, and the Reader's Theatre team who performed in the Critic's Choice Circle at the All-State Festival.

In IHSSA's individual events competition Jefferson once again shined. The members went through districts, and state competition, and had 13 selections nominated for All State. The speech team members who received this honor were: Katherine Aumer, Jenny Burns, Matt Detert, Jonathon Foster, Aaron Hoose, Kerry Kieler, Noelle Rotkosky, Heather Schuemann and Casey Waechter. This outstanding number of people who qualified made it possible for the Jefferson Speech Team to win the state championship sweepstakes trophy.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Foreign students see differences up close

Every year, Jefferson High School welcomes foreign exchange students from all over the world to come and be students in the United States. While here, they not only learn more about American culture, but they also live with American families and experience education here at Jefferson.

"So far, I've really enjoyed my stay," said Susanne Bartels from Germany. "I've met a lot of interesting people and made many friends."

Even if the experience has been great so far, it is still hard to be away from home. When they cross the boundaries between two different worlds, they leave behind them their homes, families, and friends to come to an unfamiliar place filled with strange faces and new adventures awaiting them. "Even though I was excited about coming to the United States, I was also really nervous," said Junior Danuta Dera from Poland. "I didn't know what to expect."

Hopefully, what they all found here were the warm, friendly, smiling faces of Jefferson, and people willing to help accustom them to our culture. "People here have been really nice," said Julia Gelsenkamp from Germany. "I felt at home in no time." Ole Hanson from Norway agrees. "The people here are great! I've had a really fun time here so far."

Also, the exchange students got to enjoy the various activities that Jefferson has to offer. They all got involved in various school activities such as theatre, West Side Delegation, band, Meistersingers, choir, soccer, tennis, and volleyball. "What I like most about Jefferson are all the different activities it has," said Christian Harbecke from Germany.

When they go back, they'll take with them the memories from an experience of a lifetime, one that we the people at Jefferson are proud to be a part of. "I will always remember my time here and hope to come back someday and see everybody again," explained Susanne Bartels.

Marchers put in many hours rehearsing!

How did it feel to have over 400 million people across the country watching your every move on national TV? Just ask any one of the 325 band members who marched in the nationally televised 109th Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, California, on New Year's Day.

Band president Jennifer Young revealed she felt "excited, happy and proud" about being invited to Pasadena. She had to get up at 5:30 a.m. every day so she could practice before school, doing step aerobics, running laps and marching in the parking lot as preparation for the Rose Parade.

Trumpeter Jeremy Vann added, "It was an honor and privilege" to march in the famous parade. Jeremy participated in cross country last fall in order to condition himself for the five-and-a-half mile march. He also started a part time job to raise enough of the $1,050 that was needed to take the trip.

Members of the band left Cedar Rapids after Christmas to begin preparations for marching in the famed parade. All agreed that this was an "awesome" experience to participate in and one that they'll always remember. Indeed, all of the preparations needed for the parade seemed to be endless and time-consuming for all band members. But, when they found themselves standing at attention, waiting to march down Colorado Boulevard, where only the greatest bands from across the nation have marched for 108 years, they realized that all of their extra work was well worth the effort.

Colorguard executes perfection Routines dazzle

Considered to be an important unit of the band, the 37 members of the Colorguard, and Drumline worked extremely hard to show it. "In fact, I'd say that they worked just as hard, if not harder, than the rest of the band," explained Megan Drahos.

On contest days, the girls often had two to three hour practices before the rest of the band arrived. In addition, they also started practicing weeks earlier than the first day of band camp. Instructed by Amy Boland and Michelle Reichmann, the Colorguard put forth extra hours to learn and perfect its routine.

Colorguard members, along with the Drumline, marched in the famous Tournament of Roses Parade, along with the Band of Blue. For this appearance, they learned a special routine, which meant extra hours of practice were a must for each member who made the trip.

"I really enjoyed it! It really kept me busy, but it was well worth it when I got to go to Pasadena to march in the parade," explained Stacy Munson, a senior.

A pleasant surprise greeted the members when they were blessed with new uniforms, which the girls agreed were more comfortable and popular to wear. The old outfits used to be dresses, but were now modified to be more stylish pant suits. Megan thought that the outfits helped contribute to the group's success.

Bands are kept busy

Band members have achieved much success during the 1997-98 school year, with many goals attained and one big dream lived out === performing live at the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, California.

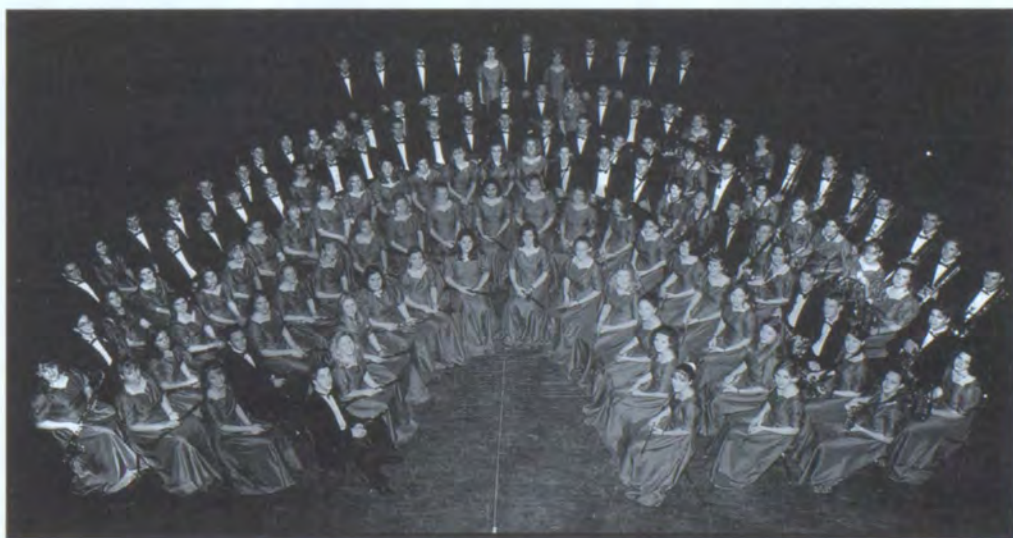

The bands shown on these pages has enjoyed overwhelming popularity among students who have shown much interest in joining them, so much so that the freshman band had to be split up into two seperate bands because of the fact that there were so many students. Mr. Dickinson directed half of the freshman band and Mrs. Driskell supervised the other half.

Jared Gongwer, a member of Mr. D's band, had many positive things to say about his experiences this year. "Band was actually all right this year. We played some real good songs like 'Of A Distant Star', which was my all-time favorite. We also earned a first place award at state, which made Mr. D very happy with us."

Mrs. Driskell's band also experienced a good year and played many songs that sounded professional and that the students enjoyed playing. One of these songs was 'Itrrado Vestido', which band members explained they really enjoyed.

Undoubtedly, the Rose Bowl parade was the high point of this year's band experiences. Most all of the upper-classmen made it into the Rose Bowl line-up, but all of the freshmen had to try out. The group that left for Pasadena put in thousands of hours preparing for their performance.

Work pays off

Symphony and String groups do great

"It shocks me how far we've come." This is what Melissa Lekin, the second violin section leader, said about this year's Orchestra. This couldn't be closer to the truth. With approximately 50 members in the String Society alone, these musicians are going strong and doing great!

The String Orchestra meets daily and has many opportunities to perform for the Jefferson community. Starting during winter term, the Orchestra combined with select members of the Wind Symphony to play very challenging music. Violist Cynthia Williams said that her favorite part of the year was to play the professional symphony level piece, "Mars" (from Holst's Planets) at the West Side Orchestra Festival. The Symphony made an excursion in April to St. Olaf College in Minnesota as well. There, the musicians attended a clinic at the college and performed an exchange concert with an area high school. In May, both the String Orchestra and the Symphony Orchestra competed in the State Large Group Musical Contest. It was definitely an eventful year for these busy students.

A select group called String Society is also directed by Mrs. Driskell. It consists of 15 members, who are chosen by audition and rehearse weekly. They play more non-traditional music, including "Unforgiven", a Metallica song that was arranged for a small string group by sophomore Kyle Moritz. String Society performs in various situations including concerts and contests. To sum up this year, Mrs. Driskell said, "I'm very happy with our progress this year. Every individual makes an effort and contributes to the whole."

Performing Arts activities at Jefferson are very well participated in and very successful. We have five choirs to thank for a variety of these successes, three of which are displayed on these two pages. Many members of these choirs have participated in All-State, Opus, Large Group Contest, Encore, and Ovation. The three groups we owe thanks to are Anabile Singers, consisting of freshmen women; Varsity Singers, consisting of freshmen guys, and Jefferson Singers, consisting of freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior men and women. These groups of hard workers practice very day, and perform a total of four times during the year. Many people think choir is a class where students don't have to learn anything, but the words and patterns in the song. (Little do they know!) Each choir member is expected by their senior year to be able to determine the key signature, note names, pitches, difference between sharp and flat, and rhythms; to understand not only how the song goes, but what else makes up these song. Also, the choir directors like to perform songs written in different languages for a different sound and taste. One performance where they get to compare their skills to others around the area is Large Group Contest, held annually at Washington High School. This is not only a chance to compete, but also to find each choir's strengths and weaknesses through their performance of three to five selections. This year, Jefferson Singers took a division two, and Varsity and Anabile Singers earned a division one.

Jeff shines at All-State

Skilled J-Hawks prove they are the best in Iowa

Once again this year, Jefferson High School had an outstanding representation at the Iowa All-State Music Festival in Ames, thanks to a handful of phenomenal vocalists and superb instrumentalists.

Bassoonist Megan Carpenter and French Hornist Jennifer Young were both recognized for their remarkable accomplishment of being selected as four-year All-Staters at the prestigious festival. When asked what it was like to be chosen for All-State, Jennifer commented, "It's fulfilling to see that the hours of practicing paid off." Megan said, "It is always well worth the dedication you put into it." An amazing amount of preparation goes into tryouts. "It is the most nerve-racking experience I've ever had to go through," Jennifer recalls. "It's always a huge relief when it's over." When Megan compared this year to the past three, she said, "Every year is very different. There are always new faces and new music." Nevertheless, the students are always talented and competitive, and there is no room for mediocrity.

Undoubtedly, Jefferson High School will continue to be well represented at the Iowa All-State Music Festival for years to come, predicted Dr. Eklund.

WSD swings out!

The 1997-98 school year has been an outstanding one for West-side Delegation. From tap dancing to ballet, WSD has done it all this year. Their day show, "Shakin' the Blues Away," was an adrenaline pumping, heart pounding, energetic display of sheer excitement that pleased audiences from all around.

For the evening performance, Dr. Eklund decided to try something magnificent — that had never been done before. With the help of talented choreographer Andy Haines, Dr. Eklund created a fascinating repertoire of the life of King David, consisting of three excerpts, La dance devant l'Arche, Cantique, and La mort de David.

As usual, practice for WSD began in June and they rehearsed seventh hour every other day as well as 7 to 10 p.m. every Tuesday night. These endless hours of dedication and commitment proved well worth it when WSD was awarded grand champions at the Urbandale Show Choir Jamboree for the 15th consecutive year.

Though Dr. Eklund will no longer be directing Jefferson's unsurpassed show choir, his legacy will live on forever. He has touched the lives of countless students and his desire for success, demand for excellence, compassion, and love will never be forgotten.

With devoted directors ...

Theater excels

After an enterprising year for drama, the '98 season winded down favorably. A great lineup of plays drew abundant audiences, proving the year successful. Probably the most significant accomplishment among the Thespians this year was the adjudication of The House of Blue Leaves, which was chosen to be performed at the International Thespian Festival in Lincoln, NE, in June.

Thespian Troupe 561 stuck together to accomplish the achievable. The troupe's officers all agreed that even with the tough times, the best shone through in the end. "We worked together and proved our talents with our successes," said Kerry Kieler, the troupe's secretary.

Saddened again by yet another announcement of departure by valuable technical director, Kent Andel, the troupe vowed to stick together nevertheless in the coming years.

President, Jonathan Rustebakke, reminded graduating Thespians, "If duct tape was all that we knew, together we could change the world." Michelle Swanson added that some of her most memorable moments included taking pictures for the yearbook.

1. On the set of Imaginary Invalid, Melissa Vileta puts her head on Matt Oliphant's shoulder.
2. The "People In Black" join together for a photo opportunity.
3. Jennifer Larson carefully applies her stage makeup before a show.
4. The crew of David and Lisa captures a light-hearted moment on the set.
5. The Thesplan officers get ready to address students at the Drama Open House.
6. Filling in for Juliet, Jim Fennern gets "romanced" by Scott Bogard, (Romeo).
7. Overwhelmed by his new script, Nick Michener becomes distraught.
8. Matt Hagmeier and Liz Johnson take time out during costuming to flash some smiles.
9. Laura Buresh and Anna King appear to know how to have a good time.
10. Charles Haster and Mr. Andel hang out in the scene shop.
11. During a rehearsal, Staci Morgan and Brian Su take a deserved time out.
12. Angela Slaymaker obliges her adoring public with a "Gretel" autograph.
13. Katie Starks demonstrates her goofy personality with Corey Coleman.
14. Olivia Klinkhardt lectures about the joys of backdrops and curtain legs.
15. Aaron Hoose considers a point made by Dan Dyrland.

Artie has blahs!

The play presented this fall in the Little Theater was a unique and special show. The House of Blue Leaves had a risqué and complicated plot, but it was all worth it in the end, according to Mr. Rick Anderson, the show's director.

Artie Skhaughnessy, (Matt Detert), is a zoo keeper, who's fed up with his systematic and tedious lifestyle. So, Artie tries to devise a scheme to run away from his wife, Bananas, (Katherine Aumer), who's anything but normal. With his mistress, Bunny, (Becky Popelka), Artie begins to complete the plans to get him and Bunny to Hollywood, California, and throw Bananas into a mental institution.

But everything that could possibly foul up their perfect plan does. Artie's son, Ronnie, (Dan Rudolph), has insane plans to blow up the Pope; Artie's best friend's fiancée, Corrina (Noelle Rotkowsky), is killed by Ronnie's bomb; three beer drinking nuns take refuge on Artie's sofa to watch t.v.; and Artie's lover runs away with his best friend, Billy (Andy Marz).

Everyone interviewed about the play explained that they had a very enjoyable and prime experience. From the fabulous set, to the authentic costumes, to the humor and laughter — The House of Blue Leaves had it all!

— Ellie Swanson

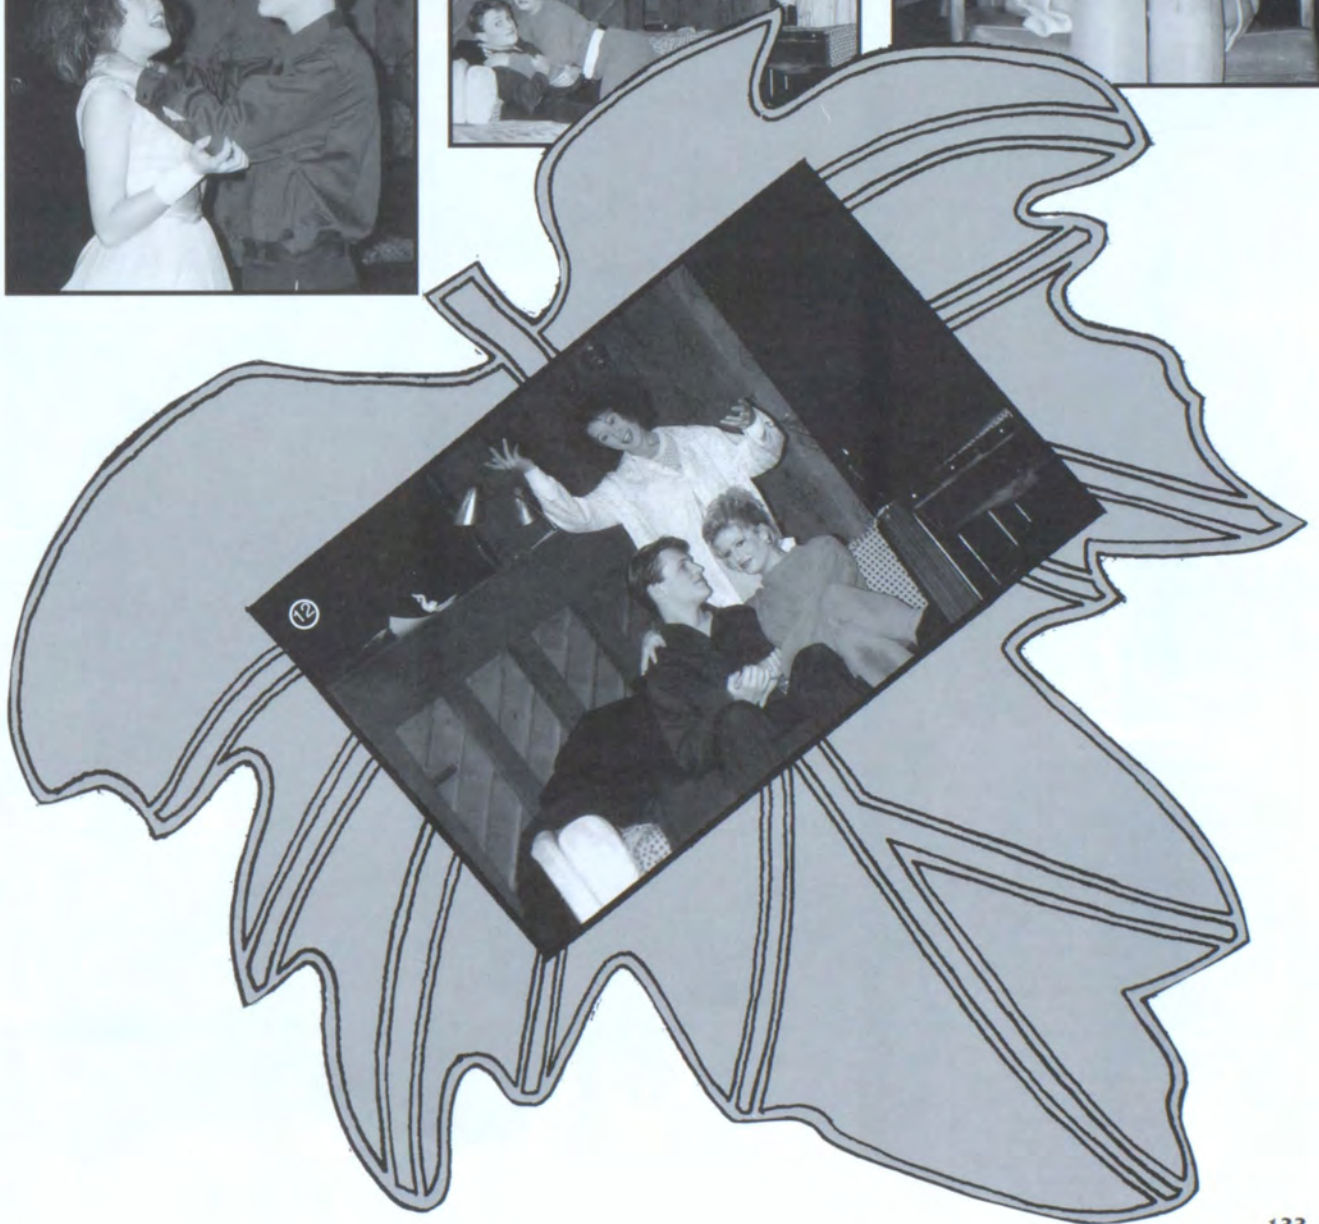

1. Matt Detert informs Katherine Aumer he's sending her to an institution, while Becky Popelka listens.
2. Andy Marz says goodbye to Katherine and wishes her a full and happy life.
3. Becky can't believe she's serving alcoholic beverages to three nuns.
4. Tom Fink is caught and arrested by M.P., Phillip Robertson.
5. After a spontaneous kiss, Matt strangles Katherine to death.
6. Matt and Becky are caught in this scandalous act.
7. Noelle Rotkowsky explains how she lost her hearing in an accident on a movie set.
8. Katherine amuses the audience with her zany style and behavior.
9. Armed with a bomb, Dan has devious plans to blow up the Pope.
10. Begging Becky to make him fried eggs, Matt gets into his diverse character.
11. In a most awkward situation, the nuns fight Dan for free tickets to see the Pope.
12. Matt and Becky dream about their future life together as soon as Matt can get rid of bizarre Bananas (Katherine).

Kids deal together

Mr. Bryan Schlofeld's directing debut at Jefferson was a complete success! The dramatic play, David and Lisa, was performed December 11-13 in the Little Theater. Together with a gifted cast, a hard working crew, a talented director, and a wholesome and heart-warming story line, David and Lisa delivered to the audience exactly what they were looking for.

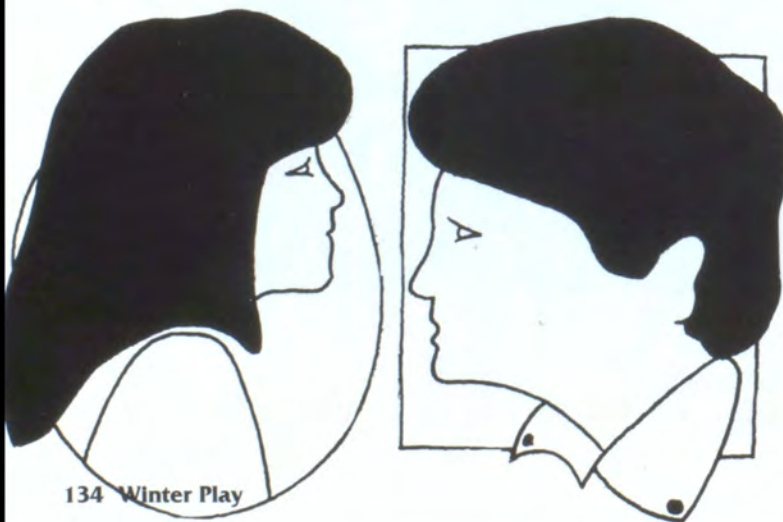

This story focuses on David Clemens, (Steve Huneke) a teenage boy who fears physical contact with people. His parents enroll him in a special school for children with psychological problems. There he meets Lisa Brandt, (Katie Starks) a young girl with a split personality. Together they form a rather interesting relationship; Lisa gets close and comfortable with another person, and David overcomes his own fear of being touched.

Besides the two characters the play is named after, the rest of the cast performed impressive roles. Corey Coleman portrayed David's psychiatrist and confidant, Alan, and Jenn Lawson played David's fretful mother. In addition, Many other West End Players represented the troubled children who reside at the school, such as Sonya Ehret, (Kate) Kerry Kieler, (Josette) Dan Meter, (Robert) Aaron Hoose, (Simon) Matt Hagmeyer, (Carlo) and Heidi Clark, (Sondra). These actors performed very realistic characters in the plot of the play.

The set was a simple one, with a rather simple backdrop used throughout the show. With the small number of props, the actors, used attitude and facial expressions to tell a lot of the story. The scenery was made up of a couple of platforms and a few pieces of furniture, so that the audience's concentration was directed towards the actors and their colorful roles, according to Mr. Andel, technical director.

Fairy-tale theater

Classic adventure delights children

For this year's Children's Theatre Production, Jefferson chose to perform Hansel and Gretel. A familiar story to most, this fairy tale excited its audience full of young children with funny goblins, a scary witch, and brave children.

The fairy tale tells of two children, Hansel, (played by Jeff Packer), and Gretel (Angela Slaymaker) who venture into the woods in search of food. In the woods they encounter the Gingerbread Witch (Becky Popelka), who tries to turn them into gingerbread cookies. During their adventure they meet up with different creatures of the forest and get help from them and other friends.

All of these actors adorned colorful costumes and make up and worked on an elaborate set, complete with special lights, props, and sound effects to create a magical experience for hundreds of children.

7. While listening to Mr. Schlofelt, Ehret, Marz, and Gardner are directed how to pose for a picture.
8. Angelic (Aumer,) and Tolnette try to coerce information out of Argon.
9. Hoose is distracted during a rather corny romantic verse.
10. Brian Su and Jedidiah Chung give Marz the consequences of not taking his medication.
11. Disguised as a wise doctor, Gardner addresses Matt Detert and Marz.
12. Knowing that his daughter Louise (Letia Ogren,) is not telling him the truth, Argon gets ready to switch her.

Much to audience's delight ... Play serves laugh

The 1998 drama season erupted into laughs, when the spring play was performed March 19-21.

The play was The Imaginary Invalid, and the result was a side-splitting show. The story focuses on Monsieur Argon, a stubborn and absurd man, who constantly thinks he is dying. Argon becomes set on the marriage of his eldest daughter to a doctor, so that he can always have someone of medical intellect close by to take care of him, and farcical confusion ensues. The maid dresses up as a doctor, and Argon's wife, Beline, tries to inherit his money, with the help of a smooth-talking lawyer. In the end, the laughs are on Argon, as his family and friends make a fool of him to teach him a lesson.

The cast of Invalid was an outstanding one. Andy Marz played the lead role of Argon, and many other talented actors filled the shoes of the colorful characters and cast. Along with a great set, fashionable outfits, and hysteria galore, The Imaginary Invalid gave the audience exactly what they were looking for.

Holding audience's attention ... Dark musical thrills

For this year's musical, Jefferson chose to perform the very difficult but very entertaining -Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street. Dutifully directed by Mr. Anderson, the production was helped along by the always masterful musical direction of Dr. Eklund, and the tremendous technical direction of Mr. Andel. The production ran May 13 - 16.

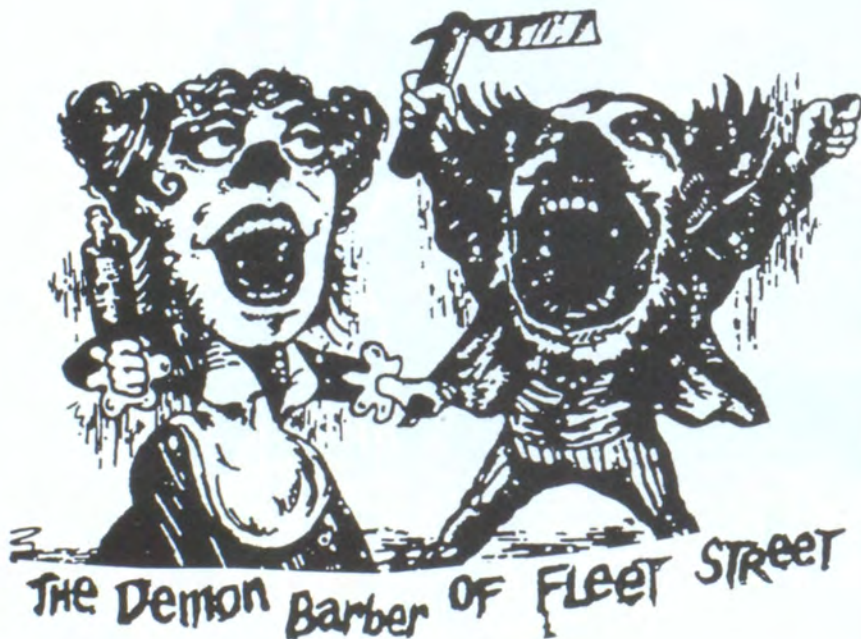

In this excitingly scary but slightly farsical tale, barber Sweeney Todd, played by Ben Smith, seeks revenge on the London community, because of the rape of his wife and the kidnapping of his child by slitting their throats and turning them into meat pies.

Mrs. Lovett, his accomplice, was played by Jenn Larson. The Judge who raped his wife was portrayed by David Pendergast, and his Beadle, Ben Parker, Matt Detert played Pirelli, the barber with whom Sweeney competes to get clients and is later blackmailed by, and Luke Van Dorsten played Tobias, Pirelli's assistant. The role of Sweeney's daughter, Johanna was played by Kelli Michael and Anthony, the young sailor who falls in love with Johanna, was played by Nate Agrimson, The role of the Beggar Woman was played by Jeanette Michael.

Stage Crew Sitting: Jon Rustebakke, Katherine Aumer, Second row: Matt Oliphant, Melissa

1. Taking a time out, Ben Smith gets a little closer to Ben Parker.
2. Smith plays the deranged barber, Sweeney Todd, along with meat pie maker, Mrs. Lovett, (Jean Larson).
3. Larson and Smith raise their tools of murder and mayhem in salute.
4. Abe Lehman, Jon Dusing, Matt Detert, and Justin McLaughlin take in a silly pose between scenes.
5. Larson and Smith rejoice after Judge Turbin's, (David Pendergast's,) vicious murder of vengeance.
6. Devoting himself to Larson, Tobias, (Luke VanDorsten,) promises her his everlasting protection.
7. Beadle, (Parker,) entertains Larson with some parlor music, as Smith enters behind him.
8. Nate Agrimson plays the sincere sailor, Anthony.
9. Hopelessly in love with each other, Agrimson gazes with adoration into Kelli Michael's eyes.
10. VanDorsten takes a stance as the niece and crippled boy, Tobias.
11. While waiting for the next scene shot, Mr. Schlotfelt settles next to a bitter Jenn Larson.
12. Smith prepares to slit the throat of his nemesis, Pendergast.

Seniors caught having fun!

Congratulations Anne

Love, Mom, Josh,
John, Annette,
Big John, & Jeff

We are so proud of you, of your accomplishments, and your determination to succeed. Believe in yourself. We hope the journey you're about to begin will be as successful as the journey you've completed.

Jeff Humphrey

Here is Jeff with his JEEP
A kid who doesn't make a PEEP!
He works hard at Randall's to make his keep,
And as his family, we're as proud
as "BLEEP"

Love, Mom, Dad, Matt,
Bubs, Ops, & Auntie Leigh

Congratulations Angela

I am so very proud of you, and admire your courage and determination. You mean the world to me and I hope that everything good continues your way.

Love always,
your Mom

I Love You Travis!

You are the best thing that has ever happened to me. Thank-you for making me so happy. I'll never forget the times we've spent. Honk! This year has been perfect and I owe it all to you. I know we have bumps on the road ahead, but we will get through them. Distance makes the heart grow fonder. I love you more! Be good!

Love, Shauna

Friends Forever
F2

Tonya, Ryan, & Nicole
Never lose your positive attitudes and great smiles.
They will take you far.

Congratulations Brandi!

We are very proud of all you have done and who you are. You are a great daughter! May your future be filled with success and happiness. Keep smiling and be happy.

We Love you

Mom, Dad & Kendra

Congratulations Becky!

Where did the time go? Keep those big brown eyes focused on the future, but enjoy the present. The world awaits, so set your sights high, use all your talents and hold fast to your dreams. We are all so very proud of you and love you more than you could ever know.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Sarah, Lisa, Chris
& all the Grandmas and Grandpas

To A Great Daughter

who we are very proud of. We wish you the best in all you do. God Bless You!

Love
Mom & Dad

Congratulations Josh!

Life is a challenge... meet it. Life is a puzzle... solve it. Life is a goal achieve it. Life is an opportunity... take it. Wishing you every opportunity life has to offer Josh. We love you and wish you continued success.

Love

MOM, DAD
JULIE, SCOTT and "JAKIE"

Congratulations Andrew!!

We love you! We are proud of you! We believe in you! You are blessed with many gifts and talents-use them faithfully. May God bless, guide and direct you in your life's work. You can do and will make a difference! You can do whatever you set your mind to! Keep exploring learning. It's a great world with very many needs and opportunities!!!

Love Always, Mom & Dad

Angie

Just want to tell you how proud I am of you. You have grown to be a beautiful young woman, a wonderful person, a terrific big sister and my best friend. I hope the future brings you all the happiness you deserve.

Love Mom

Matthew

We are expecting great things from you! There is a space for you right next to Washington!

Love, Mom & Dad

Way To Go Sarah Gardner!

You've made it to the first leg in your journey. But don't stop now-your life is just beginning. Go for the gusto. Remember we are always here to catch you. So open your wings and let yourself fly. Life's possibilities are endless.

Love-
Mom, Dad, and Gretchen

Congratulations Sachamo!

We are very proud of all that you have accomplished. Keep up the good work! We wish you much happiness and success in the years ahead. Your family loves you and will always be there for you.

Love Always,
Mom-o, Dad-o and Boys

Congratulations Brad!

We all are so proud of you! We wish you continued success and all the joy the future can bring. You are very special to us and we love you very much.

Love Mom & Dad
Ashley & Crystal

Matt

You will succeed in whatever path you choose as your future. Your honesty, integrity, love of life, and your sense of humor will get you far. Always remember how much you are loved and how very proud we are to be your parents. We are proud of your many accomplishments, but most of all, of you— our son!

Love,
Mom & Dad

HEY BIG SIS

IT FEELS LIKE YESTERDAY
YOU WEREN'T EVEN OLD ENOUGH
TO GO ON A DATE
BUT NOW YOU'RE EIGHTEEN AND
THIS IS THE YEAR YOU
WILL GRADUATE

THIS SAME YEAR
YOU'LL BE STARTING A NEW LIFE
YOU'LL MAKE JEFF VERY HAPPY
BY BEING HIS WIFE

BUT I WILL MISS YOU VERY MUCH
AND MOM AND DAD
WILL TOO
AND ALWAYS REMEMBER
WE'LL NEVER STOP LOVING YOU

Love,
Mom, Dad and Me

"Twice Blessed is having a Son for a Friend."

Matt, you've been richly blessed with the many opportunities that came your way in school and in the community. We have been privileged and honored to share life with such a fine young gentleman and watch over you with care and pride. As always, put all your confidence and trust in the Lord. He will never leave or forsake you and you will accomplish great things with his help.

We love you, Matt!
Mom, Dad & Jacob

Congratulations Lydia!

All our love

Mom, Dad, Josh,
Anna, Abby and Micah

You have always given 100% in all that you do-what more could we ask for?! We love you very much and we are so proud of all that you have accomplished through the years. As you head for college we look forward to watching you spread your wings and fly... lovely butterfly!

Jill

Words cannot express how much we love you and how proud we are of you. We wish you all of life's health, happiness, and the peace of God.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Kristi,

...WITH EACH ENDING COMES A NEW BEGINNING.
WISHING YOU ALL THE BEST THAT YOU ARE SO DESERVING OF!

LOVE, DAD, MOM, & MEGAN

Amber & Andrea

From cutie to beauty, we are so very proud. You've come a long way, keep up the good work and you'll go far.

Love Mom & Dad

Lee (Braut)

Love you,
Mom, Luke, & Tippy

Can it be that our little soccer player is all grown up! The future is yours and I know you will make the most of it. Dad would be so very very proud of you.

Congratulations Micah!

Everything ever accomplished began with a dream of great things. Stay determined, work hard, and many of your dreams will come true. We are proud of you, and love you.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Stephanie,
Amanda & Chris

Congratulations Aaron!

You have gone from this cute, little guy to a tall and Godly young man. There are many paths for you to choose and may God continue to grant you wisdom and strength to make the right ones. We Love You and pray the best for you in college, finding that "perfect woman" and having a prosperous and full life.

Proverbs 3:1-12
All our love,
Dad and Mom

Dear Eric,

We are so proud of your achievements academically, physically (CFT!) and spiritually. It is no small thing to receive an appointment to the Air Force Academy! Whatever the Future holds for you, know that we are behind you 100% and covering you with prayer.

Love,
Dad, Mom, & Mike

PS. 127:1

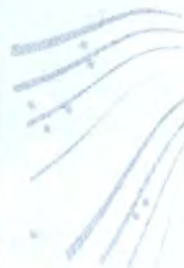

Scott,

You make life sweet! You are talented, dedicated and caring.

We know you will succeed in anything you do.

You make us proud!

Love always,
Mom, Dad, & Kelley

Congratulations Chad!

We are so very proud of the young man you have become. You know we are your biggest fans. We love you, and we will always be there for you. Much happiness to you.

Love,
Dad, Mom,
Keith, & Tiffany

Congratulations Dan!

Never give up your hopes and your dreams. We are proud of you and all you have accomplished.

You are a wonderful young man, we all love you.

Love You
Mom, Dad,
Eddy, & Bridget

Congratulations Laura!

We wish you only 'THE BEST' for your senior year and all your new adventures. Always remember we love you and are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Stacy Bug

The time has gone by so quickly, you've gone from our buckey beaver, to a beautiful young lady. Over the years you have worked hard to meet your goals and made us proud with every accomplishment. May you touch the lives of other as you have touched ours. Go after your dreams honey and know we're here for you always.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Lisa, and Mike

Shauna

I have been blessed with the pleasure of having you as my daughter. Although I will miss you more than words can say, I am content that you will be fine without me. I am so proud of you and all you have accomplished. I know you will succeed in reaching all your goals and dreams.

Just remember
I will always love you!!!

Love Mom

Shawna Congratulations!

We are very proud of all you have accomplished and who you are. You are a very special daughter! May your future be filled with success and happiness. Believe in yourself - we do! Keep Smiling!

We love you
Dad, Mom, Ginger, & Sabrina

Congratulations Melissa!!

Whatever you wish,
Whatever you dream,
Whatever you hope to achieve...
Whatever you try for,
Whatever you plan... It's yours if you only believe. We are very proud of you!

All Our Love,
Mom, John, and Matt

Congratulations Kelly

From K through 12, you've always given your best effort. When you lost your dad as a freshman, you had the strength to pick up and move forward. I know you will be successful in whatever you do! You have so much to offer this world!

Love,
Mom, Tammy,
Curt, Mark, & Trisha

Nicole

Life is like a box of chocolates, take a bite from every one until you find your favorite. Remember, yesterday will always have been, tomorrow will always be, today is the day you have lived to see. Congratulations on all of your hard work and dedication. We are very proud! We love you and will always be there for you.

Love,

Your fun, loving family and friends

Congratulations Jennifer

WE ARE VERY PROUD OF YOU. YOU HAVE HAD A GREAT SENIOR YEAR. WE KNOW YOU WILL CONTINUE TO WORK HARD TO MAKE ALL YOUR DREAMS BECOME A REALITY.

LOVE- MOM, PERRY, CHRIS & SAMANTHA

Congratulations Brooke!

We are all so very proud of you and we know that whatever you do in life you will be a success at. Remember that we will always love you and no matter where you go, we will always keep you close to our hearts.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Tarra, & Nick

Congratulations Erin!

Thanks for being such an important part of this family and for the joy you have brought us. Thanks for your smile that continually brightens our day. Thanks for being a good example to others, especially Dustin, and for standing firm in your faith. Your love for Christ has made you the beautiful person you are. We're so proud of you.

Much Love - Mom, Dad and Dustin

Congratulations Jessica

As you approach the next phase in your life, college and adulthood, remember that we will always be right there with you. Supporting you and unconditionally loving you. Dream big, and remember that the right choices in life are seldom the easy ones. Nobody who ever gave her best regretted it.

Love, Mom & Dad

Congratulations Heather!!

You did it! Now you know you can do anything. Better and Brighter things are yet to come. You are a very special person, and we are very proud of you!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Grandma, Grandpa
and your entire family

Congratulations Karen

WE WISH YOU SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS ALWAYS. YOU ARE A VERY SPECIAL DAUGHTER AND WE LOVE YOU!

LOVE,
MOM & DAD

KAREN, GOOD LUCK IN COLLEGE! THANKS FOR BEING THERE FOR ME ON MY FIRST YEAR IN HIGH SCHOOL! I'LL MISS YOU, AND MY RIDE TO AND FROM SCHOOL!!

LOVE, YOUR BABY SISTER, KRISTAL

CONGRATULATIONS DUSTIN!

WE WISH YOU SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS ALWAYS. YOU ARE A VERY SPECIAL PERSON. WE'RE VERY PROUD OF YOU. AND WE LOVE YOU LOTS!

MOM & DAD

Congratulations Emmett!

I'm so proud of you and so honored to be your Grandmother. God bless you in all of your future. You are my sunshine!

Love Grandmother Gebhardt

Congratulations Lindsey Raabe (Deetsey)

You made it through high school. Now it is the time to go out on your own and experience life. You must plan for your successes and live with and learn from your failures. We are still here for you. Go for it! (Don't be discouraged. Someday you will learn how to pick up your room). Good luck, We love you very much.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Kristen and Jay

You have given us so much joy, it's hard to let you go. You will always have our love and support where ever the road leads you. Thank you for giving us 18 wonderful years.

Bless you David!

Love,
Dad, Mom & Family

Stephanie

You are God's most precious gift to us. You are a beautiful person and you have brought such joy into our lives. The world is but a door waiting for you to open it. We know you will continue to make us proud as you go from high school to college and beyond. We wish for you a lifetime of happiness and success.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Reach for the 2nd star on the right and straight on til morning.

Micah

I'm very proud of you and wish you success and happiness always. Follow your hopes and dreams, they will take you as far as you let them

Love,
Grandma K.

As another school year comes to a close, so does the production of another Statesman. I would like to thank the entire Statesman staff for all of their hard work and dedication.

A great big thanks goes out to Mr. Smrha for all of his excellent guidance and encouragement. It's his perseverance that made this yearbook what it is. I hope years from now everyone can look at this book and recall all of the wonderful memories experienced during the 1997-98 school year.

A special thanks to Mrs. Linda Anderson for giving us many of her outstanding photos.
